Course Catalog Description
Advanced research and proposal writing. Students conduct background research and develop a preliminary research proposal that demonstrates their capacity to do independent research, analysis, and writing about a complex planning problem.

Course Description and Course Learning Objectives
This course provides students with the skills and knowledge to prepare the preliminary research proposal required to enroll in URPB 298A. Students will learn how to frame effective research questions and identify appropriate peer-reviewed literature relevant to their research topic. In addition, the class explores the question of how to identify which research methods might be appropriate to answer a research question. Finally, students will develop their skills at providing constructive feedback on a colleague’s writing.

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Conceptualize problems from complex, real-world situations so the problems are meaningful to the intended audience and research-worthy.
2. Identify and summarize appropriate peer-reviewed literature relevant to a proposed area of research.
3. Communicate a research question, hypothesis, relevance, and methods with others.

Note that MUP students who entered the program in Fall 2012 or later must pass URPB 297P with a grade of C or higher in order to enroll in URPB 298A. In addition, if students decide that they... wish to work in URBP 298A on a topic different from the one they write about for the 297P Preliminary Research Proposal, then before the semester they take URBP 298A, they must prepare a new Preliminary Research Proposal that is assessed by URBP 298 faculty as being of passing quality.

Remember also that in order to register for URBP 298A, you must have passed the Writing Skills Test (WST) or have a bachelors or masters degree from a California State University campus. If you have not yet met this requirement, you should register for a WST test date immediately (http://testing.sjsu.edu/wst/).

Planning Accreditation Board (PAB) Knowledge Components

This course partially covers the following PAB knowledge, skills, and values components:

2.a) Research: tools for assembling and analyzing ideas and information from prior practice and scholarship, and from primary and secondary sources.

2.c.) Quantitative and Qualitative Methods: data collection, analysis and modeling tools for forecasting, policy analysis, and design of projects and plans.

A complete list of the PAB Knowledge Components can be found at http://www.sjsu.edu/urbanplanning/courses/pabknowledge.html.

Required Course Texts

This class has two required books:

Additional Recommended Texts:

The books listed below are about the research design process in general. All are available as e-books through the SJSU library.

The following is an open-source textbook available online on the fundamentals of social science research.

http://scholarcommons.usf.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=1002&context=oa_textbooks (Book is also available in Arabic, Chinese, and Korean at http://scholarcommons.usf.edu/oa_textbooks/3/)

The readings below will be helpful for learning about qualitative and survey methods. (For advice on quantitative methods and policy analysis, the textbooks from URBP 204 and URBP 236 are a good starting place.)

LeCompte, Margaret Diane, and Jean J. Schensul. Analyzing and Interpreting Ethnographic Data. Walnut Creek, CA: AltaMira Press, 1999. (A good book for learning about how to analyze interview or other qualitative data.)

Course Assignments and Grading Policy

Your grade for the course will be based on the following assignments and other activities:

Calculation of Final Course Letter Grade

Throughout the semester, the percentage score earned on each assignment will be pro-rated according to the table above, and a final letter grade will be assigned to the weighted total score as follows: A+ (97% and above); A (93 to 96.9); A- (90 to 92.9); B+ (87 to 89.9); B (83 to 86.9); B- (80 to 82.9); C+ (77 to 77.9); C (73 to 76.9); C- (70 to 72.9); D+ (67 to 69.1); D (63 to 66.9); D- (60 to 62.9); F (below 60).

Other Grading and Assignment Issues

The instructor meeting and draft preliminary proposal (content) will be accepted late with a penalty of 10% (one-letter grade) per week. The final preliminary proposal will be accepted late with a penalty of 10% per day.

Course Workload

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of forty-five hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Since this is a 1-unit course, it is expected that you will spend at least 45 hours over the course of the semester.
Academic Integrity Statement, Plagiarism, and Citing Sources Properly

Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S07-2.pdf requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/.

Plagiarism is the use of someone else's language, images, data, or ideas without proper attribution. It is a very serious offense both in the university and in your professional work. In essence, plagiarism is both theft and lying: you have stolen someone else's ideas, and then lied by implying that they are your own.

Plagiarism will lead to grade penalties and a record filed with the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. In severe cases, students may also fail the course or even be expelled from the university.

If you are unsure what constitutes plagiarism, it is your responsibility to make sure you clarify the issues before you hand in draft or final work.

Learning when to cite a source and when not to is an art, not a science. However, here are some common examples of plagiarism that you should be careful to avoid:

- Using a sentence (or even a part of a sentence) that someone else wrote without identifying the language as a quote by putting the text in quote marks and referencing the source.
- Paraphrasing somebody else's theory or idea without referencing the source.
- Using data some other person or organization has collected without referencing the source.

The University of Indiana has developed a very helpful website with concrete examples about proper paraphrasing and quotation. See in particular the following pages:

- Overview of plagiarism at www.indiana.edu/~istd/overview.html
- Examples of plagiarism at www.indiana.edu/~istd/examples.html
- Plagiarism quiz at www.indiana.edu/~istd/test.html

If you still have questions, feel free to talk to me personally. There is nothing wrong with asking for help, whereas even unintentional plagiarism is a serious offense.

Citation style

It is important to properly cite any references you use in your assignments. The Department of Urban and Regional Planning uses Kate Turabian’s A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 8th edition (University of Chicago Press, 2013, ISBN 780226816388). Copies are available in the SJSU King Library. Additionally, the book is relatively inexpensive, and you may wish to purchase a copy. Please note that Turabian’s book describes two systems for referencing.
Accommodation for Disabilities

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at http://www.sjsu.edu/aec to establish a record of their disability.

You can find information about the services SJSU offers to accommodate students with disabilities at the Accessible Education Center website at www.sjsu.edu/aec.

Accommodation to Students’ Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S14-7.pdf.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.

Library Liaison

The SJSU Library Liaison for the Urban and Regional Planning Department is Ms. Toby Matoush. If you have questions, you can contact her at toby.matoush@sjsu.edu or 408-808-2096.

To schedule an appointment or learn more information, visit Counseling and Psychological Services website at http://www.sjsu.edu/counseling.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at http://www.sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.
