Course Format

Technology Intensive, Hybrid, and Online Courses

This course is delivered as an asynchronous, fully online course. That is, all instruction takes place online, with no physical in-person or on campus meetings or activities required.

Students will need a computer and reliable internet access with the capacity to stream YouTube videos and take online exams. Students should not rely on public hotspots, such as internet cafés or coffee shops for delivery of this course, especially for taking online exams. These public locations often do not have adequate bandwidth. If students have weak internet access at home, arrangements should be made to be on campus to take exams. Access to reliable internet is the responsibility of the student.

Students will also need working speakers; this often requires a headset or headphones. Trouble hearing lectures to-date have all been resolved by the student changing computers or headsets. Headphones that come with smartphones are often, but not always, sufficient.

Students will need to be comfortable with Canvas™, SJSU's learning management system, and all technologies associated with Canvas. All communication and assignment submissions will be through Canvas. Students are encouraged to connect notifications to other technology and email to ensure prompt and consistent access to course materials and updates.

Canvas uses Turnitin.com for originality reports. All student assignments are run through this system to ensure originality of work. To ensure processing, students are required to submit assignments as Word documents(.docx). Other formats are not able to be processed by Turnitin.com, an integrated component of Canvas. Failure to comply with this could result is late point deductions or a zero if the assignment is not able to be opened and fully processed for originality.

All course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and is to be used for private, study purposes only, and cannot be shared publicly or uploaded without the instructor's approval (see University policy S12-7).

Messaging (Optional)

Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, notes, assignment instructions, etc. can be found on Canvas Learning Management System course login website at <http://sjsu.instructure.com>. You are responsible for regularly checking with the messaging system through Canvas. This course can be found at <https://sjsu.instructure.com/courses/1266048>.

Each week an announcement is sent notifying students that the week's module is available. There is a module overview provided with each module to outline reading, course material, assignments, and activities. This overview provides a step-by-step process for successful completion of that module. Students are expected to stay current with all course material and activities.

Course Description (Required)

This course examines abusive relationships and responsive community and justice system policy and preventive interventions. Topics include child abuse, neglect, gang and hate crimes, rape, marital violence and elderly abuse. (University catalog (<http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/splash/catalog.html>))

Family and Community Violence examines abusive relationships and responsive community and justice system policy and preventive interventions. Topics include child abuse, neglect, youth violence and bullying, hate crimes, sexual violence, marital violence and elder abuse.

The course is divided into five sections that cover violence across the life span of individuals in diverse socioeconomic, ethnic and racial communities, including:

- Infant and child neglect and psychological maltreatment, physical and sexual abuse
- Youth and neighborhood gang violence and
- Intimate partner violence, including dating and marital abuse and physical and sexual violence;
- Abuse of the elderly in the family and care institutions;
- Community violence including stalking, sexual violence and hate crimes motivated by religious, racial and sexual orientation discrimination and prejudice.

Study of all forms of violence covered in this course includes analysis of the dynamics of power in relationships and social institutions and the social and historical processes that legitimize the abuse of power. Recurring themes include discrimination and oppression on the basis of age, gender, religion, race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, disability, and sexual orientation. An understanding of how infant and child development is compromised by witnessing abuse and being the objects of abuse provides a developmental perspective to help explain the intergenerational cycle of abusive relationships. An additional theme is civic responsibility. A key objective of this course is to help students begin to recognize attitudes and beliefs that hinder social action and perpetuate violence and to foster exploration of how individuals and groups can work collectively to recognize and respond more effectively to violence in diverse communities.

