Course Description

This course examines abusive relationships, community response, justice system policy and preventive interventions. Topics include child abuse and neglect, gangs, hate crimes, rape, marital violence and elder & dependent adult abuse.

Area S: "courses to meet areas R, S, and V of SJS Studies must be taken from 3 different dept or distinct academic units."

GE Student Learning Objectives

After successfully completing the course, students shall be able to:

1. describe how identities (i.e. religious, gender, ethnic, racial, class, sexual orientation, disability, and/or age) are shaped by cultural and societal influences within contexts of equality and inequality; (course learning objectives 1 and 3)
2. describe historical, social, political, and economic processes producing diversity, equality, and structured inequalities in the U.S.; (Course learning objective 2)
3. describe social actions which have led to greater equality and social justice in the U.S. (i.e. religious, gender, ethnic, racial, class, sexual orientation, disability, and/or age).; and (course learning objectives 4 and 5)
4. recognize and appreciate constructive interactions between people from different cultural, racial, and ethnic groups within the U.S. (Course learning objectives 5 and 6)

The Course Learning Objectives are for students to:

1. define and differentiate the abuse of power and the use of violence based upon gender, ethnicity, race, religion, class, sexual orientation, disability and age
2. identify how historical, social, psychological, economic and political factors have influenced the recognition of and response to each type of abusive relationship,
3. review current knowledge about the consequences of violence and effects on victims from diverse backgrounds,
4. develop self-awareness about their own prejudicial attitudes and behaviors that tolerate and promote abusive relationships,
5. explore and evaluate ways that individuals from diverse backgrounds and communities can prevent and intervene in each type of abusive and violent relationship,
6. Critique the current justice system response and propose ways in which greater equality and justice can be achieved in each type of abusive relationship. This involves reviewing:
 - (a) statutory laws,
 - (b) role of law enforcement,
 - (c) proceedings within criminal, family and juvenile courts

* Preferred contact number. I never check a university voicemail.

JS 136 (1)

Violence And Hate In The Family & Community

- (d) auxiliary services offered by child protective, victim's advocates and family court agencies

Two writing assignments require students to demonstrate their understanding of the course learning objectives 1-6 as stated above. Other experiences that develop mastery of the objectives include small group discussions and exercises analyzing case vignettes, mock trials, documentary film reviews, class debates and observations in dependency, family and criminal courts.

Course Content:

The course is divided into five parts that range over the life span of individuals in diverse socioeconomic, ethnic and racial communities:

- infant and child neglect and psychological maltreatment, physical and sexual abuse
- neighborhood gang violence and hate crimes motivated by religious, racial and sexual orientation discrimination and prejudice during adolescence and young adulthood;
- date rape and sexual violence between intimate partners;
- violence, stalking and psychological terrorizing in dating, cohabiting and marital partnerships;
- Abuse of the elderly and handicapped in the family and care institutions.

Recurring themes are social discrimination on the basis of gender, religious, racial and ethnic background, socioeconomic status, disability, age and sexual orientation. The dynamics of power and control in relationships and the social and historical processes and institutions that legitimize the abuse of power provides the basic framework for the analysis of all violence and abuse. An understanding of how infant and child development is compromised by witnessing abuse and being the objects of abuse provides a complementary developmental understanding (or mechanism) to help explain the intergenerational cycle of abusive relationships. A further theme is the development of civic responsibility in individuals and groups to recognize and respond effectively to violence in diverse communities and the development of awareness of attitudes and beliefs that support and/or hinder social action.

Prerequisites. Students should have passed the Writing Skills Test (WST), have upper division standing (56 units), and have completed their CORE GE classes. For students enrolled after January 2005, students are required to have completed or be co-enrolled in 100W. Completion of 100W is recommended.

Course Add/Drop Statement

Instructors are permitted to drop students who fail to attend the first scheduled class meeting and who fail to inform the instructor prior to the second class meeting of the reason for any absence and their intention to continue in the class. Some instructors will drop students who do not meet the stated course prerequisites. However, instructors are not required to drop a student from their course. It is the student's responsibility to make sure classes are dropped.

