ENGL 1A Course Description

English 1A is an introductory writing course that will help students understand the writing process and the goals, dynamics, and genres of written communication. Through interpretation and analysis of texts, students will develop clear thinking and effective writing that give form and coherence to complex ideas. Students will practice these skills by writing for various audiences and rhetorical situations. This particular section will focus on topics relating to current events by examining academic texts, political speeches, informal digital interactions, visual art, short films, and various essays. Be prepared to (tactfully and respectfully) discuss race relations, gender, politics, sexuality, and visions of the future.

ENGL 1A Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically;
2. demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance;
3. articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals;

4. demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres;
5. demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing.

ENGL 1A Course Content

Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. Students will engage in integrated reading and writing assignments to construct their own arguments on complex issues that generate meaningful public debate. Readings for the course will include writers of different genders, ethnicities, cultural heritages, and different socio-economic classes.

Writing: Writing assignments shall give students repeated practice in all phases of the writing process: prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 8000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form.

Three essays will be written in class, because in-class writing is valued and students should be able to perform well in timed writing situations. In addition to the three in-class essays, there will be four formal essays. These essays will be written outside of class and go through the revision process before being finalized. All formal, out-of-class essays must be turned in via Canvas.

There is also an online discussion element to this course. Students are required to make one formal discussion post via Canvas during the semester, and must comment on other students' discussion posts at least four times during the semester. A sign up sheet will be provided on the first day of class for students to choose which topic they would like to post about (posting dates are pre-determined).

The format for all essays is as follows:

1. Out-of-class essays and in-class essays that are typed must be typed in a 12 point, serif font such as Times New Roman.
2. Handwritten essays must be written in blue or black ink, and the writing must be legible. Additionally, handwritten essays must be written in an exam book.
3. All essays must be double-spaced.
4. All essays must adhere to MLA format.

Reading: Articles, essays, online discussion posts, and excerpts from longer works will be given as reading assignments during the semester. These assignments will serve as the foundation for class discussion and aid in the development of writing topics.

Final Experience: The final project will consist of a paper of 1,200 words, accompanied by a five to ten minute presentation utilizing an audio/visual component approved by the instructor prior to presenting.

Required Texts: In lieu of assigning a textbook for this course, I have decided to rely heavily on the materials provided the website associated with Norton's Field Guide to Writing. Readings will be assigned from their site, located at <http://www.wnorton.com/college/english/write/fieldguide/index.asp>. Additional readings are located on Canvas, or will be distributed via email announcement by the instructor.

ENGL 1A Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf>.

Grading Policy

Requirements for particular assignments will vary, but in all cases, essay grades will reflect the paper's effectiveness. All assignments are graded on an A-F, +/- scale.

The following are the criteria by which essays are typically evaluated in first-year writing courses:

An "A" essay is organized and well-developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the assignment, written in a unique and compelling voice. It will show the student's ability to use language effectively with a solid command of grammar, mechanics, and usage.

A "B" essay demonstrates competence in the same categories as an "A" essay, but it may show slight weakness in one of these areas. It will respond to the topic suitably and may contain some grammatical, mechanical or usage errors.

A "C" essay will complete the requirements of the assignment, but it will show weaknesses in fundamentals, such as development. It may show weakness in mastery of grammar, mechanics, usage, or voice.

A "D" essay will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial in its treatment of the topic. It may lack development or fail to stay on topic. It may contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.

An "F" essay does not fulfill the requirements of the assignment.

Extra Credit:

Extra credit may be offered at various points throughout the semester at the instructor's discretion, but no student should rely on extra credit or assume it will be offered.

Late Work:

Late work will be accepted up to three days after the due date, with one letter grade being deducted per day. This means that work turned in the day after the due date will only be eligible to receive a B+ or lower, work turned in two days after the due date will only be eligible to receive a C+ or lower, and so on. No work will be accepted more than three days after the due date. Please keep this in mind when budgeting time to work on your assignments.

Extenuating Circumstances:

Life happens. If you are unable to turn in your work by the due date AND YOU CONTACT THE INSTRUCTOR AT LEAST 24 HOURS PRIOR TO THE DUE DATE, it is possible that the penalty for turning in late assignments will be waived or modified. Please note that this is in no way a guarantee, and you should not assume the instructor will be lenient. Misuse of this policy by any one student will result in having this option removed for all students.

How Scores Are Weighted:

Assignments:	Percentage of Total Score	Point Value
Discussion Posts and Comments	7.5%	55 points for discussion post, 5 points per comment
In-Class Essays	22.5%	75 points each
Formal Essays including Peer Reviews (Excluding the Multi-Modal Essay)	30%	100 points each
Multi-Modal Essay and Ancillary Components	40%	400
Total	100%	1000

Please Note:

According to University standards, students MUST receive a C- or higher in order to pass this course. If a student scores lower than a C-, they MUST repeat this course.

Classroom Protocol

Participation, Tardiness and Attendance:

All students are expected to engage in classroom discussion and peer review. To fully participate in class, all students must arrive on time and ready to get started. If a student has missed more than 3 days of class, it could have an impact on their grade for the course, as they will be missing in-class assignments that cannot be made up. If a student is going to miss class or arrive more than a few minutes late, a courtesy email to the instructor would be appreciated.

Classroom Behavior:

This course will cover topics that are contentious and potentially upsetting to some students. It is important to remain respectful of all classmates and the instructor during class discussion and in all assignments. If you have a question at any time about what is appropriate, please contact the instructor for guidance. Disrespectful comments, including comments about race, ethnicity, gender, biological sex, disability, national origin, religion, or sexual orientation will not be tolerated. (Please keep in mind this is not an exhaustive list.) Discussion is welcome and encouraged, but comments found to be intentionally offensive, disrespectful or combative are not allowed.

Academic Integrity:

Cheating and plagiarism are not allowed under any circumstance. This policy is outlined in more detail on the university website.

Devices:

Use of any and all devices (including cell phones, smart phones, laptops, tablets, magic future watches, or sonic screwdrivers), is only allowed on specific class dates and/or during specific class times. All devices must be set to silent by the start of class. If your device makes noise during class, everyone else will stop what they are doing and stare at you until you silence it. It will be awkward. You have been warned.