Course Goals

It is the goal of this course to increase awareness of the social context of family and community violence and the parallels between different types of violence. Additionally, it is the goal of this course to increase critical reflection of the perpetuation of violence through our institutional responses and the opportunities for informal systems to address these issues through relationships rather than power structures.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this GE course, students will be able to:

1. Describe how identities (i.e. religious, gender, ethnic, racial, class, sexual orientation, disability, and/or age) are shaped by cultural and societal influences within contexts of equality and inequality; aligned with course learning outcomes 1 and 3, satisfied by activity/assignment/experience:
 - Reflections: R1, R2, R3, R4
 - Discussions: D1, D2
 - Papers: P1, P2
 - Quizzes: Q1, Q2
 - Final Exam
2. Describe historical, social, political, and economic processes producing diversity, equality, and structured inequalities in the U.S.; aligned with course learning outcome 2, satisfied by activity/assignment/experience:
 - Reflections: R2
 - Discussions: D1
 - Papers: P1, P2
 - Quizzes: Q1, Q2
 - Final Exam
3. Describe social actions which have led to greater equality and social justice in the U.S. (i.e. religious, gender, ethnic, racial, class, sexual orientation, disability, and/or age); aligned with course learning outcome 6, satisfied by activity/assignment/experience:
 - Reflections: R4
 - Discussion: D3
 - Papers: P1, P2
 - Quizzes: Q1, Q2
 - Final Exam
4. Recognize and appreciate constructive interactions between people from different cultural, racial, and ethnic groups within the U.S; aligned with course learning outcomes 4 and 5, satisfied by activity/assignment/experience:
 - Reflections: R3, R4
 - Discussions: D2
 - Papers: P1, P2
 - Quizzes: Q1, Q2
 - Final Exam

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Define and differentiate the abuse of power and the use of violence based upon gender, ethnicity, race, religion, class, sexual orientation, disability and age (Reflects GELO 1)
2. Identify how historical, social, psychological, economic and political factors have influenced the recognition of and response to each type of abusive relationship, (Reflects GELO 2)
3. Demonstrate knowledge about the consequences of violence and effects on victims from diverse backgrounds, (Reflects GELO 1)

4. Demonstrate awareness about one's own prejudicial attitudes and behaviors that tolerate and promote abusive relationships, (Reflects GELO 3)
5. Identify ways in which individuals from diverse backgrounds and communities can prevent and intervene in each type of abusive and violent relationship, (Reflects GELO 4)
6. Critique the current justice system response and propose ways in which greater equality and justice can be achieved in each type of abusive relationship. This involves reviewing: statutory laws, role of law enforcement, and proceedings within criminal, family and juvenile courts. (Reflects GELO 3)

Department of Justice Study's Reading and Writing Philosophy

The Department of Justice Studies is committed to scholarly excellence. Therefore, the Department promotes academic, critical, and creative engagement with language (i.e., reading and writing) throughout its curriculum. A sustained and intensive exploration of language prepares students to think critically and to act meaningfully in interrelated areas of their lives—personal, professional, economic, social, political, ethical, and cultural. Graduates of the Department of Justice Studies leave San José State University prepared to enter a range of careers and for advanced study in a variety of fields; they are prepared to more effectively identify and ameliorate injustice in their personal, professional and civic lives. Indeed, the impact of literacy is evident not only within the span of a specific course, semester, or academic program, but also over the span of a lifetime. Writing is evaluated through the first quiz (Q1) and through the writing criteria included in the formal paper (P1 and P2) rubrics.

Other technology requirements / equipment / material

Students will need dependable access to a computer and internet with capacity to stream videos. Students also need to have working headphones for listening to lectures and videos. Students will also need to be familiar with software associated with Canvas.

It is the responsibility of the student to ensure adequate internet access for exams, especially for the time-specific final exam. Please be advised that coffee shops and internet cafes often do not have adequate bandwidth for online exams. Online exams require the use of Respondus Lock-down and may require camera monitoring.

Course Requirements and Assignments

Per University Policy S16-9 (<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf>) requires that course syllabi inform students of the following:

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”

The following will be used to evaluate course learning outcomes:

1. Two formal papers
2. Online quizzes and final exam
3. Participation through reflections and online discussions

Papers (35%: each paper equally weighted)

Papers make up 35% of the student’s grade. Two major papers are required during the semester. Each assignment involves library research and reviewing current literature to understand current scholarship on the paper topic. The papers involve scholarly discussion of assigned topics and application of current literature and course material, culminating in well-written, six to eight-page papers (1500-2000 words). Papers should use 12-point font, be double-spaced and saved as a Word document following APA format. Both papers require review of current literature that is represented, discussed, and cited in the paper.

