Course Description

The course examines abusive relationships and community and justice system policy and preventive interventions. Topics include child abuse, neglect, gangs, hate crimes, rape, marital violence and elder abuse. These issues are viewed from a Justice Studies perspective, but integrate a range of perspectives including public health, mental health and child development.

Prerequisite: Completion of core GE, satisfaction of Writing Skills Test and upper division standing. For students who begin continuous enrollment at a CCC or a CSU in fall 2005 or later, completion of, or co-requisite in a 100W course is required.

Learning Outcomes and Course Goals

GE Student Learning Objectives

After successfully completing the course, students shall be able to:

LO1. Describe how identities (i.e. religious, gender, ethnic, racial, class, sexual orientation, disability, and/or age) are shaped by cultural and societal influences within contexts of equality and inequality; (course learning objectives 1 and 3)

LO2. Describe historical, social, political, and economic processes producing diversity, equality, and structured inequalities in the U.S.; (Course learning objective 2)

LO3. Describe social actions which have led to greater equality and social justice in the U.S. (i.e. religious, gender, ethnic, racial, class, sexual orientation, disability, and/or age).; and (course learning objectives 4 and 5)

LO4. Recognize and appreciate constructive interactions between people from different cultural, racial, and ethnic groups within the U.S. (Course learning objectives 5 and 6)

Course Content:

The course is divided into five parts that range over the life span of individuals in diverse socioeconomic, ethnic and racial communities:

- infant and child neglect and psychological maltreatment, physical and sexual abuse
- neighborhood gang violence and hate crimes motivated by religious, racial and sexual orientation discrimination and prejudice during adolescence and young adulthood;
- date rape and sexual violence between intimate partners;
- violence, stalking and psychological terrorizing in dating, cohabiting and marital partnerships;
- Abuse of the elderly in the family and care institutions.

Recurring themes are social discrimination and oppression on the basis of gender, religious, racial and ethnic background, socioeconomic status, disability, age and sexual orientation. The dynamics of power and control in relationships and the social and historical processes and institutions that legitimize the abuse of power provides the basic framework for the analysis of all violence and abuse in this course. An understanding of how infant and child development is compromised by witnessing abuse and being the objects of abuse provides a complementary developmental understanding to help explain the intergenerational cycle of abusive relationships. An additional theme is civic responsibility. The emphasis is on students beginning to recognize attitudes and beliefs that hinder social action and perpetuate violence and to explore how individuals and groups can work collectively to recognize and respond more effectively to violence in diverse communities.

Two writing assignments require students to demonstrate their understanding of the course learning objectives 1-6 as stated above. Other experiences that develop mastery of the objectives include small group discussions and reflections, exercises analyzing case vignettes, documentary film reviews, class debates and optional observations in dependency, family and criminal courts.

Teaching Philosophy

This class combines reading, lectures and video segments to present the conceptual material. On-line discussions and exercises are used for students to critique the readings, lectures, videos and data presented on rates of incidence and prevalence of violence. Small group, online activities and individually written assignments enable students to examine their own attitudes, and cultural and family beliefs about abusive relationships. The goal of the on-line discussions is to engage in meaningful dialogue about critical issues and explore practical, creative and effective community and justice system responses for preventing and intervening in violence. It is the premise of this course that, through this critical discourse, we can move toward more effective strategies that are respectful of diverse perspectives and allow us to achieve greater justice and equality.

Warning: The material covered in class is not hypothetical and reflects experiences shared by many individuals including individuals enrolled in the course. It is not unusual for students to have experienced the abuses discussed. These personal associations may bring up strong feelings for students. If you feel the material is bringing up issues for you that are affecting your ability to be successful in the course, please take advantage of the University counseling center and/or talk to the instructor.

Papers (35%)

Papers make up 35% of the student's grade. Two written assignments are required during the semester. Each assignment involves library research, analysis of assigned topic, integration of information covered in the course culminating in a well-written, six to eight page paper.

All papers must be submitted to Canvas™ in the designated folder on or before the due date. Please note the due date. Late papers will be docked 4 points for the first day late and 1 point for each day after (including weekends and holidays). Papers more than two weeks late will not be accepted without prior approval. Each paper will weighted equally. Papers are graded on a 50 point rubric (provided).

Both papers require literature review and proper APA format and citation. Students are expected to be able to write at an upper division level. Students are strongly encouraged to use the writing center on campus if they feel that their writing ability and/or understanding of APA style may impact their performance on these papers. Appointments should be made in advance to allow enough time to make recommended changes.

ASSIGNMENT No 1: Child Maltreatment

Full assignment and grading rubric will be provided on Canvas™. Students will read and use the book, Push as the case study for illustrating concepts.

ASSIGNMENT No 2: Intimate Partner Violence

Full assignment and grading rubric will be provided on Canvas™. The second paper requires researching a special topic or current controversy in family violence. See assignment details available online.

Examinations (35%)

Quizzes

Six online quizzes will be posted on Canvas™ by Thursday of the quiz week and must be completed by the designated due date. If all six quizzes are completed, you will be able to drop your lowest quiz score. Students are encouraged to take all quizzes as a way to stay current with course material throughout the course and receive feedback on comprehension of key concepts. See the course schedule for quiz dates.

Final Exam

A cumulative final exam will be given on the assigned final exam day. The exam will be cumulative and will cover content from assigned readings and lecture material. The cumulative score of the online quizzes and the final will make up 35% of the student's grade.

