Course Description
This course aims to simulate actual business communication scenarios (both oral and written) that business professionals encounter in their daily work lives. Assignments and activities have been designed to enable students to practice and apply practical and theoretical approaches to real-life work situations. Both practical (communication mechanics and style) and theoretical (pragmatics) aspects will be emphasized.

Course Format
This hybrid course meets on campus on Mondays, but online (synchronous) on Wednesdays. During all class meetings, you are required to have access to some technology, such as a laptop or a tablet with video conferencing capabilities. Because we will use online tools, such as Google’s Jamboard, live during the class, you must have access to a laptop or tablet for participation purposes. We will also complete writing tasks during class, which you must type and submit online. Additionally, we will use Canvas, the SJSU Learning Management System, for instructional materials, activities, and assignments. Therefore, you will need regular access to the internet and technology for this class. If you need to borrow laptops, tablets, and other electronics, please contact Student Computing Services at https://library.sjsu.edu/student-computing-services/student-computing-services.
To produce and share your work, you will use Google Docs and enable viewers to comment on your work. If you need help to access these technologies, please contact the IT Service Desk at https://www.sjsu.edu/it/support/service-desk/index.php.

Contacting Your Instructor

To communicate with me, please email me directly at my SJSU email address (Jennifer.bean@sjsu.edu). I respond to emails within 48 hours, during the hours of 7 AM- 5 PM Monday through Friday. When you email me, mention your course number in the subject line (for example, “Question about 100WB- Section 2”) and sign the message with your full name. I am teaching several different classes, and I need these two pieces of information to respond to your questions in a timely and accurate manner.

Please try to find the answer to your question yourself before contacting me. You will likely find the answer to many general course questions in the syllabus on Canvas. If you would like to speak with me via Zoom, join me during my office hours or contract me to set up an appointment.

Absences

If you are absent from class at any time during the semester, please make sure you study all the materials posted in Canvas under the week you are absent. You are still responsible for all material taught and all tasks assigned on days that you are absent. I also recommend that you ask a classmate to borrow their lecture notes and email me with your questions so that you do not fall behind. If you must request an extension, please see the policies under Grading Information for related details.

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively, including ideas encountered in multiple readings and expressed in different forms of discourse
- Organize and develop essays and documents for both professional and general audiences, using appropriate editorial and citation standards
- Locate, organize, and synthesize information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose, and to communicate that purpose in writing
- Produce discipline-specific written work that demonstrates upper-division proficiency in language use, grammar, & clarity of expression

English 100WB Objectives- Students will be able to:

- Format, compose, and revise written documents for a variety of contexts
- Identify and articulate the audience “take-away” message in every communication
- Use a variety of communications tools and strategies to communicate effectively
- Communicate numerical data effective in both written and oral formats
- Employ advanced research strategies and incorporate research appropriately into written and oral communication for a variety of purposes
- Analyze and adapt communications based on rhetorical situation and pragmatics
- Recognize a variety of communication needs and constraints and employ appropriate strategies to meet those needs in a variety of business situations
- Evaluate communication strategies for effectiveness
- Justify communication decisions using knowledge of pragmatics, business culture norms, and rhetorical situations
- Create communications and presentations that are ethnically, legally, and culturally appropriate

Course Requirements and Assignments:

Reading: These reading assignments serve as the foundation for class discussions and/or models of excellence. You must complete all assigned readings before class.

Canvas Discussion Posts (DP): DPs should build upon readings and class discussions and advance our understanding, not summarize materials. DPs may include thoughtful questions that push us further in our inquiry. DPs may also include your reactions to the reading, observations of how this reading can be applied, or the relationship of a reading to your own ideas and opinions about a topic or to another reading. DPs will be evaluated based on evidence that you completed the reading and have attempted to expand the conversation about the topic in a thoughtful manner.

Canvas Discussion Responses (DR): DRs should directly address the points and issues raised by classmates in their posts. Feel free to ask questions and debate respectfully. DRs will be evaluated based on evidence that you completed the reading and have attempted to expand the conversation in a thoughtful manner.

