COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Theories of Crime & Delinquency deal with the analysis of the nature and extent of crime, including causation and prevention. Descriptions of offenses, criminal typologies, and victim surveys; as well as evaluation of various prevention and control strategies are discussed.

The financial and human costs of crime are staggering. Crime and criminality rank as one of the top issues on the list of individuals' concerns.

This course is designed to explore the nature of crime, criminality and delinquency. In order to do so, we must first understand how crime is "officially" defined and the workings of the criminal justice system relative to that definition. We must also understand the extent of crime (which is not an easy thing to do!) We will discuss various ways of measuring crime and how that may color our definitions. Our study of the nature and extent of crime, will be guided by discussions of various types of crime.

The majority of the class lectures and discussions will focus on various theoretical explanations of crime and criminality. We will discuss psychobiological, socio-economic, and socio-cultural perspectives in criminology.

OBJECTIVES:

1. To examine socio-cultural, moral and legal definitions of various acts as criminal.
2. To understand the extent of crime.
3. To identify the ways of measuring crime.
4. To analyze various theoretical explanations of crime and criminality.
5. To review the workings of the criminal justice system.

REQUIRED READING:

Conklin, John E. (2010) Criminology (10th ed.) Upper Saddle River, NJ: Prentice Hall.
Callahan, David (2004) The Cheating Culture. Orlando, FL: Hartcort
Griender, William (2009) Come Home America: The Rise And Fall (And Redeeming Promise) of Our Country. New York, N.Y.: Rodale.

The books are available at the Spartan as well as Robert's bookstores. Other readings may be assigned to supplement the text. These will be placed on the website or given to the student in class. Students are also expected to read a daily newspaper such as, The Los Angeles Times, The San Francisco Chronicle, The New York Times or The San Jose Mercury News. Watching national/international news such as PBS Newshour or CreaTV (Democracy Now) and/or The BBC, C-SPAN, CNN is encouraged; they all have websites and provide a more in-depth approach. Watching C-SPAN provides a view of the workings and interrelationships between business and government. Bill Moyer's Journal is an excellent program that deals with many issues discussed in class. STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO CONTRIBUTE TO CLASS DISCUSSION REGARDING RELEVANT CURRENT EVENTS AND ISSUES.