Participation (30%)

Reflection Journal (Participation)

Reflection journals are used to facilitate integration of concepts presented in class. This forum encourages students to personally reflect on the material and is intended to promote active learning. The journals request personal reflection on the material and will be handled respectfully and confidentially. Grades are based on the students' thoughtfulness and scholarly integration of course concepts. Reflections are noted as class activities in the course schedule below.

Discussion

On-line, graded discussions will be used to facilitate student dialogue, an important process for learning and the integration of these complex social issues. Please pay close attention to posting deadlines included in the discussion instructions. Initial post deadlines are earlier than discussion due dates. This is done to facilitate discussion among students. You also typically will not have access to other posts until you have posted your initial discussion post.

A class announcement will be made once class discussion prompts are available. Instructions and due dates will be provided with each prompt. Students are responsible for all instructions. Read carefully as soon as the prompt is posted even if you do not plan to complete the work immediately.

Grading Policy

The above assignments will have a point total that will be included in the instructions for the activity or assignment, including due dates and late policies. Some assignments, such as discussions and quizzes, will close at the deadline. Students failing to complete by these deadlines will receive a zero for that item.

Students are evaluated based on Papers, Exams and Participation. Point totals can be tracked in the grades tab in Canvas™. The following letter grades will be assigned based on percent of total points.

Grades are calculated based upon the scale below:

98.0 – 100% = A+ 78.0 – 79.9% = C+

| | | | |
|--------------|------|--------------|------|
| 93.0 – 97.9% | = A | 73.0 – 77.9% | = C |
| 90.0 – 92.9% | = A- | 70.0 – 72.9% | = C- |
| 88.0 – 89.9% | = B+ | 68.0 – 69.9% | = D+ |
| 83.0 – 87.9% | = B | 63.0 – 67.9% | = D |
| 80.0 – 82.9% | = B- | 00.0 – 62.9% | = F |

Note: “All students have the right, within a reasonable time, to know their academic scores, to review their grade-dependent work, and to be provided with explanations for the determination of their course grades.” See University Policy F13-1 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F13-1.pdf> for more details. If you have questions regarding your grade or how it was determined, please see me.

Department of Justice Studies Reading and Writing Philosophy

The Department of Justice Studies is committed to scholarly excellence. Therefore, the Department promotes academic, critical, and creative engagement with language (i.e., reading and writing) throughout its curriculum. A sustained and intensive exploration of language prepares students to think critically and to act meaningfully in interrelated areas of their lives—personal, professional, economic, social, political, ethical, and cultural. Graduates of the Department of Justice Studies leave San José State University prepared to enter a range of careers and for advanced study in a variety of fields; they are prepared to more effectively identify and ameliorate injustice in their personal, professional and civic lives. Indeed, the impact of literacy is evident not only within the span of a specific course, semester, or academic program but also over the span of a lifetime.

Online Classroom Protocol

This course is fully online. As a note of caution: online formats necessarily eliminate all the benefits of face-to-face communication that allow us to gage the reactions of others to our comments and can give the impression of anonymity. Further, the content of this course can raise sensitive issues. Given this, students should express and conduct themselves with the utmost respect and awareness of the potential impact on others based on statements made or views expressed. Conversely, students are encouraged to express their experience of disrespect, for the benefit of all, in a manner consistent with the same standards for awareness and respect. Perceived violations of this expectation will be first viewed as teachable opportunities communicated directly to the student or students concerned.

It is expected that students will keep up with the course and its deadlines, checking new material and due dates on a regular basis and completing lectures and activities each week. You will be provided with an overview of the unit by Tuesday morning each week, possibly earlier. Students will be notified by announcement (on Canvas) when the next module is available. You are expected to read fully the Module overview within 24 hours of its posting. This will ensure that you know of the course activities and deadlines for that week.

I would strongly suggest that students set up announcements to come to other devices such as frequently accessed email, so that you can stay up with any course changes. I would also suggest that you check into the course every 2-3 days, just to be sure that you stay apprised of changes and keep the course in your conscious attention.

Caution: online courses can create an out-of-sight; out-of-mind gap for students, which may negatively impact your success in this course. Students who have failed this course in the past simply fell behind because not enough time was allocated to participation. Be sure to tune in weekly (at a minimum) and complete required activities, including completed assigned reading, viewing lectures and links; participating in online discussions; and completing reflections and quizzes by the posted deadlines.

University Policies

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester's Catalog Policies section at <http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html>. “Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.”

Academic integrity

Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S07-2.pdf> requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at <http://www.sjsu.edu/aec> to establish a record of their disability.

Accommodation to Students' Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S14-7.pdf>.

SJSU Counseling Services

It is not uncommon for students to be negatively impacted by the material presented in this course. It is graphic and may bring up memories and issues that you thought you had put behind you or challenge you emotionally to face the realities of human suffering. These are normal reactions, but can be painful and at times overwhelming. Reactions have been known to impact student success and students' ability to meet deadlines. I encourage you to use the services available to you to address issues as they arise.

The SJSU Counseling Services is located on the corner of 7th Street and San Fernando Street, in Room 201, Administration Building. Professional psychologists, social workers, and counselors are available to provide consultations on issues of student mental health, campus climate or psychological and academic issues on an individual, couple, or group basis. To schedule an appointment or learn more information, visit Counseling Services website at <http://www.sjsu.edu/counseling>.