You, the student, are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drops, academic renewal, withdrawal, etc. found at: http://sa.sjsu.edu/student_conduct Course Requirements and Grading:

Papers

Two take-home written assignments are required during the semester. Each assignment involves library and internet research and writing a six to ten page paper and analysis based on the information covered in the course. The first paper requires students to view a movie or read a book about child maltreatment and write a 6-10 page paper using the story as a case study. The second paper requires researching a current controversy in family violence, presenting both sides of the issue and taking an informed position. See assignment page for details. Papers are graded on a 50 point rubric (provided). Please note the due date. Late papers will be docked 4 points for the first day late and 1 point for each day after.

Students are expected to participate in small-group discussions (during class time) on social policy issues, including an in-class mock hearing/trial and may be asked to give a brief oral report to the class. Ungraded, writing exercises will also be included in class after viewing video segments from documentary films or as part of small group discussions.

Exams

A mid-term and a final exam will be given and will consist of a combination of multiple choice, true/false, and short answer/essay questions. Exams will cover content from assigned readings and lecture material. Each exam will make up 30% of the student's grade, and each paper, 20%. (A grading scale is included to reflect the academic standards for each grade.)

Extra Credit

Extra credit opportunities are available to those students who have completed all other course requirements including both exams and both papers. Students can improve their grade up to a half letter grade by completing ONE of the following:

- ✚ Attending a hearing in juvenile dependency court
- ✚ Attending court proceedings in cases of intimate partner violence in Family or Criminal Courts
- ✚ Participation in approved University programs relating to topics covered in the course.

A sign-up sheet for court observations will be available through the instructor. A letter of introduction will be provided to those students wishing to observe court proceedings and course of conduct will be discussed. Notify the instructor if interested.

Students will summarize in a three page paper how the observation or experience increased their awareness of concepts learned in the course. Students should apply and illustrate concepts learned in the course. Students may wish to use the course objectives as a guide for content.

Papers must be submitted by the midterm for dependency court observations and on or before the last day of class for experiences pertaining to post-midterm topics.

Teaching Philosophy

This class combines reading, lectures and video segments to present the conceptual material. Regular in-class discussions and group exercises are used for students to critique the readings, lectures, videos and data presented on rates of incidence and prevalence of violence. These small group activities and individually written assignments, in class and through outside assignments, also enable students to examine their own attitudes, and cultural and family beliefs about abusive relationships. The focus of the in-class discussions is on engaging in dialogue about critical issues and developing practical, creative and effective community and justice system responses for preventing and intervening in violence that are respectful of diverse perspectives and achieves greater justice and equality.

JS 136 (1)

Violence And Hate In The Family & Community

In accord with departmental policy, make-up exams and acceptance of late reports after the due date will be provided only in extreme cases and only where appropriate documentation is provided. Make-ups for exams will be done on the make-up day of final's week.

Warning: The material covered in class is not hypothetical and reflects experiences shared by many individuals including individuals enrolled in the course. It is not unusual for students to have experienced some of the abuses discussed. These personal associations may bring up strong feelings for students. If you feel the material is bringing up issues for you that are affecting your ability to be successful in the course, please take advantage of the University counseling center and/or see the instructor.

Due to the nature of the course, the instructor asks that students not bring children to class. The topics and audio-visuals used in class are not intended for children.

Academic Integrity Statement:

Academic integrity is essential to the mission of San José State University. As such, students are expected to perform their own work (except when collaboration is expressly permitted by the course instructor) without the use of any outside resources. Students are not permitted to use old tests, quizzes when preparing for exams, nor may they consult with students who have already taken the exam. When practiced, academic integrity ensures that all students are fairly graded. Violations to the Academic Integrity Policy undermine the educational process and will not be tolerated. It also demonstrates a lack of respect for oneself, fellow students and the course instructor and can ruin the university's reputation and the value of the degrees it offers. We all share the obligation to maintain an environment which practices academic integrity. Violators of the Academic Integrity Policy will be subject to failing this course and being reported to the Office of Student Conduct & Ethical Development for disciplinary action which could result in suspension or expulsion from San José State University. The policy on academic integrity can be found at: http://sa.sjsu.edu/student_conduct

To better understand plagiarism and to aid you in making sure that you are not plagiarizing, please visit: <http://tutorials.sjlibrary.org/plagiarism/index.htm>

In accordance with University policy this course strives to uphold academic honesty. Page 40 of the University catalogue clearly details University policies regarding cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes copying, submitting work previously graded in another course or submitting work simultaneously in two courses (unless otherwise approved), altering or interfering with grades, and use of surrogates for examinations. Plagiarism involves "representing the work of another as one's own without appropriate credit." (S98-1, p2). If a student is suspected of academic dishonesty, the student will be instructed to meet for a mandatory conference with the instructor. Further academic and administrative sanctions will be considered based on the infraction. Academic honesty is taken very seriously and any violations of university policy will not be tolerated.

