Course Description
John Steinbeck, Californian, was intimately connected with the region of his birth. Born in Salinas in 1902, he grew up loving the broad Salinas Valley, “Salad Bowl of the Nation.” On the shores of the nearby Pacific his family had a summer retreat, and throughout his life he yearned to be near the sea. The writer knew he would be a writer at age 14 and spent a lifetime writing about humans living in place, about the connections between and among human, animals, environment, region. He wrote in the early 1930s: “Each figure is a population and the stones—the trees the muscled mountains are the world—but not the world apart from man—the world and man—the one inseparable unit man and his environment. Why they should ever have been understood as being separate I do not know. Man is said to come out of his environment. He doesn’t know when.” Steinbeck’s vision of place is holistic: human communities and natural communities intersect.

In this course we will consider fully the biographical, textual, and social implications of Steinbeck’s ecological holism. And we will see how his social/political vision grows out of his sense of place. We will read and discuss books from the 1930s until the final decade of his life, the 1960s, considering his engagement with American issues, peoples and values. John Steinbeck represents one of California’s most resonant voices; his is also a compelling voice for America.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives (SLO)
In the Department of English and Comparative Literature, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. read closely in a variety of forms, styles, structures, and modes, and articulate the value of close reading in the study of literature, creative writing, and/or rhetoric;

2. show familiarity with major literary works, genres, periods, and critical approaches to
British, American and World Literature;

3. write clearly, effectively, and creatively, and adjust writing style appropriately to the content, the context, and the nature of the subject;

4. develop and carry out research projects, and locate, evaluate, organize, and incorporate information effectively;

5. articulate the relations among culture, history, and texts.

Classroom Protocol

Students are expected to attend each class and engage actively in discussions, to read assigned texts carefully, and to watch films with analytical sensibilities. When class begins, all students must be seated and quizzes are given to those who are on time; students arriving late will miss quizzes. Use of computers is permitted only when students are reading Steinbeck’s books electronically, and I ask that those students sit near the front. Otherwise, no computers or cell phones are allowed in class.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic calendar web page located at http://www.sjsu.edu/academic_programs/calendars/academic_calendar/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.
Assignments and Grading Policy

1. Group presentation on Steinbeck work not covered in class. 20% (SLO 1, 3,5)

Each group will select a book and set up a reading schedule. I will give you time in class for book groups. Each group will present the book to the class, linking the text to at least 4 key issues that shape your appreciation of John Steinbeck. (Clarity and originality of group presentation will constitute ½ your final grade on this project.) Each person in the group will write a 2-page essay about which issues in the book were most important to him/her, linking briefly to books read in class. The essay is due on the day of the presentation. (The essay is the other ½ of the final grade on this project.)

Once there Was a War: October 24
A Russian Journal: November 5
Sweet Thursday: November 7
Travels with Charley: December 5
Steinbeck on Vietnam: December 10

2. Reading Notebook: 50%. (SLO 1,2,3,4,5)

Four times during the semester I will collect reading notebooks. Your notebook should be typed and organized into four sections, as outlined below:

- Week of September 24: Three entries
- Week of October 24/29h: Nine entries (three original + any substantial revisions + six new)
- Week of November 19: Twelve entries (nine + revisions + three new)
- December 10: Final notebook—fourteen entries (twelve + revisions + two new)

Section I—analytical responses to reading (5 entries).

Discuss ideas and questions generated by primary material. Please comment on five different texts in two page commentaries. These entries should be focused and specific and thoughtful—not plot summaries, not general overviews, but issues in the text that puzzle or intrigue you or cause you to think in a new way. Don’t try to discuss a major character in two pages, for example, but you might consider that character’s actions in one scene. Or discuss the importance of a minor character. Or a setting. Or the ending. Or select an image that you noticed. You might focus on word choice, or sentence structure or style—or gender, race, class, ecology. Write about what interests you. But also narrow, narrow, narrow.

Please do not discuss the same scenes we covered in class discussions—thus echoing those discussions in your notebook. But come up with related ideas, perhaps, or expand an idea from discussion—comparing to other scenes, texts.
Please do not read secondary sources on Steinbeck for these entries. These analytical entries are ideas generated by the reading.

Section II—creative (2 entries)

Select a character in a text and put him/her in situation that occurs after the story. What happens to one character? Just write a scene for that character, post story.

Section III--Enrichment (6 entries)

Certainly the value of a single author course is the time to focus on one writer's career. Please examine materials in the Center for Steinbeck Studies, which is open Monday-Saturday. Include the following in this section of your notebook: 2 commentaries on secondary works on Steinbeck (see bibliography attached to syllabus); 1 commentary on book reviews for one text, contained in binders in the Center for Steinbeck Studies; 1 entry on at least 20 pp of Working Days, the Grapes journal; 1 entry on 20 pp of Steinbeck: A Life in Letters and 1 entry on 30 pp of Benson’s or Parini's biography. For these entries, please briefly summarize the part of the text you read (4-6 sentences) and then give your insights on how this material affected your reading of Steinbeck’s work.

Section IV—Hooptedoodle (at least 1) In this section add material that has increased your appreciation of Steinbeck.

