Why Study Philosophy at San José State University?

Vibrant curriculum taught by faculty of nationally and internationally recognized scholars.

Constructive engagement between philosophical traditions and styles not usualy found in the same department, including:

- PHIL 104 (Asian Philosophy)
- PHIL 106 (Philosophy of Art)
- PHIL 108 (Political & Social Philosophy)
- PHIL 109 (Philosophy of Religion)
- PHIL 112 (American Philosophy)
- PHIL 113 (Existentialism & Phenomenology)
- PHIL 118 (Latin American Philosophy)
- PHIL 119 (Africana Philosophy & Culture)
- PHIL 120 (Comparative Philosophy: Theory & Practice)
- PHIL 121 (Philosophy & Feminism)
- PHIL 149 (Metaphysics & Epistemology)
- PHIL 157 (Intermediate Logic)
- PHIL 158 (Philosophy of Language)
- PHIL 159 (Philosophy of Mind)

Philosophical foundations and implications of science, technology, and medicine:

- PHIL 110 (Science, Technology & Human Values)
- PHIL 111 (Medical Ethics)
- PHIL 126 (Environmental Ethics & Philosophy)
- PHIL 133 (Ethics in Science)
- PHIL 134 (Computers, Ethics & Society)
- PHIL 160 (Philosophy of Science)

Excellent prelaw advising and coursework, including PHIL 132 (Ethical Theory), PHIL 155 (Philosophy of Law), and PHIL 195 (Seminar in the Philosophy of Law).

Flexible major requirements. The Philosophy BA at SJSU includes enough elective units to enable students to pursue one or two minors, or a second major, to enhance their educational experience and advance their career goals.

Opportunities for student involvement, including our award-winning intercollegiate Ethics Bowl and Bioethics Bowl teams, Philosophy Club, Geist: a student journal of philosophy, employment as a tutor in the Philosophy Center, and more.

Placement. Our graduates have gone on to Philosophy Ph.D. programs at UC-Davis, UC-Santa Cruz, University of Oregon, University of New Mexico, Texas A&M, University of Wisconsin, University of Minnesota, University of South Florida, University of Rochester, University of Connecticut, University of Edinburgh, and St. Andrew’s University (to name just a few), and to Law School at Santa Clara University, UCLA, University of Texas, University of Georgia, and University of Miami, among others.

FOR MORE INFORMATION
www.sjsu.edu/philosophy