American with Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with DRC to establish a record of their disability.

Academic Standards

- A+ grades are received by students who receive full credit for 95% of the objective questions on the examinations, and whose analytical written work are exceptional, providing evidence of conceptual skills and depth of analysis beyond what the instructor has provided to the class.
- A grades are received by students who have 90% correct answers on the objective exam questions and whose written work is excellent, mastering the depth of analysis of what the instructor has provided to the class.
- An A- grade is warranted for those with 85% correct answers on the objective exams and where written work is generally excellent, but might have one area of weakness.
- B + grades are for those with 80% correct answers on objective exams, and where written work is very good but is either weak in one or two areas or tends to be too general, lacking specificity.
- B grades are for those with 75% correct answers on the objective exams, and the written work is good but has two-three points of weakness, or lacks depth or specificity.
- B- grades are for those with 70% correct answers on objective tests, and written work has three-four weaknesses or lacks depth/specificity.
- C+ grades are for 65% correct answers on objective tests, and written work has two-three errors and lacks depth, specificity and clarity.
- C grades are for 60% correct answers on objective tests, and written work that is flawed with four or more errors and lacks depth, specificity, and clarity.
- C- grades are for 55% correct answers and written work that is sufficient to pass the course but is flawed by basic misunderstandings of the material and gaps in knowledge.
- D+ (50% correct answers), D (45% correct answers) and D- (40% correct answers), and written assignments that are completed but flawed by numerous errors and gaps in knowledge.
- F is given to students that do not complete examinations or the written assignments, who receive less than 45% on the objective exams, and who pass in written work, that shows little or no knowledge gleaned from lectures or readings, or show no attempt to correctly address the questions in the assignments.

JS136: WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS AND SEMESTER PROJECTS.

Papers will be assessed for grammar, clarity, conciseness, coherence and effective use of references. Please note previous reference to University policy for academic honesty. Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Students must submit a hard copy to the instructor and submit papers electronically to turnitin.com on or before the due date. Be sure to submit only final drafts to turnitin.com. Late papers will be docked points for each day they are late, including weekends. Read each assignment carefully and address each of the required areas. Grading rubrics are provided below and on webct.

ASSIGNMENT No 1: CHILD ABUSE

Current Controversy Paper:

Due Date: Wednesday, February 27, 2008

(Late papers will be docked points for each day late. See Course Requirements in Greensheet)

Write a 6-10 page paper on a child maltreatment controversy:

Is spanking a form of maltreatment?

Define the two sides of the debate: the affirmative that spanking is a form of child maltreatment and the negative that it is not a form of maltreatment. You must present both sides of the argument and support your assertions.

Research the two sides; submit at least three articles to your instructor for prior approval. This will ensure that you are using appropriate sources. You will need to use at least four scholarly references for your paper. Books or articles are acceptable. Sources should be published 2002 or later.

To begin, provide an overview of the issue that you are researching including definitions and providing general findings from the literature. Provide a clear overview and thesis statement for your paper.

Using references from your literature search describe each position thoroughly and provide supporting data from scholarly articles as evidence for each position. Include data on the effects of corporal punishment on the child from the two different positions. (Objective 3)

After you have provided this data, provide an analysis of your findings and draw your own conclusions clearly stating what you believe based on the evidence you have presented. Take a position on the issue of whether or not spanking is a form of maltreatment.

In addition, choose two additional topics from the list below to elaborate on the issue. Provide a conclusion drawing on the information provided.

You will be graded for effective use of references and clarity of your writing in presenting the two sides of the argument and using the information provided to draw thoughtful conclusions. The grading rubric is provided below.

