COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Corrections and Society is an interdisciplinary examination of issues of race, class, gender, ethnicity and culture as it relates to punishment, the penal process and social control. We will study corrections from the 1800's to the present. Significant studies relating to the role of corrections, methods of community treatment, and analysis of correctional models & practices will be covered. Prerequisite: Upper division standing.

OBJECTIVES:

1. To briefly review the history and philosophy of punishment and the development of corrections in the United States.
2. To discuss corrections as a component of the criminal justice system and its interrelation to law enforcement and courts.
3. To examine the correctional alternatives available.
4. To examine the administration of correctional agencies.
5. Emphasize issues in correctional institutions for males and females as well as for juveniles.
6. To briefly take a cross-cultural view of corrections.

REQUIRED READING:

Shelton, Richard. (2007) Crossing the Yard. Tucson: University of Arizona Press.

Harris, Kamala. (2010) Smart on Crime. San Francisco, CA: Chronicle Books.

Books are available at the Spartan bookstore and Roberts. Other readings may be assigned to supplement the text. These will be placed on my website or made available to the student in class. There is a book companion website for the text with reviews for every chapter. An additional reading list is also available for those who are interested in additional readings in corrections.

Students are also expected to keep up with recent developments in corrections by reading a daily newspaper such as The Los Angeles Times, The San Francisco Chronicle, The New York Times or the San Jose Mercury News. Watching national/international news such as PBS The News Hour, CreaTV (Democracy Now) and/or BBC, CSPAN, CNN. These programs give a more in-depth approach. All have websites as well. You are encouraged to contribute to class discussion regarding current issues in corrections. Each student is required to conference with the instructor, at least once during the course of the semester. This is a minimum requirement. I would like to see students on a regular basis - my door is always open to you, don't hesitate to come by. PLEASE COME FOR AN INITIAL CONFERENCE EARLY IN THE SEMESTER. If your schedule does not fit well with my office hours, please call for an appointment. I am frequently around at times other than scheduled office hours. You are welcome to come by any time.

GRADING:

The basic requirements for the course consist of adequate performance (in line with the university requirements) on three examinations. The format of the exams will be a combination of multiple choice and short answer essays. The examinations will reflect (1) required readings including the website readings (2) lectures (3) class discussion (4) films used in class and (5) information provided by guest speakers. Each examination is worth 100 points and represents 33% of the final grade. You may NOT leave the room for any reason during an exam.
