Course Description

This 4-unit CR/NC practicum course prepares Creative Writing graduate students to take the MFA Comprehensive exam; also to develop and begin writing an MFA thesis. The practicum will provide a forum for peer review to assist MFA candidates as they customize the MFA exam reading list and prepare to take the MFA comprehensive exam. The practicum will also provide a forum for MFA candidates for drafting the thesis abstract and thesis preface. MFA candidates will consult with their individual thesis directors and thesis readers on their Thesis Committees at the start of the semester to create a thesis completion plan. The candidates will be guided by their MFA thesis directors during the semester, sharing thesis drafts with other students in the same primary genre via Canvas. Students will post texts of their thesis abstracts and introductions and portions of their thesis project. During the semester, students will receive comments on their drafts from other MFA candidates working in the same genre, and from the candidate’s thesis director and thesis readers.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Course Goals:
A degree candidate in the MFA program must complete a book-length work of publishable quality in the candidate’s primary genre (or a full length play or screenplay). Also, an MFA candidate must demonstrate a substantial ability to articulate and analyze the literary influences on his/her writing. To gain such an understanding, MFA candidates will accomplish the following objectives in this practicum course:

- Devise an MFA thesis completion plan, assisted by your thesis director.
- Customize the MFA exam reading list to prepare for taking the MFA comprehensive exam, consulting with your thesis director (if you haven’t taken the exam).
- Take the Fall MFA comprehensive exam, or sign up to take the Spring MFA exam.
- Write an MFA thesis abstract—may be revised if your thesis project changes substantially after you finish writing it.
- Draft the Preface to your thesis, reflecting on and analyzing important literary influences on your writing. Base your introduction on your MFA thesis proposal. Post your thesis introduction on Canvas for other candidates to read and comment on.
- Revise MFA abstract and thesis Preface in response to peers’ and thesis committee members’ comments.
- Post sections (chapters, scenes, poems, etc.) of your thesis on Canvas for other MFA candidates in the practicum to read and comment on.
- Consult during the semester with your MFA director and thesis readers on the progress you’re making to complete your thesis manuscript.
- Submit portions of your thesis manuscript to journals for publication. (Optional)

Learning Objectives:
Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

Course Methods and Activities:

At the start of the practicum course, the group of MFA candidates enrolled will meet with the practicum supervisor for a group course orientation. Each candidate will subsequently meet with and coordinate their semester’s activities with their individual MFA thesis directors and thesis committee members. Each candidate will work with their individual MFA thesis director to devise a thesis completion schedule. Each candidate will also work with their MFA thesis director to customize their MFA exam reading lists, and to determine when (Fall or Spring term) they will take the MFA comprehensive exam. Each candidate will prepare for their MFA exam, making notes on the works they’ve chosen from the reading lists. During the semester, the MFA candidates in the course will write portions of their MFA theses, including their thesis abstract, thesis introduction, and portions of the creative work that shall comprise the primary substance of their thesis manuscript.

Grading

This course is graded on a CR/NC basis. Completing the practicum projects according to candidates’ thesis completion plan will result in a CR grade. Not completing the projects will result in a NC grade.

Workload

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week) for reading works in preparation for the MFA comprehensive exams; meeting with thesis directors... and committee members; drafting and re-writing creative material and the introduction for the MFA thesis; and participating in other course related activities. Other graduate course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus (see SJSU Academic Senate Policy S12 - 3).

Because this is a 4-unit course, students can expect to spend a minimum of twelve hours per week preparing doing the reading, writing, and online Canvas participation expected for this class and completing required course activities. Careful time management will be required to maintain an intensive schedule of reading and writing appropriate for this course, to comment on work posted by other MFA students writing a thesis in the same genre as yours, and allowing sufficient to during the semester to complete an MFA thesis draft on schedule.

Participation
Students are expected to attend regularly and thoughtfully engage in class discussion.

Late Assignment Policy
It is important that students submit/post any and all assigned work on time. Late work will not be accepted if no prior arrangement has been agreed upon with the instructor.

Attendance
Students are expected to attend each scheduled Zoom session. Allowances will be made for students who have issues with computer access and other problems that impede online attendance. These issues should be made known to the professor in a timely and professional fashion.

Learning Environment
This course calls for and will provide a safe, secure learning environment where students can express their ideas, theories, opinions and views in a civil manner. All State, Federal and District codes protecting students' classroom rights apply in the on-line format and will be observed and enforced. For example, there will be no use of derogatory language (racial, sexual, etc).

Student code of conduct (SJSU classroom and campus policies)
Students are responsible for maintaining a respectful environment in the classroom. San Jose State is committed to maintaining a safe education and working environment free of discrimination, harassment and sexual violence. Policies are available online at:
http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/policies/
http://notalone.sjsu.edu/policy_information/index.html
Per Title 5, the university prohibits “[activities] that substantially and materially disrupts the normal operations of the University” and “conduct that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person within or related to the University community, including physical abuse, threats, intimidation, harassment, or sexual misconduct.” Please keep this in mind as you submit work for this course. The work you create in this class should aspire to resemble in quality the work we read. The work should be literary and character driven (this class is not the place for cat poems, romances, fan-fiction, fantasy, horror, crime, and the like.) I will not tolerate any work that is gratuitously violent, pornographic. If you aren’t sure about your work, see me before distributing it to your classmates.

Academic Integrity

Accommodation to Students' Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed.
