Grading: Graded

Note(s): Must be passed with C or better to satisfy the CSU Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR).

GE/SJSU Studies Category: Satisfies SJSU Studies Z: Written Communication II

Course Description

Catalogue: Practice in improvement of writing skills appropriate to the fields of anthropology and behavioral science. Includes essays, reports and scholarly communication.

Supplement: This course is required for graduation from San Jose State. Our primary goal is to help students in Anthropology, Behavioral Science, and other social sciences develop advanced writing skills and to strengthen their communication skills with a variety of specialized and general audiences. Specific objectives include:

- refining the fundamental researching, organizing, writing, and editing skills that are essential for effectively expressing ideas and data about complex sociocultural topics
- clarifying the appropriate focus, language, style, and format for communicating with different scholarly, professional, and public audiences.
learning how to conduct independent research by locating, evaluating, synthesizing, and presenting information from a mix of primary and secondary sources, and learning to vet sources for validity.

Course Format
The course has been modified for online instruction using the Canvas Platform.

Canvas Web Page
Course materials such as syllabus, lecture modules, and readings can be found on the Canvas Web Pages for this course. For help with using Canvas see Canvas Student Resources page (http://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/teaching-tools/canvas/student_resources)

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)
This course qualifies as an Area Z (Written Communication II) course in your General Education requirements. It is designed to enable you to achieve the following learning objectives:
Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate college-level proficiency. Students shall be able to:
1. produce discipline-specific written work demonstrating upper-division proficiency in:
   - language use and clarity of expression
   - grammar
   - referencing
2. explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively, including ideas encountered in multiple readings and expressed in different forms of discourse
3. organize and develop essays and documents for both professional and general audiences
4. organize and develop essays and documents according to appropriate editorial and citation standards
5. locate, organize, and synthesize information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose, and to communicate that purpose in writing.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)
Upon successful completion of this GE course, students will be able to:

1. Identify ideas and data related to complex sociocultural topics.
2. Clarify the appropriate focus, language, style, and format for communicating with different scholarly, professional, and public audiences.
3. Conduct independent research by locating, evaluating, synthesizing, and presenting information from a mix of primary and secondary sources.
4. Demonstrate proficiency in use of citations, referencing, and capacity to adapt various citation standards in accordance with academic publishing requirements.

Required Texts/Readings
No hard copy text required. You must have a San Jose State Library card with a pin code for accessing material from off-campus. Several instructional readings will be made available through Canvas.
Library Liaison (Delete if not applicable)

The Library liaison for Anthropology is Silkie Higgins. Ms Higgins can be reached at Silkie.Higgins@sjsu.edu. Ms Higgins is a valuable resource for consultation on research materials in Anthropology.

Course Requirements and Assignments (Required - Delete the word “Required” in final draft)

University Policy S16-9.

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”

A total of 450 points for written, quiz, and exercise work are possible in the course. You will get reduced credit for any assignment submitted after the original due date. I will accept no assignments more than ten days late and no points will be earned. I strongly advise you to keep to the schedule. The assignments are carefully designed to contribute to your research paper and keep you moving forward. The assignments and readings are on the class website. Be prepared. The instructor reserves the right to take class participation into consideration when determining the final grade based on page visits. Procrastination is not an option in this class!

University policy S17-1
“Faculty members are required to have a culminating activity for their courses, which can include a final examination, a final research paper or project, a final creative work or performance, a final portfolio of work, or other appropriate assignment.”

There will be a final exam in this course focused on citation and reference standards, editing, and writing assessment CLO 1, 4

Grading Information

This course must be passed with a C or better as an SJSU graduation requirement.

Rubrics

Rubrics are specific to individual assignments and are linked to those assignments through Canvas. Please check the rubric for each assignment before you submit it for grading.

Incompletes

Incompletes will be granted only if the instructor has been notified and has approved the Incomplete Contract. Incomplete contracts must be agreed upon before the end of the semester. It is University policy that an Incomplete may not be given to avoid an F grade. Students with missing major assignments (over 50 points) will receive a WU (unauthorized withdrawal). NO WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER THE LAST DAY OF CLASSES.

Marking Criteria for Written Work

Papers are assessed on a point system according to criteria specified in assignment rubrics.

An “A” demonstrates excellence in all categories; originality, addressing the tasks effectively, showing effective organization and logical argumentation, use of clear, appropriate and accurate examples and a high level of writing competence and knowledge.

A “B” may show a good level of competence, but uneven development of tasks. It may be generally well organized, uses appropriate examples, displays facility, with a few gaps, in argumentation, and demonstrates a good level of writing and knowledge. Completes the task and does some extra work.
A “C” may show a fair level of competence but may be uneven. It will address the task adequately, but only with parts of the task. It is adequately organized and may occasionally use examples. Argumentation may be inconsistent and writing and knowledge competence may be unclear.

A “D” or an “F” demonstrate poor competence with inadequate organization, task and argumentation development and inappropriate examples. It will display difficulty in using adequate academic language and errors in knowledge will be in evidence. A failure will only occur if no effort is made to address the question or topic.

Participation and Miscellaneous Activities
Attendance and participation in class discussions is required.

Classroom Protocol

Netiquette. We will practice best practices of etiquette when engaged in online discussion. Inappropriate remarks or behavior will be called out and appropriate actions taken in accordance to University policy.

Late Papers
No late papers will be accepted unless a genuine emergency arises that meets University Policy criteria and the student notifies the professor in advance.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

University Policy S12-7, http://www.sjsu.edu senate/docs/S12-7.pdf, requires students to obtain instructor’s permission to record the course:

- “Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.”
In classes where active participation of students or guests may be on the recording, permission of those students or guests should be obtained as well.

“Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.”

- Students are encouraged to ask questions before, during, and after class and to take full advantage of scheduled office hours or make appointments to discuss topics of interest.

All written projects should conform to the citation and reference standards of Chicago Manual or American Antiquity (SAA). Examples are provided for use on my faculty webpage.

- The instructor will make every reasonable effort to provide timely and constructive feedback to students concerning performance throughout the semester.
- The instructor will be available through regular online office hours, through email, and by appointment.
- Students should expect to actively participate individually through, class discussion FORUM, and in Q&A sessions.
- Students are expected to keep track of assignments, grades and readings. Reading assignments will be posted in a scheduled format on Canvas.
- Missed exams may be made-up only if a student provides appropriate documentation for legitimate cause for missing scheduled exam dates (funeral, medical emergency, family crisis; per university policy). Absolutely no make-up will be given for reasons of course overloads, or personal time. Make-up exams will be by scheduled appointment in my office and will include oral discussion section. Late research projects will not be accepted. Late assignments will be given a grace period of one class cycle (the next class) and a reduced score. Late assignments will not be accepted beyond the grace period. Assignments will not be accepted during finals week.
- Exam dates will not be altered. Exams are offered over several days to accommodate various schedules. If you have a conflict with a scheduled exam date, please make arrangements in advance (no less than two weeks). The sooner the better.
- The instructor reserves the right to adjust the syllabus content as deemed necessary to facilitate the highest achievement and performance of the class or to introduce new elements that may arise. Archaeology is an active science. New information becomes available weekly that may impact our course material.

- Extra credit assignments will not be provided as substitutes for missing regular assignments.

- Academic integrity and ethics will be upheld at all times. Plagiarism is intellectually dishonest and a form of theft. It will not be tolerated.

- All lectures are copyrighted. The use of recording equipment of any kind; tape, film, or digital, is forbidden without written consent from the instructor. This is not usually a problem. Students must agree not to use lectures in unauthorized formats or non-educational purposes.
