Course Description

This course offers an introduction to literary criticism, theories and methodologies used by scholars and critics of the 20th century. We will spend most of our time studying literary criticism as a discipline or genre. By analyzing significant essays in literary criticism produced by prominent and influential literary critics we will seek to improve our own ability to understand as well as produce literary criticism. Understanding literary criticism involves understanding the theories that underlie or shape the practice of criticism. We will therefore try to define theoretical schools like structuralism, Marxism, feminism, deconstruction, new historicism, postcolonialism etc. and discover how they may be applied to literature. We will also examine fundamental questions and common assumptions about language, literature, reading, and writing. Since literary theory works across the boundaries of disciplines like criticism, psychology, sociology, anthropology, philosophy and history, this course will challenge you to read a considerable amount of dense and complex material; but it should also be exhilarating because you will have an opportunity to form clearer perspectives on language/literature and to acquire tools necessary for analyzing and interpreting language/literature.

English Department Program Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Read closely in a variety of forms, styles, structures, and modes, and articulate the value of close reading in the study of literature;
2. Show familiarity with major literary works, genres, periods, and critical approaches to literature;
3. Write clearly, effectively, and creatively, and adjust writing style appropriately to the content, the context, and the nature of the subject;
4. Develop and carry out research projects, and locate, evaluate, organize, and incorporate information effectively;
5. Articulate the relations among culture, history, and texts.

Course Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate familiarity with different modern schools of literary theory
- Demonstrate familiarity with major theorists/critics/texts associated with each school
- Understand and use the key concepts and terms associated with each major school
- Apply different critical theories to analyze various literary texts and cultural/artistic products.
- Communicate their ideas/analysis in cogent, critical language, both orally and in writing.

1-Unit Enhancement

Because this is a 4-unit course, students can expect to spend a minimum of twelve hours per week preparing for and attending classes and completing course assignments. This course will have integrated into the syllabus the following 1-unit enhancement: Higher Level Critical Thinking. With guidance from the instructor, students will apply four different literary theories to the same primary text. This scaffolded assignment will integrate students' abilities to close read (PLO 1), integrate knowledge of literary theory and criticism (PLO 2), write effectively (PLO 3), and read a literary text in the context of culture and history (PLO 5).

Required Texts

Tyson, Lois. Critical Theory Today. New York & London: Garland.
 Shakespeare. The Tempest: A Case Study. Ed. Gerald Graff. St. Martins.
 Conrad. Heart of Darkness: A Case Study. Ed Ross C. Murfin. St Martins.

Recommended:

Murfin and Ray: The Bedford Glossary of Literary Terms (excellent reference for keyterms/concepts)

Classroom Protocol

Attendance & Participation: Regular attendance and active participation in class discussions are extremely important. Please arrive on time and stay for the entire class. You are responsible for all materials assigned, presented and discussed. You are encouraged to take notes in class, but you should have studied the materials before class begins. Poor attendance/participation will have negative effects on your final grade.

Since most classes will be based on group discussions, presentations and workshops it is crucial for you to keep up with the readings and take an active as well as thoughtful role in all classroom activities. Your questions, comments, insights, and interpretations are valuable no matter how outlandish they may seem. So do speak up!

Conferencing: I encourage you to visit me in my office whenever you need to discuss something, whether it is an assignment or any other difficulty you may be having with the structure and format of the class. I am completely open to criticism and suggestions because the only way I can fix things is if I know what is wrong.

Submitting work: All work must be turned in as specified on the date indicated in the schedule; please do not email assignments to me.

All readings are listed against dates they will be discussed in class; so when you come to class you should have already read the materials and be prepared to discuss them

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drops, academic renewal, etc. Information on add/drops are available at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/soc-fall/rec-324.html . Information about late drop is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/sac/advising/latedrops/policy/ . Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for adding and dropping classes.

Assignments (additional details will be provided on canvas and in class)

1. Applications (PLO 1): You will write four 500 word/2-page "applications" analyzing the same primary text from the list below but using a different theoretical lens each time. *You may not write applications on either The Tempest or Heart of Darkness.* When a theory is too complex to be applied within the specified limit, a clear summary of the kind of argument you would develop in a longer essay is acceptable. Apply only those theoretical approaches we have finished discussing in class. Applications must be submitted on Canvas before class on the dates indicated in the schedule; you will be asked to share these applications in class from time to time. Grading criteria: Demonstrated ability to apply a particular theory or approach to a literary work; correct use of key terms/concepts; insightfulness of analysis; clarity of expression.

Texts to use for applications

Maurine Sendak: Where the Wild Things Are

James Joyce: Araby

Robert Frost: The Road Not Taken

Sharon Olds: The Death of Marilyn Monroe

Toni Bambara: The Lesson

Sidney Harris: Hey baby cartoon

- 2. Reader Response Portfolio (PLO 2): For each essay in criticism on The Tempest and Heart of Darkness discussed in class you will prepare a typed one-page response consisting of (i) bullet-pointed summary of three key ideas (ii) a brief example/illustration from the essay to show how a particular theory is being applied. You will bring these to class to share during discussions. You may make notes/revisions on these during or after class and submit them on the dates indicated in the schedule. Grading criteria: Demonstrated engagement with material; accuracy of summary; relevance and clarity of example.
- 3. Exams (PLO 1 & 5): You will take a midterm and a final exam on the dates indicated in the schedule. The exams will ask you to define key terms/concepts as well as analyze excerpted passages of literary criticism on The Tempest and Heart of Darkness. The questions are meant to assess your understanding of the course material as well as your ability to apply the concepts and integrate the methods we study.

Grading:

The following statements have been adopted by the English department:

1. In English Department courses, instructors will comment on and grade the quality of student writing as well as the quality of ideas conveyed. All student writing should be distinguished by correct grammar and punctuation, appropriate diction and syntax, and well-organized paragraphs.
2. Grading Policy: The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined in the official SJSU Catalog ("The Grading System"). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance: A = excellent; B = above average; C = average; D = below average; F = failure. Courses graded according to the A,B,C, No Credit system shall follow the same pattern, except that NC, for No Credit, shall replace D or F. In A,B,C, No Credit courses NC shall also substitute for W (Withdrawal) because neither NC nor W affects students' grade point average.
