Course Description

Introduces students to the world's regions and civilizations as interconnected entities. HIST 1A examines the growth and development of traditional civilizations to 1500. HIST 1B surveys the transformation of civilizations since 1500.

In this course, we will explore world history from its very beginnings to the eve of the modern era. Among questions we'll consider along the way: Why do humans come up with such a variety of ways of organizing themselves, and what patterns can we find across time and space? What have civilizations given us, and at what price? How do we interpret the very different ways and values of the distant past? What can we learn from the origins of the ties that bind us, and from old answers to eternal questions about how we should live our lives?

We will approach these questions by examining closely and comparing and contrasting how humans have shaped and been shaped by value systems, economic structures, political institutions, social groups and natural environments. We will be particularly attentive to what changes and what remains the same; what roles humans have played in changing or perpetuating the status quo; and what holds social groups together and what drives them apart.

The course will involve significant student involvement in every class meeting. Issues will often be framed by a brief lecture at the beginning of class, but class time will be primarily devoted to grappling with key historical questions, whether through in-depth analysis of primary sources, or weighing the evidence presented in the textbook and elsewhere.

This class will be taught remotely, synchronously. That means that we will meet via Zoom at the scheduled class time. You are expected to participate in this class as you would if we were meeting face-to-face. During class, I will introduce material and students will participate in active discussion and analysis of the material.

IF YOU HAVE ANY TECHNOLOGICAL ISSUES (FOR EXAMPLE, NO MIC) PLEASE LET ME KNOW AND WE'LL FIGURE OUT A WORK AROUND (FOR EXAMPLE, CONTRIBUTING VIA THE ZOOM CHAT AND BORROWING EQUIPMENT FOR GROUP PROJECT PRESENTATIONS). SJSU has a free equipment loan program (<https://www.sjsu.edu/learnanywhere/equipment/index.php>) available for students.

Course Requirements and Assignments

- 1) ONLINE CHAPTER QUIZZES DUE BY 1:00PM ON THE DAY OF THE ASSIGNED READING (10% of grade): 12 online quizzes, 10 questions each, covering each of the chapters assigned in The Ways of The World, available at our course website. These quizzes require you to identify major trends in World History until 1500 (CLO 1).

The quizzes are open-book. You may use your book and notes, but you can't consult with other students. You'll have 20 minutes to complete the quiz, thus I suggest you read the whole chapter carefully before starting the quiz. Each quiz will be available 10 days before the reading is due, and must be completed by 1:00PM on the day it is due. If you have questions about the correct answers for individual questions, make note of them. I'll be happy to answer such questions after the quiz is due.

Note: You cannot make up a quiz; but the two lowest scores are dropped.

- 2) TAKE-HOME MIDTERM EXAMS, DUE ON CANVAS AT 2:45 PM ON OCTOBER 7 (20% of grade) AND NOVEMBER 16 (20% of grade): Each midterm will consist of three sections: 1) quotes from primary sources, on which you will write short essays that analyze critically a range of sources, reflecting different time periods, cultures, genres, and motivations (CLO 3) and identify the dynamics of ethnic, cultural, gender/sexual, agebased, class, regional, national, transnational, and global identities and the similarities, differences, linkages, and interactions between them (GELO 2) ; 2) terms from "What's the Significance?" section at the end of each chapter on which you will write short essays to identify major trends in World History until 1500 (CLO 1); and 3) a longer essay in which you compare and contrast two or more ethnic groups, cultures, regions, nations, or social systems (GELO 4) and assess critically the legacies that pre-modern civilizations have left in the modern world (CLO 2). More details are provided on Canvas.
- 3) TAKE-HOME FINAL EXAM: DUE TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15 AT 2:30PM ON CANVAS (5% of grade): One essay question in which you will synthesize the first and second halves of the semester in order to place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental, and spatial contexts (GELO 1). Details will be provided before the final exam.

4) INDIVIDUAL ESSAY: DUE SUNDAY, DECEMBER 13 AT 5:00PM, (minimum 1250 words) (20% of grade) (submit online through Canvas): For this essay, students will explore one key issue in world history across various time periods and regions (the issue on which they did their group project). Students will analyze critically a range of sources, reflecting different time periods, cultures, genres, and motivations (CLO 3) in order to evaluate social science information, draw on different points of view, and formulate applications appropriate to contemporary social issues (GELO 3). Specific requirements for the essay will be posted on Canvas and discussed in advance.

5) CLASS PARTICIPATION INCLUDING DOCUMENT INVESTIGATIONS AND GROUP PROJECT (25% of grade):

- You should come to class having done the assigned reading.

For the textbook: As you read, take note especially on the terms listed under "What's the Significance?" at the end of each chapter. For each term, note what you consider to be key defining features and the historical significance(s). Don't just transcribe the views of the textbook. Instead think about what you find to be the most interesting features and explore why you think it is important (in terms of patterns? short term effects? Long term repercussions?) We'll be discussing these in class, and you'll also share your views in your exams.

- Document Investigations DUE ON CANVAS AT 1:00PM on days we read primary sources, in which you will analyze critically a range of sources, reflecting different time periods, cultures, genres, and motivations (CLO 3), in order to evaluate social science information, draw on different points of view, and formulate applications appropriate to contemporary social issues (GELO 3)
 - Consists of typed, for each document: 1) author, title and date of document; 2) at least one paragraph responding to each assigned reading question. A thoughtful answer will contain evidence, analysis of the evidence and your own interpretation of the significance of what you've shown in relation to the questions being asked. I'll grade one document investigation early in the semester to give you feedback, and also at least once more during the semester. Think of these as functioning like pop quizzes, as well as giving you feedback. Because the document investigations require you to interpret documents, you will be graded on thoughtfulness and effort, as well as accuracy. NOTE: While you can quote the document you are analyzing, the analysis itself must be in your own words. Your grade on the document investigations will be incorporated into your grade in participation.
 - Part of participation is turning in these investigations on time. However, if you turn them in late, you can get partial credit.
 - At the end of the semester, I will review all of your document investigations in determining your grade in participation.
- Group Project: In conjunction with your individual essay, you will prepare an oral presentation on the same topic. The project will require you to place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental, and spatial contexts (GELO 1) while you assess critically the legacies that pre-modern civilizations have left in the modern world (CLO 2).

- The oral presentation will be a group project that will involve substantial work in preparation. You will be expected to work with the members of your group during class time and communicate with them outside of class to ensure that your group is prepared for your presentation on November 30. You will be assessed not only on the final product but also on the process by which you got there. Specific requirements will be made available and discussed well ahead of time.

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”

Final Examination or Evaluation

- 6) TAKE-HOME FINAL EXAM: DUE TUESDAY, DECEMBER 15 AT 2:30PM ON CANVAS (5% of grade): One essay question in which you will synthesize the first and second halves of the semester in order to place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental, and spatial contexts (GELO 1). Details will be provided before the final exam.

Grading Information

Assessment

Central to the study of World History is the ability to use methods of the historian to identify, analyze and compare different historical perspectives and systems. Students will be assessed on their mastery of basic information from the textbook through chapter quizzes. A portion of the class grade will be based on thoughtful analysis of a variety of historical sources, which will be assessed through in-class exercises and a long-term project. Students will also be expected to identify, synthesize and compare key phenomena in their essay and exams.