Writing: This course requires a minimum of 8,000 words throughout the semester. Written tasks will include those necessary for successful business communications, which may include, but are not limited to, formal and informal correspondence (emails, memos, letters), employment application materials (resumes, cover letters, etc.), reports, abstracts, and proposals. More instructions will be posted on Canvas for all major assignments. All assignments must be submitted through Canvas and adhere to formatting and citation guidelines. For this class, there will be four major writing projects.
Short Writing Tasks (SWT): You will engage in various tasks aimed at advancing your business writing skills. These tasks will be shorter than the writing project and will be started in class. There may be opportunities to complete some of these tasks outside of class time. See Canvas for details and due dates. Tasks that explore research strategies, paraphrasing, summarizing, quoting, creating promotional materials, etc. are possible. All such in-class tasks will be assessed.

Final Examination or Evaluation - “Faculty members are required to have a culminating activity for their courses, which can include a final examination, a final research paper or project, a final creative work or performance, a final portfolio of work, or other appropriate assignment.”

Oral Presentation (Final): Because corporate America is utilizing online tools to stay safe during the pandemic, your final presentation will be an oral presentation (with slides) that is presented fully online using Zoom. You must have your camera on, with a work-appropriate background and work-appropriate clothing so that you gain experience in a professional online environment engaging in professional activities. As interviews, meetings, and presentations are typically done with Zoom in many industries today, this final will give you a realistic opportunity to practice your 21st century skills.

Submitting Assignments on Canvas

For an assignment to be considered “submitted,” it must be uploaded on Canvas following the directions below. Do not wait until the last minute to submit an assignment as uploads may take some time.

1.) All SWT assignments ask for a Google Drive link. To successfully submit this work, you must submit the link on Canvas AND give me (Jennifer.bean@sjsu.edu) permission to make comments on this document. Failure to ensure I can open and make comments on this link means that you did not submit your work.

2.) Assignments will be graded as uploaded on Canvas. Blank, incorrect, or unreadable files (including ones in which I do not have permission to make comments) will receive no credit. To avoid this, click on “View Submission” after uploading your work to make sure you have submitted the correct file. Always do this!

3.) You may re-submit assignments as many times as you would like before a deadline.

4.) For all WP assignments, you are responsible for ensuring your work is free of plagiarism. When you submit work in PDF form (minus peer review forms), ensure Turnitin scores your work as either blue or green. No other scores are acceptable. If you have a different score from Turnitin, you should adjust your work and submit it again before the deadline. If you believe this score was an error, contact me immediately.

Late Work Penalty:
All work should be submitted on time. Any unexcused late work will be graded down a FULL LETTER GRADE for every day it is late. (For example, if you earn 95% on a SWT, but you submit it two days late, your grade will be 75% on this task.) If there is a reason you can’t meet a deadline, contact me BEFORE THE DEADLINE. It is possible that the penalty for submitting late work may be waived or modified. There is, however, no guarantee that that will be the case. Please note that extensions for the four major writing projects are limited to extraordinary circumstances and plan your schedule accordingly calendar located at the end of this syllabus.

Technology issues will not be accepted as an excuse for late work. To avoid these issues, you should do the following:

1.) Have a backup plan in case of equipment failure (You can rent laptops from the SJSU King Library)
2.) Save back-up copies of all your course work on Google Drive
3.) After submitting an assignment on Canvas, review it to ensure that you uploaded the correct file. All assignments are graded as submitted.

If you experience technical difficulties and have issues submitting your work on Canvas, you are responsible for reaching out to the IT support department to obtain documentation of the issue.

Grading Information:
This course must be passed with C or better to satisfy the CSU Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR).

Requirements for each assignment will vary, but in all cases, grades will reflect the paper’s effectiveness, which is broken down into six major areas: rhetorical/contextual awareness, focus, organization, development, style, and mechanics. More specific rubrics will be provided, as appropriate, on Canvas.