Additional areas of discussion: (Choose 2 of the following)

JS 136 (1)

Violence And Hate In The Family & Community

- Discuss how corporal punishment may relate to or teach the use or misuse of power in the family (Objective 1)
- Cultural perspectives on the issue of spanking. How does culture influence the decision to use corporal punishment (Obj 4)

Papers will be graded for clarity and empirical support of ideas based on the literature. a. give an overview of the issue and state the thesis of your paper. b-e. Outline your thoughts and supporting evidence before beginning so that your ideas are well organized.

B and e require a concise statement of the position that will set the stage for the presentation of your evidence.

f. present your position on the issues based on the evidence and data that you have presented in the previous sections. \

g. provide thoughtful discussion about how plays into this issue.

h. Provide ideas about how cultural beliefs and perspectives might influence this issue

i. Be sure your references are scholarly articles or publications and are properly cited using APA format. Be sure to include a bibliography page.

j. be sure to proof-read your paper. Use peer review to catch writing and clarity mistakes.

Points	Paper includes:
5	a. Overview of the controversy and Thesis statement for the paper
2	b. Affirmative position statement
8	c. Data provided clearly supports the position
2	d. Negative position statement
8	e. Data provided clearly supports position 2
5	f. Personal position based on evidence and information provided
5	g. Special discussion topic: Power
5	h. Special discussion topic: Culture
5	i. Effective use of references, clear citations, bibliography of at least 4 sources provided
5	j. Clearly written, proof-read for typos, assessment of grammar, clarity, conciseness and coherence

ASSIGNMENT No 2: Intimate Partner Violence
Book or Movie as Case Study
Due Date: Monday, April 28, 2008

(Late papers will be docked points for each day late. See Course Requirements in Greensheet)

Choose from one of the following books or movies about Intimate Partner Violence:

Films: Enough; Sleeping with the Enemy; What's Love Got To Do With It; If Someone Had Known (1995)

Be sure that you focus on examples of Intimate partner violence in the film and use them to illustrate the concepts and required topic areas.

Books: "The Woman Who Walked into Doors" by Roddy Doyle. "Black and Blue"

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING ASSIGNMENT:

The total length of each paper should be six (not to exceed 10 pgs) double-spaced typed pages (12 font). It should address each of the items (a - i) below in essay form. Include definitions, concepts and theories that support your assertions and at least 3 references, one of which can be a course text. Be sure your references are scholarly articles or publications and are properly cited using APA format. Be sure to include a bibliography page.

Address each of the following for a total of 50 (see grading rubric below):

- a) Write a brief synopsis of the case(s) that were reported in the book or movie. Do not simply retell the story. Provide a frame for addressing the remaining topics. (about ½ to one page).
- b) Identify the specific forms of intimate partner violence portrayed. Use definitions and models to support your examples. (about one page)
- c) Suggest what historical, social or political factors influenced the recognition of this type of family violence. These factors may have occurred after the setting of the movie. Present clearly the time perspective. Include citations. (about one page)
- d) Discuss the precursors, correlates or causal factors that you consider to be associated with or contribute to the abuse and the relevant theories that help explain this type of abuse. If you have insufficient information about the family, suggest the kind of information you would gather that would address this question. Cite sources that support your assertions. (about 1 pages)
- e) Discuss the effects of the violence on the victim or victims and the victim's response and accommodation to the abuse. Refer to specific examples.
- f) Discuss the background of the family, cultural and social factors that contributed to keeping the abuse hidden from the scrutiny of the justice system and/or the community?
- g) Discuss the response of different parts of the justice system to each type of violence described (i.e. the actions of police, DA, judges, attorney for defendant or for child etc.). If there was not justice system response, what hindered the response? What should the response have been? What were the conditions at the time of the story? How have they changed and what would the response be today based on current response systems. (about 1 pages)

Violence And Hate In The Family & Community

- ✚ How effective were the actions of the justice system?
 - ✚ What could have been done differently?
- h) What kinds of legal and community interventions and services are available today that may have helped this family address and eliminate the abuse? (about 1 pages)
- i) Discuss past and present attitudes and/or cultural beliefs that have inhibited acknowledgment of and/or intervention in this form of violence. Discuss personal beliefs that may affect your own acknowledgement of this violence or abuse.
