Course Description

This course, Two-dimensional and Color Concepts, is an introduction to the essential formal and conceptual ideas relative to composition and design within the perimeters of two-dimensional space.

Through the course of the semester, each student will begin to utilize the principle techniques, medias, and basic inherent principles of artmaking and design. The ability to scrutinize the major foundations of design, which include line, shape, composition, space, value, pattern, and texture, will be the goal and main objective of the course.

In addition, terms inherent in the design process will play major roles in furthering the student's investigation of two-dimensional space: balance, reduction, repetition, scale, contrast, emphasis, focal point, grid, hierarchy, organization, weight, and unity. This vocabulary will further the student's ability to form fresh and effective resolutions to the given problems presented throughout the course of the semester.

In the introduction to color theory, the student will cultivate an ability to scrutinize the major attributes of color and design, which include basic principles such as hue, value and intensity (or chroma), as well as secondary qualities as apparent weight, distance, temperature, etc., will be the goal and main objective of the course.

In addition, students will become familiar with many complex and interconnected aspects of additive and subtractive color mixing. Color will be viewed from physical, psychological, and artistic perspectives. The introduction to a color vocabulary, emphasizing the theories of Albers and Itten, will further the student's ability to form fresh and effective resolutions to the given problems presented throughout the course of the semester.

Another very important factor during the course of the semester will be consideration of presentation. Each student will learn the importance of presentation of their work, in not only its aesthetic function, but in the capacity to convey the student's understanding of their own formal and conceptual realizations through critique.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

LO1: Increase observational and perceptual skills and powers of visual discrimination as applied to form.

LO2: Demonstrate knowledge of the vocabulary of two dimensional concepts through objective testing procedures, writing, class discussions and presentations

LO3: Recognize the three basic concepts of Subject, Form, and Content

LO4: Identify and use the Elements of Design: Line, Shape, Value, Texture, and Color

LO5: Identify and use the Principles of Organization: Harmony, Variety, Balance, Proportion, Emphasis, Movement, and Space

LO6: Solve visual problems in a variety of media and techniques

LO7: Practice good craftsmanship and produce professional level presentations

LO8: Recognize the manner in which new technologies have affected aesthetic development and utilize technology in research and production.

LO9: Recognize the contribution of art in culture and the distinguishing styles developed by artists and designers of the past

LO10: Produce portfolio quality art works that demonstrate various techniques, skills, and styles with evidence of problem solving methodology

LO11: Analyze artwork both orally and in written form through observation, interpretation, judgment and participation in critiques of one's own and others' work.

Vocabulary for 2D and Color Concepts

Asymmetrical balance – An equilibrium among visual elements that differ in size, number, weight, color, or texture. Asymmetrical balance is generally non-axial and highly dynamic.

Balance – An equilibrium among interacting and/or opposing forces in a visual composition.

Calligraphic line – Derived from Greek words for beautiful and writing, a flowing and expressive line that is as personal as handwriting.

Composition – The combination of multiple parts to create a harmonious whole.

Concept – A well-developed thought or comprehensive generalization.

Content – The emotional and or/intellectual meaning or message of an artwork.

Contrast – The degree of difference between compositional parts or between one image and another. High contrast tends to be eye-catching and is often used by graphic designers to create dynamic, highly readable images.

Density – The extent to which compositional parts are spread out or crowded together.

Emphasis – Special attention given to some aspect of a composition, which gives it prominence.

Figure/Ground Reversal – An arrangement in which positive and negative shapes alternatively command attention. Also known as positive and negative interchange.

Grid – A visual or physical structure created from intersecting parallel lines. A grid can provide the compositional framework for a design.

Harmony – A pleasing or soothing relationship among colors, shapes, or other design elements.

Line – A point in motion. A series of adjacent points. A connection between points, or an implied connection between points. Line is one of the basic elements of design.

Negative Shape/Space – A clearly defined area around a positive shape; the receding shape or ground area in a figure/ground relationship.

Pattern – A design composed of repeated elements that are usually varied to produce interconnections and implied movement.

Picture Plane – The flat surface on which an artist creates a pictorial image.

Positive Shape – The principal or foreground shape in a design; the dominant shape or figure in a figure-ground relationship.