All papers must be submitted to Canvas™ in the designated folder on or before the due date. The due date can be found in the course schedule at the end of this syllabus, in the Canvas assignment tab, and in the weekly module overviews.

PAPER 1 (P1): Effects of Child Maltreatment

Full assignment and grading rubric will be provided on Canvas™.

Students will read and use the book, Push, as the case study for illustrating concepts.

This paper evaluates CLOs: 1,2,3, 5; GELOs: 1, 2, 4; due October 1, 2018.

PAPER 2 (P2): Violence in the Family & Community

Full assignment and grading rubric will be provided on Canvas™.

The second paper requires researching a special topic or current controversy in family violence. See assignment details available online.

This paper evaluates CLOs: 1,2,5,6; GELOs: 1, 2, 3, 4; due November 12, 2018

Examinations (30%: all exams and quizzes equally weighted)

Practice quizzes are incorporated into the module's learning activities as are review questions. Practice quizzes are not included in the student's grade, but provide feedback to the student about their comprehension of the material and progress toward course learning outcomes. Practice essay questions will also be provided.

In addition to the practice quizzes, there will be three graded, online quizzes and one final exam. See the course schedule for quiz dates. Quiz questions provide objective evaluation of course learning objectives (CLOs).

The Final Exam is a scheduled, time-specific exam (see course schedule). Even though the exam follows the University exam schedule for online classes, some students have had conflicts with evening class finals. Please check the assigned exam time and notify the instructor if you have a conflict. Make-ups are typically done on the assigned make-up day: Wednesday, December 19, 2018. See more details about the final below.

Challenge to Exam Questions

If you wish to challenge a quiz or exam question, you can submit a brief statement in support of your answer. The support must be based on material presented in this course (readings or lectures); specific citation must be clearly noted, including page number. Your challenge must be submitted through Canvas email within 24-hours of the close of the examination. If grades are posted after the close of the exam/quiz, challenges must be submitted within 24-hours of the posted grade.

Participation (35% of grade; All participation activities equally weighted)

Participation activities include reflections and online discussions. Participation activities are included in weekly modules to facilitate learning and integration of material. Participation activities are subject to change to best facilitate the learning process. Activities are outlined in each module overview page.

Reflection Journal

Reflection journals are used to facilitate integration of concepts presented in class. This forum encourages students to personally reflect on the material and is intended to promote active learning. Personal disclosures will be handled respectfully and confidentially. Grades are based on the students' thoughtfulness, scholarly integration of course concepts and writing. Reflections are typically 250-750 words; length requirement is included in reflection instructions.

Schedule and Corresponding CLO:

#	Due Date	CLOs	GELOs

Online Group Discussions

On-line, graded discussions will be used to facilitate student dialogue. Discussions provide an effective forum for learning and integrating complex concepts. Posts are intended to specifically reflect course lecture and assigned reading from this course and to discuss ideas and concepts to expand perspective and understanding.

Please pay close attention to posting deadlines included in the discussion instructions. Initial post deadlines are earlier than discussion due dates. The deadline for initial posts are typically Thursday of the discussion week. This is done to facilitate discussion among students after everyone has contributed. The initial post due dates are not visible in the calendar. Due dates for initial posts are clearly specified in the module overview and in the discussion instructions, as well as below. Students are responsible for these due dates. You typically will not be able to see other student posts until you have posted your initial discussion post.

Discussions cover CLOs: 1, 3, 5; GELOs: 1, 2, and 3

Schedule and Corresponding CLO:

1. D1: Effects of Trauma on Development	Initial post due Thursday, 9/20/2018 Discussion closes 9/24/2018	CLO3	GELO 1
2. D2:	Initial posts due 11/1/2018 Discussion closes 11/5/2018 at 11:59PM	CLO6	GELO 3

Final Examination or Evaluation

University policy S17-1 (<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S17-1.pdf>) states that “Faculty members are required to have a culminating activity for their courses, which can include a final examination, a final research paper or project, a final creative work or performance, a final portfolio of work, or other appropriate assignment.”

