Please note: You should consult the department or school to which you are applying concerning the format of the letter. Departments differ in their requirements. Should the waiver of access not be chosen, requests to review letters should be made to the specific department rather than to the Office of Graduate Admission & Program Evaluations. Departments typically keep the letters only until the admission process for the coming semester has been completed.

Once submitted, the letters become the property of San José State University and cannot be copied or returned.
