“It is no crime to be ignorant of economics, which is, after all, a specialized discipline and one that most people consider to be a ‘dismal science.’ But it is totally irresponsible to have a loud and vociferous opinion on economic subjects while remaining in this state of ignorance.”

— Murray N. Rothbard

Course Format

This course is completely online, with no in-person meeting times or office hours. All class activities can be accessed through the Canvas course site. Because of the completely online course format, students must have access to a computer, word-processing software, and a reliable connection to the internet. Most class activities will be through a zoom meeting format. Assignments, such as quizzes and homework assignments, will be turned in on canvas and due on specific days and times with some flexibility.

Course Description

Allocation of resources and distribution of income as affected by the workings of the price system and by government policies.

Note: May be taken concurrently or prior to Econ 1A.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Economics 1B is a general education course that meets the requirement for area D1 in the social science area. Students will learn to apply microeconomic theory, to evaluate social information, draw on different points of view, and formulate policy implications. Issues of diversity will receive special attention in the analysis of price controls, labor markets, income distribution, and environmental issues. Finally, students will be able to place social events in an appropriate context. The GE writing requirement (1500 word minimum) will be satisfied by several written assignments.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Core principles of microeconomics, namely:

1. Incentives Matter (law of demand; law of supply; rational decision makers weigh marginal costs versus marginal benefits; the power of self-interest)
2. Opportunity Costs (sunk costs; production possibilities; the free-lunch fallacy; tradeoffs in consumption and production; gains from interpersonal and international trade; comparative advantage)
3. Supply and Demand (understanding the S&D model as a representation of individual choices in exchange based on individual preferences, knowledge and circumstances; ability to examine current events using S&D tools; movement versus shift; welfare analysis.)

Textbook

“Microeconomics”, 7th ed. by R. Glenn Hubbard and Anthony Patrick O’Brien, published by Prentice Hall, ISBN# 9780134735708 (Other editions of this text are acceptable as well. I HIGHLY recommend you get a cheap used copy of an older version. Note: you do NOT need to have an access code to the website MyEconLab, which is sometimes bundled with this textbook)

Other technology requirements / equipment / material

Canvas: In this class, you will be turning in your writing assignments through the Canvas learning management system (in DOC or PDF format). You will also have access to class handouts, with answers, and practice questions for exams here. To begin, you need to know how to access Canvas.

University Policies

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU’s policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. See University Policy S90–5 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf>. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog, at <http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/catalog/rec-12234.12506.html>. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at <http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html>.
