Course Description

This course is a continuation of Elementary Japanese (JPN 1B) that covers the contents of Genki I textbook (Lessons 11-12) and Genki II textbook (Lessons 13-15). The course aims to develop four Japanese language skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) in three modes of communication (interpersonal, interpretive, and presentational) to intermediate level. As a general education (GE) core course, the course will provide you with the basic skills of reading Japanese short stories and writing personal responses to them in Japanese.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

GELO1: recognize how significant works illuminate enduring human concerns.

Throughout the course, students are introduced to various types of writing included in the textbooks. Through reading activities and discussions in class, they will develop better understanding of cultural and social aspects of Japan. Specifically, students will read a well-known Japanese legend “Tanabata” (“Evening of the Seventh”) from which is the origin of the cultural event, “Star Festival.” The legend has been passed down through generations in Japan, and it deeply illuminates human concerns such as affection and wish.

GELO2: respond to such works by both research-based critical analyses and writing personal responses.

Students will conduct research on the Japanese legend through library and internet sources to gain a general sense of the story and to examine how it has been associated with a cultural event. This writing assignment includes a summary of the story, description of its associated cultural event, cultural differences, as well as personal opinions and experiences on affection and wish. Students are expected to demonstrate their ability to find resources online or in a library.

GELO3: write the composition clearly and effectively

Students write extensively throughout the course through homework assignments, in-class work, written exams and writing assignments totaling the equivalent of more than 2,000 words. As writing assignments, students will write two compositions in response to a memoir of an international student in Japan as well as the Japanese legend “Tanabata.” Students are guided through the revision process by the instructor and their peers. These writing assignments will be assessed in terms of content, organization, structural variety, vocabulary, accuracy and comprehensiveness.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

CLO1: Use and understand Japanese language at an intermediate low level of proficiency as defined by the ACTFL Proficiency Guidelines for speaking and writing.

http://www.actfl.org/sites/default/files/pdfs/public/ACTFLProficiencyGuidelines2012_FINAL.pdf

CLO2: Read and write more than 193 kanji characters and the words using the kanji characters.

CLO3: Obtain solid knowledge of Japanese grammar and the usages for accuracy and appropriateness.