Proportion – A comparative relationship between the parts to a whole.

Repetition – The use of the same visual element or visual effect a number of times in the same composition. Can be used for rhythm, or emphasis.

Scale – A size relationship between forms to separate objects or images.

Shape – A flat, enclosed area created when 1) A line connects to enclose an area. 2) An area of color or texture is defined by a clear boundary. 3) An area is surrounded by other shapes.

Symmetrical balance – A form of balance that is created when shapes are mirrored on either side of an axis, as in a composition that is vertically divided down the center.

Texture – The surface quality of a two-dimensional shape or three-dimensional volume. Texture can be created visually using multiple marks, or physically, through surface variations. In a two-dimensional composition, it is the implied tactile quality of a surface.

Unity – The oneness, or wholeness, in a design that occurs when all parts work together to create a cohesive whole.

Value – The lightness or darkness of a color. The relative lightness or darkness of a surface.

Weight – The visual or physical heaviness of an object or image.

Three major properties of color:

Hue – Pure state of a color. The name of a color, e.g. redness, blueness.

Value – Relative lightness or darkness with or without the presence of hue.

High value is light. Low value is dark.

Intensity – Purity or strength of a hue. Synonymous with the terms saturation and Chroma.

Attributes

Primary Colors – Those hues from which all others can be produced.

i.e; Blue, Red, Yellow

Secondary Colors – Colors formed by combining two primary colors.

Tertiary Colors - Colors formed by a mixture of a primary and secondary hues.

Color Wheel – Also referred to as a color circle, is a visual representation of colors arranged according to their chromatic relationship.

Achromatic – Having no discernible hue. As in white, black, and greys (neutral)

Monochromatic – Containing only one hue

Complementary Colors – Those colors located opposite each other on the color wheel.

Analogous Colors – The colors located close together on the color wheel.

Warm Colors – examples: Orange, Red, Yellow –Orange

Cool Colors – examples: Blue, Green, Violet

Tint – A pure color plus white

Shade – A pure color mixed with black.

Tone – A pure color plus grey

Split-Complimentary Colors – One hue, plus two others adjacent to its complement

Triad - Relationship - Three hues equally spaced on the color wheel

Itten's Color Contrasts –

The Contrast of Saturation
The Contrast of Light and Dark
The Contrast of Extension
The Contrast of Compliments
Simultaneous Contrast
The Contrast of Hue
The Contrast of Warm and Cool

The Bezold Effect – An optical interaction in a design wherein one dominant hue is substituted with another to change its visual appearance

Online Classroom Protocol

Attendance

Online Attendance is mandatory for designated times and extremely important. Maintaining a level of seriousness and completing the course work is instrumental to success in the course.

Requirements

Attendance via Zoom at designated times and work during class time, along with participation in class critiques and discussions, is mandatory. All assignments must be handed in on time. Any assignments handed in late will be graded down a whole grade. This also applies to progress uploads via the Slack App.

Online Class Protocol

All classes will meet via Zoom during the regular class hours, in which the instructor will be available. Questions and comments may be entered anytime during the session in the “chat” box, unless during a share screen presentation. Students are asked to remain on mute until called on to speak. Students wishing to speak should use the “hand raise” icon in the participant list. It is optional to have video on. However, anyone with video on should be seated and properly dressed for classroom attendance. Students are asked to arrive punctually for the Zoom classes. Late arrivals may have to wait a few minutes before entering the Zoom session as late admission requires intermittently checking the “waiting room.” All sessions will be recorded and uploaded to Canvas.”

(Note: According to University policy F69-24, “Students attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to insure maximum benefit for all members of the class. Attendance per shall not be used as a crriterion for grading.”)

Grading

Grades will be determined by the following percentages:

Class work, including participation in discussions and critiques, - 100%

Homework : will be part of class assignments and work.

Grading breakdown:

4.0 – A	2.2 – 2.7 - C
3.7 – 4.0 – A-	2.0 – 2.2 – C-
3.5 – 3.7 – B+	1.7 – 2.0 – D
3.2 – 3.5 – B	0.0 – 1.7 - F
3.0 – 3.2 – B-
2.7 – 3.0 – C+
