ENGL 1A Course Description “Personas, Masks, and Identity”
In Latin, the word “persona” literally meant “mask.” As living, breathing people, we are constantly putting on “masks” and assuming various personas. Many different factors influence the personas that we adopt, from place, to nationality, ecological environment, race, gender and even politics. Throughout the semester, we will focus on this concept of “persona” and how it reinforces or undermines individual identity. We will be looking at the relationship between persona and identity in three units: Creativity, Global Citizenship, and Sustainability. Each of these units will inspire us to reflect on the various forces that shape identity as well as guide our discussions about the relationship between personas, masks, and identity.

English 1A is an introductory writing course that will help students understand the writing process and the goals, dynamics, and genres of written communication. Through interpretation and analysis of texts, students will develop clear thinking and effective writing that give form and coherence to complex ideas. Students will practice these skills by writing for various audiences and rhetorical situations.
ENGL 1A Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to
• communicate meaning clearly and effectively;
• identify focus, tailored to a particular audience and purpose;
• perform effectively the essential steps of the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing);
• explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively;
• use within an essay supporting material drawn from primary and secondary sources, including appropriate citations;
• organize individual paragraphs and entire essays;
• construct sentences with accuracy, variety, and clarity;
• use appropriate diction and tone;
• control conventions of written English (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

GE Area A2 Course Description

ENGL 1A fulfills the written communication general education requirement. Courses in GE Area A2 cultivate an understanding of the writing process and the goals, dynamics, and genres of written communication, with special attention to the nature of writing in the university. Students will develop college-level reading abilities, rhetorical sophistication, and writing styles that give form and coherence to complex ideas and feelings. A passing grade of C or better signifies that the student is a capable college-level writer and reader of English.

GE A2 Learning Outcomes (GELO)

In addition to the learning objectives stated above, ENGL 1A also measures the learning goals of GE Area A2. Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to • demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically;
• demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance;
• articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals;
• demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres;
• demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing.

ENGL 1A Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Reading: GELO 1

A strong writer is always an avid reader first. Therefore, English 1A is both writing and reading intensive. Students are expected to keep up with the assigned reading, as most discussions and in-class work will revolve around them. Daily readings will include chapters from The Curious Writer (Full 4th Edition), selections from your course reader and, occasionally, additional readings posted to CANVAS.

Writing

Writing assignments shall give students repeated practice in all phases of the writing process: prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 8,000 words, at least 4,000 of which must be in revised final draft form. Because in-class writing is valued and students should be able to perform well in timed writing situations, at least two essays shall be written in class. In addition, ENGL 1A classes require multiple out-of-class essays. All essays must be submitted in hard copy and on CANVAS. I will not accept any work via email. Writing assignments will consist of in-class and out-of-class essays, weekly CANVAS responses, as well as various informal writing done during class. In order to receive a passing grade in this course, all writing assignments must be completed!

Three Out-of-Class Essays: GELO 1-5

- 1,500 words each (roughly five pages)
- All essays must be typed, Times New Roman, 12-point font, double-spaced, with 1-inch margins, and meet MLA format. See The Everyday Writer or the OWL guide (https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/) for help.
- In this class, the writing process is just as important as the finished product. Therefore, students will be expected to submit a draft for each out-of-class assignment to me. I will return these with feedback. I will not accept essays without drafts.
- In order to fully explore the revision process, students will participate in a number of peer review workshops. Attendance during these workshops is mandatory (failure to do so will result in a grade reduction).

Two In-Class essays: GELO 2-5

- 500 words each written legibly in blue or black ink in a green examination book during one class period.
- Topics will be discussed in advance, and a specific prompt will be given during the examination.
- Students are expected to attend every in-class essay. If an emergency results in an absence during one of these essays, please notify me ahead of time and I will allow a make up exam within one week. Only one make up will be allowed.

Final experience: GELO 1-5

Students will write a final, reflective essay that represents the culmination of all the thinking, discussing and writing they have done throughout the semester. This final in-class essay will map the students’ personal growth in thinking about the relationship between persona and identity, as well as demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps of the writing process in a reflective manner.

Reading Responses: GELO 1,2,4,5

Each week, I will post a discussion topic on CANVAS regarding the assigned readings. Students are expected to post a short response by midnight before class. Each response should be about two paragraphs (250 words)
Participation

Students are expected to engage with the assigned material and daily discussion. Points will be earned for actually participating, not just showing up to the classroom. Attending all class meetings, paying attention, voicing your opinions and participating in daily workshops will earn you all participation points.

In-class Writing

On most days, students will do some kind of in-class writing. This may include free-writing, brainstorming, journaling, group work, etc.

Grading Policy

Requirements for particular assignments will vary, but in all cases essay grades will reflect the paper’s effectiveness, which are broken down into three major areas: content (this includes maturity and sophistication of thought), organization, and expression. All assignments, quizzes, and exams are graded on a traditional A-F scale. Students must receive a C or better to pass English 1A.

