Course Catalog Description

Graduate technical writing workshop to develop advanced communication skills that will meet the professional needs of computer scientists, along with research methodologies and proper documentation for the master's thesis project.

CS 200W satisfies the university's Graduate Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR).
Student must earn a "B" or higher to get credit for the class.

Student Learning Objectives (SLO)

Students shall write complete papers that demonstrate college-level proficiency. They shall be able to:

- (i) Produce discipline-specific written work that demonstrates upper-division proficiency in:
 - Language use
 - Grammar
 - Clarity of expression
- (ii) Explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively, including ideas encountered in multiple readings and expressed in different forms of discourse
- (iii) Organize and develop essays and documents for both professional and general audiences
- (iv) Organize and develop essays and documents according to appropriate editorial and citation standards
- (v) Locate, organize, and synthesize information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose, and to communicate that purpose in writing

Course Goals and Student Learning Outcomes (SLO)

This 3-unit course is designed to prepare students to communicate complex ideas, both orally and in writing, in the field of Computer Science. By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- (i) Compose with a clear focus on purpose, scope, and audience.
- (ii) Critically observe and discuss the composing processes of self and peers.
- (iii) Write using a variety of technical writing formats.
- (iv) Organize and produce papers and documents according to discipline-based editorial and citation standards, using IEEE style.
- (v) Create appropriate graphics to accompany a report.
- (vi) Effectively use library resources and electronic databases pertaining to their discipline to carry out research.
- (vii) Distinguish between scholarly and non-scholarly published literature as well as define the characteristics of good scholarly writing in terms of content, format, and style.
- (viii) Organize, analyze and synthesize information from various sources to develop a literature review.
- (ix) Determine the difference between plagiarized and non-plagiarized text.
- (x) Organize and deliver an effective oral presentation for a professional audience.

Required Materials

- (i) Course Reader: Available at Maple Press, 330 S. 10th St. Phone: 297-1000. Please note that Maple Press does not accept credit cards. Pay with cash or personal checks only.
- (ii) IEEE Editorial Style Manual. Print copy is in the Course Reader, or see an electronic copy at http://www.ieee.org/documents/style_manual.pdf

Credit Hours Compliance Policy

The SJSU Senate Policy S 12-3 requires the university to be compliant with the Federal Regulation of the definition of credit hour. Therefore:
“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of forty-five hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”

Assignments and Grading Policy

Total		1000 (100%)
Extra credit		10 (1%)

It is expected that in CS 200W, students will write a minimum of 6000 words. All written work in CS 200W is an individual effort on the part of students.

Assignments

1. Class participation (7.5%):

F15-12, University Policy, Attendance and Participation states:

“Students are expected to attend all meetings for the courses in which they are enrolled as they are responsible for material discussed therein, and active participation is frequently essential to ensure maximum benefit to all class members. In some cases, attendance is fundamental to course objectives; for example, students may be required to interact with others in the class.”

While students may not be graded on attendance, they may be graded on class participation. Points will be awarded for in-class task completion such as group/pair work, discussions, exercises, etc. To get participation points, students must be actively engaged and not just physically present in the room. Three points will be deducted for each missed class participation, beyond 3 class sessions. Coming in late (after 12:15 p.m.) will result in a student getting half credit for that session.

2. Writing correspondence (5%):

Students will practice writing job application materials (e.g. cover letter, email, online portfolio) using the established conventions and protocol of professional communication.

3. Writing résumés (5%):

Students will prepare a current résumé highlighting their education, accomplishments and relevant job experience.

4. Writing a proposal (20%)

Students will select a topic of interest and write a research/project proposal highlighting its importance, how it will be implemented, a work plan for carrying out the project, as well as possible challenges.

5. Writing project (30%):

Based on the topic selected for the proposal, students will write a literature review of scholarly sources (books, peer reviewed journal articles, refereed professional conference proceedings). The paper must be written following IEEE editorial standards, including a title page, an abstract, table of contents, footnotes, appendices, list of illustrations and/or list of symbols, when applicable.

6. Oral presentations (7.5%):

There will be two graded oral presentations in this class:

The first (worth 25 points) will consist of presenting your project proposal and answering questions from your classmates.

The second (worth 50 points) will be presenting your literature review regarding your writing project topic. This presentation should be formal and professionally conducted, and must include visual aids.