-- Steinbeck films other than those shown in class—Tortilla Flat, The Grapes of Wrath and the 1939 or 1992 Of Mice and Men (in each case, entire film), Lifeboat, Viva Zapata!, East of Eden
--responses to Steinbeck's manuscripts, especially the “Long Valley Ledger”—read at least 4 of the commentaries between stories
--unpublished letters in the CSS
--film scripts/treatments for Lifeboat or Viva Zapata
--Tom Collins reports (additional material beyond reader)
--Steinbeck’s journalism—in America and Americans and Selected Nonfiction (other than ones discussed in class or in reading groups). Select at least 6 pieces to discuss.
--Steinbeck and World War II: Bomb’s Away
--Sweet Thursday music (Pipe Dream) and novel.
--The Forgotten Village and Ricketts’ “antiscript”
--Ricketts’ essays
--Ken Burns Depression series, airing in November

GRADING of ENTRIES/ REVISIONS: Please hand in polished entries. I will comment on your notebook each time you turn it in. You may revise entries to turn in the next time notebooks are due, but please remember that to revise is to rethink/rewrite the original commentary. A revision is not merely correction of a few sentences and grammatical mistakes. If you choose to revise an entry, place the revision in front of the original and mark clearly on top: REVISION OF ENTRY____ and the date of revision.
Notebooks are graded on clarity, originality, specificity (do not include long quoted passages, but refer to specific scenes in texts). Grammatical errors will lower your final grade. Throughout the semester, I will assign three grades to notebooks: check; check minus; check plus. Check indicates that your work is acceptable, but could be more insightful, include fewer grammatical errors, be longer, be more specific, etc. I will indicate suggestions in my final comments. Check plus indicates superior work. And check minus means that the work needs improvement—specificity, grammar, length, clarity, analytical insights (avoid summary). Again, I will indicate in a final comment how you can improve entries and you may revise for the next notebook due date.

Please include a Table of Contents with your final notebook, handed in December 10. That final notebook will receive a letter grade, based on earlier checks and final product. You may include photographs, drawings, additional Hooptedoodles or Enrichment entries in your final notebook—or you may add these additional materials at any time during the semester. Indicate EXTRA when writing additional entries.

3. Final exam: 20% (SLO 2,3,5)

4. Participation: 10% (SLO 1)
Quiz grades and participation in class discussions: 10%. Quizzes may be given at the beginning of class. There are no quizzes given to late arrivals and no makeup quizzes.

Department of English grading policy: The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined in the official SJSU Catalog (“The Grading System”). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance: A=excellent; B=above average; C=average; D=below average; F=failure. In this course, as in all English Department courses, I will comment on and grade the quality of writing (grammar, organization, clarity, specificity, etc.) as well as the quality of the ideas being conveyed. All student writing should be distinguished by correct grammar and punctuation, appropriate diction and syntax, and well-organized paragraphs.

University Policies:

Academic integrity

Your commitment as a student to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University’s Academic Integrity policy, located at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/S07-2.htm, requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/.

Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person’s ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include your assignment or any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU’s Academic Policy S07-2 requires approval of instructors.
Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Disability Resource Center (DRC) at http://www.drc.sjsu.edu/ to establish a record of their disability.

SCHEDULE

August

“I am writing many stories now. Because I should like to sell some of them, I am making my characters as nearly as I can in the likeness of men. The stream underneath and the meanings I am interested in can be ignored.” (LL 94) (SLO 1,2)
29: The Long Valley, “The Snake,” “The Harness,” “The Murder.” (SLO 1,2)

September

3: Labor Day: No classes.
5: The Long Valley: “Flight,” “The Vigilante,” “Johnny Bear” (SLO 1, 2,5)

10: The Long Valley: “The Red Pony” (SLO 1,2)
12: Book group (1/2 hour). “The Red Pony.” (SLO 1,2,5)

17: Tortilla Flat. First 1/2. (SLO 1)
19: Tortilla Flat. Complete. (SLO 1,5)

24: In Dubious Battle, chapters 1-5. “It has three layers. Surface story, group-psychological structure, and the philosophic conclusion arrived at, not through statement but only through structure. I guess the first is all that will be seen though and it doesn’t matter a damn.” (JS to Albee, 1934) Notebooks due. A-M, Monday and N-Z on Wed.
26: Book group (1/2 hour) In Dubious Battle, chapter 6-12.

October

1: In Dubious Battle, complete
3: Book group (1/2 hour) Of Mice and Men, chapters 1,2. Film clips.

8: Of Mice and Men, complete. Film clips. Reader: “Of Mice and Men: Steinbeck’s Speculations in Manhood.”
15: The Grapes of Wrath, 5-11 (unhomed). (SLO 1,2, 5). “Throughout I've tried to make the reader participate in the actuality, what he takes from it will be scaled entirely on his own depth or hollowness. There are 5 layers in this book, a reader will find as many as he can and he won’t find more than he has in himself.” (JS) Film clips.

17: Book group (1/2 hour). The Grapes of Wrath, 12-19 (on the road) (SLO 1,2,5) http://cornellreading.typepad.com/grapes_of_wrath/steinbeck/page/2/

24: The Grapes of Wrath, complete. Reader: “John Ford’s film unite America’s myths, truths.” Sea of Cortez introduction “For it is through struggle and sorrow that people are able to participate in one another--the heartlessness of the healthy, well-fed, and unsorrowful person has in it an infinite smugness.” (JS, Sea of Cortez.) (SLO 1,2,5) Notebooks due. N-Z on Wed 24 and A-M on Mon. 29.

29: Book group presentation #1: Once there Was a War and Steinbeck as war correspondent. The Moon is Down, first ½ (SLO 1,2,3,4,5)

19: East of Eden, Part I. Journal of a Novel. (SLO 1,2,5) “I have purged myself of the bitterness that made me suspicious of the self, the "I"; you see before you the composite of a real past (a history of limited, imaginative Hamiltons) and a fictional present (fable of Trasks). I am whole and free and know that art and life depend on the lonely, anguished, solitary effort.” Notebooks due A-M, Monday and N-Z, Wed.

21: East of Eden, Part II. Journal of a Novel (SLO 1,2,5)

26: East of Eden Part III, Journal of a Novel (SLO 1,2,5)