A final exam will be given on the assigned final exam day. The date and time of the final exam is posted in the course schedule found at the end of this document. The exam will be cumulative and will cover content from assigned readings and lecture material. The final will be online, requiring Respondus Lockdown Browser. See Canvas under the Lockdown Browser tab for instructions for activating this function. The exam will include approximately 50 points in objective questions, including multiple choice, multiple answer, true/false, and matching. The exam will also include up to six short answer/essay questions reflecting each of the GE learning outcomes.

This is an online, time-specific final examination based on the schedule for online classes. Please make arrangements to be at your computer with all exam features activated (eg. Respondus Lockdown Browser) 5:15 PM on Friday, December 14, 2018 (1715-1930). The exam will close promptly at 7:30PM.

Grading Information

Total points for each assignment or activity are included in the activity or assignment instructions. Rubrics are used for evaluation and are provided along with the assignment/activity instructions.

Papers. Major papers are each worth fifty points and are required to follow APA format and style for formal research papers. Points are deducted for failure to adhere to APA format. Papers are graded by content areas. Each content area is typically worth 5-10 points. Content areas are outlined in the rubric and provided in the assignment description. Comments and feedback are provided both within the grading rubric and in the online document as electronic comments. If a student requires or prefers recorded evaluation, please contact me to make arrangements at least two days prior to due dates.

Discussions are typically worth nine points. Five points for the initial post and four points for the response posts. The rubrics that follow are used in the point assignment. Students are encouraged to evaluate their work prior to submission to be sure they met evaluation criteria.

Initial Post = 5 Points

Characteristic	Criteria	Points
Engaged	Initial post to the discussion question or activity is complete and posted on time . This point is not earned if the assignment is submitted after the due date for initial posts (usually Thursday of the discussion week).	1
Thoughtful	Initial post reflected thoughtfully on the discussion prompt. The post specifically and thoughtfully addresses the discussion prompt.	1
Substantive	Initial post included substantive reference to concepts from the readings and course materials. May be enhanced by relevant outside sources. Cite as needed.	1
Integrative	Initial post linked concepts and ideas to other relevant knowledge or experience. Posts are building on other knowledge and key points in the course material.	1
Writing Clarity	Initial post was well-written, clear and edited.	1

Response Posts = 4 Points

Characteristic	Criteria	Points
Engaged Participant	Response posts contributed thoughtfully and frequently enough to demonstrate genuine engagement with classmates on the topic of discussion. (e.g. at least 2-3 times beyond the initial post for one-week discussions)	1
Extender	Response posts included substantive replies that incorporated thoughts and concepts from the readings and course materials . May be enhanced by relevant outside sources. Cite as needed.	1
Collaborative Provocateur	Response posts were characterized by advanced critical thinking about the discussion topic in collaboration with others. These contributions stir things up, reflect deeper thinking and curiosity, ask questions, both within yourself (I've been thinking about xx) or with others (I was wondering what you think about xx) deepening the discussion and learning for both yourself and your classmates.	1
Writing Clarity	Posts are well-written, clear and edited.	1

Reflections are typically worth ten (10) points. Reflections should be written in standard font with double-spacing but do not require the formal formatting required for major papers, such as running headers, etc.

Exam point totals vary. Points for each quiz or exam item will be noted on the question and the total points for the exam/quiz will be listed in the exam description. Quizzes are generally around 25 points; the final is around 80 points.

Writing Evaluation. Students are expected to be able to write at an upper division level. Per GE guidelines, all writing shall be assessed for grammar, clarity, conciseness and coherence. Students are strongly encouraged to use the Writing Center on campus if they feel their writing ability and/or understanding of APA style may impact their performance on these papers. Appointments at the Writing Center should be made in advance to allow enough time to make recommended changes. Learn more about the Writing Center and its resources at <http://www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter/>.

Determination of Grades

Papers, Exams, and Participation are scored and make up the student's grade. Each category is weighted as indicated in the Course Requirements and Assignments section above. Items under each of these categories are weighted equally. Rubrics are provided with assignment instructions for writing activities. Scores for each activity/assignment can be tracked in the grades tab in Canvas™. Grades for major papers will be graded within two weeks following the due date for all papers submitted on time. Late papers will be graded after scores for on-time submissions have been posted.