7. Writing exercises (15 %):

There will be a number of brief exercises throughout the semester focusing on various aspects of academic writing, including grammar, editorial style, formatting, etc. These will be completed primarily as homework.

8. Final exam (10 %):

There will be an open book final exam on editorial style and research skills on Tuesday, Dec. 19, the officially scheduled time. More details will be handed out towards the end of the semester.

9. Extra credit (1%):

Students can earn up to 10 extra credit points (5 points per event) by either attending Writing Center workshops or professional technical talks in the student’s field of study. Students must provide proof of attendance to the instructor no later than a week after the conclusion of the event. The extra credit will be added to the student’s final grade total at the end of the semester. Please check the Writing Center website for the workshop schedule: www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter

Grading Information

Grading breakdown

98%-100%=A+	94%-97%=A	90%-93%=A-	87%-89%=B+	84%-86%=B
80%-83%=B-	77%-79%=C+	74%-76%=C	70%-73%=C-	699 & below
No pass	No pass	No pass	No pass	No pass

Students must earn a “B” (84%-86%) or higher to pass the course.

Note that “All students have the right, within a reasonable time, to know their academic scores, to review their grade-dependent work, and to be provided with explanations for the determination of their course grades.” See University Policy F13-1 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F13-1.pdf> for more details.

Late Work

Assignments turned in late will receive a lower grade. Two points will be deducted for each day that the assignment is late, up to a week. After a week, the assignment will be accepted for half credit only. Students will not be penalized if they can show extenuating circumstances beyond their control.

Mode of Instruction

Class will often be conducted like a workshop so that students may get a lot of individualized feedback on their academic writing and speaking. A major aspect of this class is regular one-on-one conferences with the instructor on specified dates and times as well as frequent peer review sessions during class times or via Canvas. Students will be expected to revise their writing several times and must be prepared to write multiple drafts. They will also be expected to respond to other students' work and provide them meaningful feedback.

Individual Conferences

Students are strongly encouraged to schedule at least one individual, in-person conference with the instructor during the semester. Visit during office hours or make an appointment at another time that is more convenient.

Canvas Website Component of the Class

Most writing assignment final drafts will be submitted on Canvas by 11:59 p.m. of the date they are due. Go to <http://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/students/> to begin your Canvas login. Please make sure that you submit your assignments in Word (doc or docx), or, when formatting is important, as a .pdf file. All assignments submitted to Canvas will be automatically submitted to Turnitin.com to check for matches against a database of written work, including student work, to assesses possible plagiarism. Check your Turnitin originality score and, if the score is high, revise the work and resubmit it before the deadline.

Classroom Protocol/Policies

- (i) Please arrive to class on time. Late entrances and early exits are highly distracting to both your fellow students and the instructor.
- (ii) Absence from class may not be used as an excuse for failing to submit assignments on time.
- (iii) If you know that you will be absent on a certain day, then, as a courtesy, please email me.
- (iv) Make-up exams will be given only under extraordinary circumstances such as an illness or an accident. A doctor's note or other evidence must be provided in these cases.
- (v) Instructor reserves the right to make minor changes to assignments and schedule provided students are notified at least one class meeting in advance.
- (vi) Courtesy and respect towards one's fellow students and the instructor are expected at all times. Therefore, while in class please do not check your phone, read unrelated materials, or do homework for another class.
- (vii) It is a sign of disrespect to everyone present in class when a student opens up his/her laptop and spends a good part of the time staring at the screen and surfing the web. As a courtesy to everyone present, please refrain from such behavior.

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU's policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arise. See University Policy S90-5 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf>. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.

SJSU Writing Center

"The SJSU Writing Center is located in Clark Hall, Suite 126. All Writing Specialists have gone through a rigorous hiring process, and they are well trained to assist all students at all levels within all disciplines to become better writers. In addition to one-on-one tutoring services, the Writing Center also offers workshops every semester on a variety of writing topics. To make an appointment or to refer to the numerous online resources offered through the Writing Center, visit the Writing Center website: www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter. For additional resources and updated information, follow the Writing Center on Twitter and become a fan of the SJSU Writing Center on Facebook."

You are encouraged to use the tutoring services on campus if you or your instructor feels that you need additional support, but all work is expected to be your own. If the instructor has reason to believe otherwise, then he or she has the right to require additional evidence that the work is your own.
