Online Course Information

This is a fully online course. Our class meets via Zoom during the regularly scheduled class meetings (Tues/Thurs 3-4:15 pm.) Students will need a stable internet connection and a computer with a webcam in order to fully engage with the course.

All course materials will be posted in Canvas, SJSU's learning management system. Students are responsible for checking Canvas regularly to stay apprised of course assignments and due dates, updates to the course syllabus, and messages from the instructor.
Course Description

ENGL 70 is the third course in the lower-division literature survey sequence for English majors. The course engages principal literary works, literary history, and historical events that shape British and American literature from 1860 to the present. Students will learn about the philosophical movements, literary themes, and genres of the time period while engaging in close readings of works by selected major authors. 3 units. Normal grading rules. Prereq: ENGL 1A or equivalent.

Student Learning Outcomes

SJSU's English department has established the following Learning Objectives for all major courses:

Students will:

1. read closely in a variety of forms, styles, structures, and modes, and articulate the value of close reading in the study of literature, creative writing, or rhetoric;
2. demonstrate familiarity with major literary works, genres, periods, and critical approaches to British, American, and World literature;
3. write clearly, effectively, and creatively, and adjust writing style appropriately to the content, the context, and nature of the subject;
4. develop and carry out research projects and locate, evaluate, organize, and incorporate information effectively;
5. articulate the relations among culture, history, and text.

Required Texts

All books are available for purchase in the campus bookstore.

These texts will be supplemented with short stories and poems published on various open access websites. All supplemental readings will be housed in the Canvas course site.

Other Required Materials

For each class meeting, students are required to have the following materials at hand:

- A copy of the literary text assigned for the day
- Writing implements
- A pad of paper for taking notes, drafting responses to texts, and drawing pictures
Technology Requirements

Technology Requirements
Our section of ENGL 70 will be conducted via Zoom during our regularly scheduled class meeting times (Tues/Thurs 3-4:15pm). Students are required to have an electronic device (laptop, desktop or tablet) with a camera and built-in microphone. SJSU has a free equipment loan program available for students. Students are responsible for ensuring that they have access to reliable Wi-Fi.

Use of Camera in Class
Please turn on your camera when class is in session. Seeing your face and name will help me and other students interact with you. If you have special needs or requests for individual accommodations, please contact me via our Canvas course site messaging system or directly by email at kathleen.mcsharry@sjsu.edu.

Zoom Classroom Etiquette

- Mute your microphone: To help keep background noise to a minimum, make sure you mute your microphone when you are not speaking.
- Be mindful of background noise and distractions: Find a quiet place to “attend” class, to the greatest extent possible.
  - Avoid video setups where people may be walking behind you, talking or making noise, etc.
  - Avoid activities that could create additional noise, such as shuffling papers, listening to music in the background, etc.
- Position your camera properly: Be sure your webcam is in a stable position and focused at eye level.
- Limit distractions and avoid multitasking: You can make it easier to focus on the meeting by turning off notifications, closing or minimizing running apps, and putting your smartphone away (unless you are using it to access Zoom).
- Use appropriate backgrounds: If you use a virtual background, it should be appropriate and professional.

Recording of Zoom Classes
I will record all of our class meetings. These recordings will be posted on our Canvas course site no later than the day after the given class session. Reviewing our class meetings via these recordings will enhance your learning. If you must miss one of our class sessions, the recording will provide you with an easy way to see what we discussed. Bear in mind that assignments that students complete in class will be turned in at the end of the given class session. I do not accept late submissions of in-class work.
Policy on late work

If you are experiencing trouble staying current with our course, please let me know as soon as possible. By notifying me promptly of any difficulties, you enable me to work with you to develop a plan for getting back on track. I will not accept late work unless advance arrangements are made. Extra credit is not an option in this course.

Help with writing

All students are encouraged to make use of SJSU’s Writing Center, which employs undergraduate students who have been trained to help students improve their writing. Peer tutors in the Writing Center can help with any stage of the writing process, from brainstorming to drafting, revising, and finishing formal paper assignments.

Library Liaison

Associate Librarian Peggy Cabrera is the English department library liaison at SJSU. Professor Cabrera can assist you with research questions for any of your English classes at SJSU.

University Policies

Credit Hour Requirement

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities.

Culminating Activity Requirement

Faculty members are required to have a culminating activity for their courses, which in our case will be an in-class final exam at the time scheduled by the Registrar.

University policies relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity and learning accommodations, are available on the website of the Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/ (Links to an external site.).
Course Requirements and Assignments

Course assignments include required readings; attendance at and report on one author talk; papers in various stages of drafting and revising, along with ancillary steps for each writing assignment; active and regular participation in class meetings; and a final exam. Unless otherwise indicated, assignments must be submitted via Canvas.

