

CHHS CARHS RSCA WORKSHOPS & EVENTS

CARHS Services: Editing and/or Statistical Consulting

The Center for Applied Research on Human Services (CARHS) is a resource center for CHHS faculty. Editing and statistical consulting services for faculty are available for free. More information about RSCA support can be found on <http://www.sjsu.edu/carhs/>. Contact CARHS director Marcelle Dougan (marcelle.dougan@sjsu.edu) for a referral.

Planning and Negotiating Co-Authorship with Students

Tuesday, February 22, noon - 1:15

Emily Chan, Associate Dean, Research & Scholarship, SJSU Library

Ann Agee, Faculty Director of Collections and Scholarly Communication, SJSU Library

Nick Szydowski Scholarly Communications & Digital Scholarship Librarian, SJSU Librarian

Michelle Hampton, the Valley Foundation School of Nursing

This workshop will provide useful tips and resources for determining authorship (vs. acknowledgements) and for negotiating authorship before (and during) the manuscript development process. The workshop will include resources for communicating about/negotiating authorship in advance, varied definitions/parameters for authorship, and discussion/illustrations from session participants. Although the workshop will focus on co-authorship with students, the topics may also be of interest to faculty who co-author with community-partners or other scholars.

Register to attend the workshop using the link below. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting. If you are unable to attend and would like to request access to a recording, please register and add your request to the comments section.

<https://sjsu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZ0sdOugrjgiHNwKRQG4FFC5k4b-nZMoBiJs>

Qualitative Research Conversations - Session #1

Tuesday, March 8, 2022 (International Women's Day), noon to 1pm

Facilitator: Ruvani Fonseka, Assistant Professor, School of Social Work

Presenter: Amanda Miller, PhD, Postdoctoral Scholar at UCLA Fielding School of Public Health

Project: Perspectives of Women Living with HIV on Addressing Violence and Use of Alcohol During HIV

Services: Qualitative Findings from Fishing Communities in Uganda (link to manuscript: <https://escholarship.org/content/qt9h0428sg/qt9h0428sg.pdf>)

Interested in discussing qualitative research methods? These two "Qualitative Research Conversation" sessions will create an opportunity for faculty to share about challenges, successes and insights from their qualitative research. The facilitators/presenters will provide brief highlights of their work with a focus on any dimensions of their work that may be of interest, such as theory, methods, and/or overall challenges in qualitative or mixed methods studies. Copies of manuscripts related to the research mentioned in the session will be shared in advance (no pressure to read in advance and no pop quizzes!). Brief presentations will be followed by discussion and Q&A. Faculty of any level of experience with qualitative study designs and methods, as well as those wanting to learn more about how it is applied/used, are welcome to attend. If you are unable to attend this session, but are interested in a recording of the presentation segment of the session, or in future gatherings, please register in advance and add your request in the comments section. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

Tuesday March 8 registration:

<https://sjsu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZYkcu6qpz0pGNarDNgfVhoMcvMQm6aYLi5T>

Intellectual Property and Working with Industry

DATE: Tuesday, March 15, noon to 1pm

Presenter: Michael Muthig, Director, SJSU Office of Innovation

Hosts, Anusha Yellamsetty, Dept of Audiology and Li Jin, Dept of Kinesiology

Are you involved in, or curious about, projects that may lead to innovations -- from health apps to tools that may be used in health care or health education? This workshop will demystify the landscape of intellectual property (IP) and provide practical tips for working with industry. The first 30-40 minutes will focus on an overview of practical information and tips, and the final 20 minutes will provide an opportunity for participants to ask questions and discuss their own collaborations or project ideas.

Specific topics include:

- * Introduction to IP- patents, copyright, trademarks, know-how and trade secrets.
- * Capturing background IP and why it is important.
- * Disclosing inventions and creative works
- * Strategies for IP protection
- * IP considerations related to publishing
- * Working with industry - what is important and how to get started

Register to attend the workshop using the link below. To receive information if you cannot attend, please register and share your request under comments/questions. You will receive a Zoom link after registration:

<https://sjsu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZYpcuGhpjMqGtfw3PqibfYeLg9D4pgEYTXj>

Qualitative Research Conversations - Session #2

Friday, April 8, 2022, noon to 1pm

Facilitator/Presenter: Laurie Drabble, Associate Dean for Research and Faculty, CHHS

Project: The impact of COVID-19 on the health and well-being of sexual minority women: A qualitative study.

Interested in discussing qualitative research methods? These two "Qualitative Research Conversation" sessions will create an opportunity for faculty to share about challenges, successes and insights from their qualitative research. The facilitators/presenters will provide brief highlights of their work with a focus on any dimensions of their work that may be of interest, such as theory, methods, and/or overall challenges in qualitative or mixed methods studies. Copies of manuscripts related to the research mentioned in the session will be shared in advance (no pressure to read in advance and no pop quizzes!). Brief presentations will be followed by discussion and Q&A. Faculty of any level of experience with qualitative study designs and methods, as well as those wanting to learn more about how it is applied/used, are welcome to attend. If you are unable to attend this session, but are interested in a recording of the presentation segment of the session, or in future gatherings, please register in advance and add your request in the comments section. After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

Friday, April 8, noon - 1pm RSVP:

<https://sjsu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZckc-qurT0rHdyY2UQ80lzTizvhtbCXSy7j>

Other Pending Events

The Center for Applied Research in Human Services offers workshops and hosts special events throughout the year. Please watch out for email notices of other special workshops in the coming weeks!