An “A” writing assignment is excellent. It shows mastery of all skills and exceeds expectations in all six grading criterion.

A “B” writing assignment shows competence in the same criterion as an “A” assignment, but there is slight weakness in some of the areas.

A “C” writing assignment will complete the requirements of the assignment, but will show significant weakness in a few of the criterion.

A “D” writing assignment will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial and lack development in its treatment of the topic. It may contain major grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.

An “F” writing assignment does not fulfill the requirements of the assignment.

Time Management: “Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”
Classroom Protocol

In accordance with SJSU rules, masks must be worn by everyone in the classroom, regardless of vaccination status. We will also follow social distancing and other SJSU COVID-19 protocols to ensure the safety of all community members, especially those who are ineligible for the vaccine. If you are ill and must miss a Monday (on campus) class, please reach out to me before class. I may be able to send you a Zoom link so that you can still participate while staying safely at home.

Due to the nature of the course, much of the learning will happen in class. Therefore, it is imperative that you attend class every day, on time, prepared to participate in class activities, and having already completed the reading assigned for the day. During the first weeks of class, we will create an etiquette protocol as a class. These rules will be posted on Canvas, and students will be expected to adhere to them as part of their participation grade.

In this class, we may encounter topics that are controversial and potentially upsetting/challenging to our ideas, beliefs, and understanding of reality. It is vital that we remain respectful of all people during class meetings and in assignments. Some examples are potentially disrespectful comments would be disparaging comments about one’s race, ethnicity, gender, sex, disability, national origin, religion, and/or sexual orientation. Disrespectful and disparaging comments will not be tolerated. If you are unsure if something is inappropriate, please contact me for assistance.

University Policies

Per University Policy S16-9, relevant university policy concerning all courses, such as student responsibilities, academic integrity, accommodations, dropping and adding, consent for recording of class, etc. and available student services (e.g. learning assistance, counseling, and other resources) are listed on Syllabus Information web page (https://www.sjsu.edu/curriculum/courses/syllabus-info.php). Make sure to visit this page to review and be aware of these university policies and resources.
Additional Information

Diversity: SJSU is a diverse learning community. We will engage in integrated reading and writing assignments to explore complex issues that generate meaningful public debate. Our course is designed to include an emphasis on a diverse range of voices and viewpoints.

Trigger Warning: Tasks, class discussions, and/or readings may include material of a sensitive nature. We may encounter materials that challenge your ideas, beliefs, and understanding of reality. Our class will work towards creating a safe space in which we can learn together.

Plagiarism: Using others’ ideas and/or words without clearly acknowledging the source of the information is defined as plagiarism. To avoid plagiarism, give credit to your sources in the following situations:

1.) Use someone else’s direct words (use quotation marks and give the source).

“In the midst of Silicon Valley and all over the globe, SJSU engineers are designing and building high impact innovations, with a particular focus on challenges to global sustainability” (Wei, 2011).

The full reference will be in the back of the report, using APA format.

2.) Use someone else’s ideas, in your words, that are not common knowledge.

Through the Global Technology Initiative at SJSU, 25 students are selected each year to travel for two weeks to India or China, all expenses paid by GTI. (College of Engineering, 2012). (Note this is not the exact words, so there are no quotation marks.)

The full reference and website will be in the back of the report, using APA format.

3.) Use specific statistics, graphics, drawings, etc. that are not yours

San Jose State University is ranked 8th overall among the West’s top public universities offering bachelor’s and master’s degrees according to the 2013 edition of "American's Best Colleges" (U.S. News & World Report, 2013).

Plagiarism will result in a grade of F in ENG 100WB. Assignments with plagiarism cannot be rewritten for credit. Your department chairperson will be notified. We will work on this in class. Remember, plagiarism is a serious issue. When you submit work in PDF form (minus peer review forms), ensure Turnitin scores your work as either blue or green. No other scores are acceptable.