Class Participation (20% of course grade)

The success of our course rests on everyone's active participation in our class. Students are expected to be online for each class meeting no later than 3pm, equipped with the required text for the day and the required materials for the course (writing implements, paper for taking notes, writing, and drawing)

Many class meetings will include active learning assignments that promote student engagement with literary texts and with one another. Some of these assignments will be submitted at the end of the class period, while others will serve as a starting point for homework assignments. Assignments that are submitted at the end of a class period cannot be made up.

In addition, each student will be assigned a class meeting day in which they assist with course delivery. On your assigned day, you will monitor our waiting room and our chat box, alerting me to any issues that arise and generally just helping the class run smoothly.

Formal writing assignments (60% of course grade)

Students will write two out-of-class papers of literary analysis (1500 words each, excluding preliminary assignments). Classroom activities and homework assignments are designed to create strong foundations for each of these assignments. Students will be required to complete a multi-stage drafting process. Peer review workshops are an essential aspect of the writing process; as such, all papers must have been peer reviewed by students in our class. The two formal assignments themselves must be typed in Word according to current Modern Language Association standards for format and parenthetical documentation.

Final Exam (20% of course grade)

The final exam will consist of excerpts from the assigned texts. Students will be required to identify the title and author of all excerpts and write analyses on four of them. Each response will be graded on the extent to which students 1) closely analyze the text, 2) discuss how literary devices contribute to the meaning of the passage, and 3) how the passage relates to the text’s larger concerns. All passages will be selected from those discussed in class.
Grading Information

Class Participation Expectations

Our class constitutes a community of readers and writers who work together to develop their understanding of literature and to produce coherent and compelling papers of literary analysis. At least once a week, students will complete assignments in or out of class that they will hand in at the end of the appropriate class meeting period. Students will also read one another’s writing in class and give constructive, helpful feedback to their peers. In-class assignments cannot be made up.

Students are expected to be in the classroom and ready to contribute at 3 p.m. for every class meeting. Regular, timely attendance, along with a clear engagement with the learning opportunities in class, contributes to a positive environment for everyone’s learning.

Your class participation will be assessed as follows:

A: Regular, helpful questions and comments that demonstrate full preparation for class meetings. Active, positive participation in all classroom discussions and activities. Conformity to all course policies as stated in this syllabus.

B: Occasional, pertinent questions and responses; good listening. Conformity to all course policies as stated in this syllabus.

C: Infrequent, tangential questions or comments; attentive. Conformity to all course policies as stated in this syllabus.

D: Inconsistent conformity to policies stated in this syllabus; disengaged from discussion; not prepared for class.

F: Regularly absent, physically or mentally; failure to contribute meaningfully to the classroom’s learning community; repeated violations of classroom policies.

Students are STRONGLY ENCOURAGED to review the course calendar in light of their other commitments. The instructor will determine on a case-by-case basis whether or not an out-of-class commitment merits special consideration.

Grading Standards for Papers and Exams

English 70 is an A-F course that conforms to the grading scale defined in the University’s official Catalog. In addition to the standard grades of A, B, C, etc., plus (+) and minus (-) grades will be used in evaluating assignments. Work that is assigned a + or – along with a letter grade is somewhat better than or somewhat weaker than the criteria in the standards of achievement described below.
Grading Standards for Papers and Exams

The standards of achievement described below give a general idea of the criteria applied when assessing students’ written work. Detailed rubrics for papers and exams will be provided in class.

• The “A” essay will engage in close readings of literary texts. The essay will be well organized and well developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the task. It will contain original ideas expressed in sentences distinguished by syntactic complexity and variety. Such essays will follow Modern Language Association formatting guidelines and be essentially free of grammatical, mechanical, and usage errors.

• The “B” essay will demonstrate competence in the same categories as the “A.” The chief difference is that the “B” essay will show some slight weakness in one of those categories. It may slight one of the assigned tasks, show less facility of expression, or contain some minor grammatical, mechanical, or usage flaws.

• The “C” essay will complete all tasks set by the assignment, but show weaknesses in fundamentals, usually development, with barely enough specific information to illustrate or support claims. The sentence construction may be less mature, and the use of language less effective and correct than the “B” paper.

• The “D” essay will neglect one of the assigned tasks and be noticeably superficial in its treatment of the assignment. The essay may reveal some problems in development, with insufficient specific information to illustrate or support it. It will contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that are serious and/or frequent enough to interfere substantially with the writer’s ability to communicate.

• The “F” essay will demonstrate a striking underdevelopment of ideas and insufficient or unfocused organization. It will contain serious grammatical, mechanical, and usage errors that render some sentences incomprehensible.
