RE: Call for Applications: Salzburg Program 2011-2012

Attached is the annual call for applications to participate in the SJSU Salzburg Program for 2011-2012. This is an important campus-wide effort that is playing a major role in helping globalize San José State, so I am asking for your support to actively promote it within your college.

The University will select 10-15 faculty, staff, and administrators to serve as SJSU Salzburg Fellows and 10-15 students to serve as SJSU Salzburg Scholars next year. After participating in an intensive week-long session on global citizenship at the Salzburg Global seminar in Austria next summer, they will spend the academic year working together on applied projects to broaden awareness of critical global issues, promote connections throughout the University, and enhance our students' abilities to live and work in an interdependent world.

Please encourage or nominate outstanding members of your college to apply for one of these opportunities. If you have any questions or would like more information, contact Dr. William Reckmeyer (william.reckmeyer@sjsu.edu).

SJSU SALZBURG PROGRAM

Call for Applications Salzburg Fellows & Salzburg Scholars (2011-2012)

San Jose State University is inviting applications from full-time members of the campus to serve as SJSU Salzburg Fellows (faculty, administrators, staff) and SJSU Salzburg Scholars (students) during the 2011-2012 academic year. This is an exciting opportunity for outstanding colleagues to broaden their awareness of critical global issues and enhance the greater good of SJSU.

We expect to select 10-15 Fellows and 10-15 Scholars to attend intensive week-long sessions on Global Citizenship offered by the world-renowned Salzburg Global Seminar in summer 2011, at its historic palace of Schloss Leopoldskron in Salzburg, Austria. The new group of Fellows and Scholars will spend the following year working with each other on a variety of collaborative projects to help globalize the University, promote global citizenship, and build a better world.