In-Class Essays (2x500=1,000 words) 20% (200 points)
Out-of-class Essays (3x1,500=4,500 words) 45% (450 points)
Weekly Responses (10x250=2,500) 15% (150 points)
Final (500 words) 10% (100 points)
Participation 10% (100 points)
The following are the criteria by which essays are typically evaluated in first-year writing courses:

An “A” essay is organized and well-developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the assignment, written in a unique and compelling voice. It will show the student’s ability to use language effectively with a solid command of grammar, mechanics, and usage.

A “B” essay demonstrates competence in the same categories as an “A” essay, but it may show slight weakness in one of these areas. It will respond to the topic suitably and may contain some grammatical, mechanical or usage errors.

A “C” essay will complete the requirements of the assignment, but it will show weaknesses in fundamentals, such as development. It may show weakness in mastery of grammar, mechanics, usage, or voice.

A “D” essay will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial in its treatment of the topic. It may lack development or fail to stay on topic. It may contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.

An “F” essay does not fulfill the requirements of the assignment.

Late Work
I will accept out-of-class essays up to one week after the due date, at a significantly reduced grade. For each calendar day that your essay is late, you will receive a reduction of one-half a letter grade. For example, an “A” essay turned in one week late will receive no higher than a “C”. I will not accept late essays after one week, and I will not accept any kind of late in-class work or reading responses. All essays must be submitted in hard copy and on CANVAS. I will not accept any work via email. In the case of extreme extenuating circumstances, contact me before the due date so we can plan accordingly.

Extra Credit
Students are expected to stay on top of all assigned work and perform effectively during classroom activities. There will be a few opportunities for extra credit; however, these opportunities will be minimal.

Classroom Protocol
- Diversity: In English 1A, you will address issues of race, class, and gender as well as the perspectives of women and diverse cultural groups. Be respectful and supportive of your classmates during discussion and class activities. All members of the class should be able to feel comfortable and safe to explore various modes of communication.
- Always bring The Curious Writer and your course reader to class.
- Please arrive for class on time. If you need to leave early, please notify me before class has begun. If tardiness becomes a habit, you may lose participation points for the day.
- All students are expected to come to class with readings and assignments completed.
- All students are expected to listen respectfully to their peers, take notes and contribute to class discussion regularly.
- If you are not prepared for class, then do not come. It is a waste of everyone’s time, and disrespectful to those who are prepared and engaged. You will not receive participation points for being in class without doing the work.
- Do not sleep in class. Sleeping will result in a loss of participation points for the day. If this becomes a habit, you may be asked to leave.
● There will be absolutely no cell phone use during class. Though these devices have profound impacts on our daily lives, they are distracting and unnecessary in the classroom. Using a device during class will result in the loss of daily participation points. If it becomes a chronic problem, you may be asked to leave.

● Unless you have a documented, daily need for a laptop, they are not to be used during class time. There may be certain days (such as workshops or in-class essays) where laptop use is permitted. These will be specified by the instructor.

● Regular attendance is paramount to your success in this course. While I understand that we all miss class occasionally, regular absences will negatively affect your performance and grade. You are responsible for missed classes. Unless you are informing me that you need to miss an exam or workshop, do not contact me about missed classes or class work. Familiarize yourself with the schedule, and talk to your classmates about what you missed. Should you anticipate the need to miss multiple classes for some extenuating circumstance, please let me know as soon as possible.

● I am here to help you, so don’t be a stranger! If you are struggling, have questions about assignments, need clarification, or simply want to talk, I am available! You are always welcome to come during my office hours, but if you are unavailable during my listed hours make an appointment. Although I have my own classes during the week, I am almost always on campus Monday through Thursday. However, visiting during office hours is the best way to discuss assignments, grades, and various other questions. Please do not ask me questions about your grades in class.

University Policies

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU’s policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. See University Policy S90–5 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog, at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/catalog/rec-12234.12506.html. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at http://www.sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

University Policy S12-7, http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-7.pdf, requires students to obtain instructor’s permission to record the course and the following items to be included in the syllabus:

• “Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.”
- It is suggested that the greensheet include the instructor’s process for granting permission, whether in writing or orally and whether for the whole semester or on a class by class basis.
- In classes where active participation of students or guests may be on the recording, permission of those students or guests should be obtained as well.

- “Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.”

Academic integrity

Accommodation to Students’ Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7.

Student Technology Resources

Extra Credit Opportunities

I expect every student to stay on top of their work and complete all reading and writing assignments throughout the semester. That being said, there will be a few opportunities to receive minimal amounts of extra credit throughout the semester. These opportunities include:

*Memorize and recite at least 10 sequential lines from II.viii 139-166 of William Shakespeare’s As You Like It and write a reflective 250-word response detailing your experience in memorizing your lines.

*Attend one lecture or speech by one of the guest speakers in the MLK Library and write a 250-word response describing the experience. I will provide more information regarding these extra credit opportunities as the semester continues.
