

Historic Inn seeks Hospitality Intern Summer 2015

Klamath, CA--- Located in the heart of the Redwood National Park in northwest California, the Historic Requa Inn is an award-winning, 13 room, 100 year old, bed and breakfast.

We are looking of up to two interns for the summer 2015 season (flexible May-September) to join this family owned and operated business.

Our Values

The Historic Requa Inn is located on the Yurok Indian reservation and owned by Tribal members whose family has lived at the village of Requa since the beginning of time. Requa is the most special place in the world to us and we want all of our guests to leave feeling renewed and refreshed, having connected with the majestic Redwood trees, the mighty Klamath River and the beautiful Pacific Ocean beaches.

Our values reflect this belief:

- Exceptional hospitality
- Environmental sustainability
- Support of local business including artisans and food producers

The Internship Position

We seek someone with a passion for the hospitality industry to join us for the busy summer season in a general hospitality guest services role.

Responsibilities would include:

- Front desk: Guest services for check-in and/or check-out processes; guest relations for phone or in person inquiries
- Event management support: Providing event management logistical and guest service support for group events and dinner service
- Food Services support: guest services, supporting breakfast and dinner service
- Guest marketing and outreach: Could include social media or website development, internal guest communications, marketing materials and strategies etc.

Depending on the skill level and interest of the Intern, there could be opportunities for experience in staff or shift management, increased responsibility for event management or spearheading special projects in areas of interest to the intern.

Our Ideal Team member

We seek people who shares our values and exhibit:

- High motivation, self-starter and responsibility
- Personable, with exceptional customer service skills
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Ability to manage fast-paced environment and competing demands

- A positive problem solver
- Love for the outdoors and natural environment
- Cultural competency

Compensation

- Course credit: We will work with your college or university to ensure that you receive course credit for your work experience, as appropriate.
- Pay: Minimum wage
- Accommodation and some meals may be available.