CHHS RTP Workshops

Mini-Review drop-in Session

Date: Friday, February 4, from noon - 1pm.

We will have experts from University Personnel will be on hand to provide overall guidance about the mini-review and address logistics about using eFaculty. This session may be of particular interest to first- and second-year faculty. Please be sure to review the YouTube video about the mini-review and using eFaculty in advance of the session. Links to the video and other useful “how to” materials available through University Personnel/Faculty Affairs can be found here:

<https://www.sjsu.edu/up/mycareer/faculty/periodic-evaluations-faculty.php>

Zoom link: <https://sjsu.zoom.us/j/88242340502>

RTP Workshop for CHHS Faculty

Date: Tuesday, May 17, 8am to 10am

Facilitator: Audrey Shillington, Dean, CHHS

Panel: Maggie Barrera, Vice Provost for Faculty Success; James Lee, Senior Director, University Personnel - Faculty Services; Deepika Goyal, CHHS Representative to University RTP Committee

This RTP workshop is intended for tenure-track and tenured faculty who are planning to submit RTP materials in the Fall of 2022 or who would like to plan ahead for a future submission. The workshop panel will include representatives from University Personnel/Faculty Affairs, the Vice Provost for Faculty Success, Office of the Provost, and faculty who are familiar with both college and university RTP committees.

Please follow the link below to register in advance for the workshop. The registration form includes an opportunity to post any questions you may have; an anonymous list of questions will be provided to the presenters:

<https://sjsu.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZUpduipqTwuGN08RKDxPzNpERNPaaT5cHTi>

RSCA SUPPORT

Faculty Toolkit on the Academic Affairs Resource Hub

Looking for information about using start-up funds, RSCA funding opportunities or resources, or using gift cards as incentives for research study participants? This web page offers a central location for information and links related to RSCA and faculty success. You will need to be logged in to your SJSU account to access. <https://sites.google.com/sjsu.edu/aa-resource-hub/faculty-toolkit>

Workshops through Research Development

Check out the terrific online training opportunities available to you through the Research Development Team! Follow the link below to a series of grant getting workshops (pending and recorded) to help faculty on the path to RSCA funding success:

<https://www.sjsu.edu/research/research-development/training/index.php>

WRITING SUPPORTS

Weekly Check-In & Accountability

Friday, 8:30 am to 9:00am (February 11 through May 20, 2022)

You are welcome to join weekly or whenever your schedule allows. This BRIEF weekly check-in with a small group of CHHS colleagues will allow you to 1) identify priority writing project/s for the coming week and 2) acknowledge any recent progress related to scholarly work and writing. If you would like to have a calendar invitation to the Friday morning check-in, please email Laurie Drabble (laurie.drabble@sjsu.edu)

Zoom link to join: <https://sjsu.zoom.us/j/96454366286>

SJSU Writing Café

Cafés are available each weekday from 9am to 10am. Join by clicking the live link in the attached flyer, or by subscribing to the CFD Writing Café Google Calendar.

Finding it challenging to set aside time for your writing. You are not alone – and you don't need to be alone in your writing! Please feel free to join your colleagues in any of the SJSU Writing Café sessions in the coming semester. Each meeting begins with an electronic check-in (of less than 1 min), followed by two writing sessions of 25 minutes with a 5-minute break between. The host will be there to help you stay focused by reminding you when to start, when to rest, when to start again, and when to stop. CHHS is the primary host for the Friday meeting – but you will see your colleagues in other sessions as well. All San José State University faculty are welcome to participate, as much or as little as you'd like.

EXTERNAL RSCA GRANT DEVELOPMENT SUPPORT (FREE)

The Center for Health Equity Research Institute (CHER) Summer 2022 Institute (online)

Institute dates: June 6-11, 2022.

Priority Application Deadline: March 4, 2022 | Waitlist/Final Deadline: April 4, 2022

Are you an early-career, tenure track/tenured faculty member? Do you aspire to become an NIH investigator? The (CHER) Institute at California State University, Long Beach is an National Institute of General Medical Sciences (NIGMS)-funded project to increase the number of early career faculty members who are well prepared to become NIH principal investigators in community-based health equity research, with particular emphasis on faculty from Minority Serving Institutions. CHER Institute offers: A six-day intensive educational and mentoring experience focused on theory-based, culturally informed methods with the purpose of developing a specific aims page for an NIH research proposal; Four webinars annually on theory-based, culturally informed methods for effective community engagement in health equity research

Link to Apply Now

Link to Learn More

RSCA REMINDERS

Grant Submission Guidelines. If you are planning to submit a grant, please be sure to contact the SJSU Research Foundation or Tower Foundation well in advance of the sponsor due date. Contacts information and the College Guidelines for Applications for External Funding are also posted on the “Faculty Resources” page of the CHHS site under College Resources and References.
<https://www.sjsu.edu/chhs/faculty-and-staff/faculty-resources/index.php>