The following letter grades will be assigned based on percent of total points. Grades are calculated based upon the scale below:

98.0 – 100% = A+
93.0 – 97.9% = A
90.0 – 92.9% = A-
88.0 – 89.9% = B+
83.0 – 87.9% = B
80.0 – 82.9% = B-
78.0 – 79.9% = C+
73.0 – 77.9% = C
70.0 – 72.9% = C-
68.0 – 69.9% = D+
63.0 – 67.9% = D
00.0 – 62.9% = F

Late Policy and Make-ups

Late submission of major papers results in a 4-point deduction the first day and one point each day following, including weekends. Papers are closed for submission two weeks after the deadline, unless special permission has been secured prior to the close. Reflections are not accepted for submission after the posted close date/time, typically Friday of the same week. Some assignments, such as discussions and quizzes, will close at the deadline/due date. Students failing to complete the activity by these deadlines will receive a zero.

Please note, in Canvas there is a notation for open date, due date and close date. The close date for papers is not the due date. The close date includes the period during which late papers will still be accepted. Due dates are posted in the course schedule, weekly module overviews, and in the assignment. It is the student's responsibility to track due dates (including times). There is sufficient notation of these dates.

Make-ups are not available except under extenuating circumstances where documentation can be provided. Arrangements will be made on a case-by-case basis. The make-up for the final exam will be held on the University-designated make-up day, Wednesday, December 19, 2018 (time TBD).

Rewrite Policy

Students who receive a C- or lower on the first paper are given the opportunity to rewrite their paper. If a student qualifies, an email will be sent via Canvas informing the student of the grade along with a copy of my rewrite policy and contract. This email will request that the student contact me to schedule a meeting to go over the areas needed for improvement, to schedule a due date and complete the rewrite contract. It is the responsibility of the student to follow up within three days of the email or correspondence. Final grades after rewrite submissions are scored is the average grade between the original and the resubmission. This offer is not extended on papers receiving a C or higher or for the second paper. It is also not offered for other writing assignments, such as reflections and discussion posts.

Extra Credit

I do not typically offer extra credit. If extra credit is offered, it will be based on accessibility for all online students and will be nominally announced in the Module Overview for the week.

Grading Information for GE

“Passage of the Writing Skills Test (WST) or ENGL/LLD 100A with a C or better (C- not accepted), and completion of Core General Education are prerequisite to all SJSU Studies courses. Completion of, or co-registration in, 100W is strongly recommended. A minimum aggregate GPA of 2.0 in GE Areas R, S, & V shall be required of all students.”

Classroom Protocol

This is an asynchronous, fully online course. It is your responsibility to keep up with the material and all communications, complete weekly activities and submit assignments on or before due dates. Failure to do so will result in a lower grade and could jeopardize student success. Course material is available by the beginning of each week. Each week's module begins with an overview page that outlines the learning objectives for that week and provides an outline for completing activities. An announcement is sent via Canvas Announcements when the module is available. Students are expected to read the Module overview within 24-hours of its posting. This overview will help you gauge the work for that week and plan accordingly. It is easy to fall behind in online courses. I encourage you to schedule a specific time each week that you will commit to this class to avoid it falling off your radar.

I would strongly suggest that students set up Canvas announcements to come to other devices such as frequently accessed email or smartphones, so that you can stay up with any course announcements. I would also suggest that you check into the course every 2-3 days, just to be sure that you stay apprised of changes and keep the course in your conscious attention.

Warning: online courses can create an out-of-sight/out-of-mind gap for students, which may negatively impact your success in this course. Students who have failed this course in the past simply fell behind – often early in the semester - because not enough time was allocated to participation and successful completion of weekly activities. You are expected to participate weekly and complete required activities, including assigned reading and lectures as well as participating in online discussions and completing reflections and quizzes by the posted deadlines.

Respect and Confidentiality

This class combines reading, lectures and video segments to present the conceptual material. On-line discussions and exercises are used for students to reflect on the readings, lectures, videos and data presented. Small group, online activities and individually written assignments enable students to examine their own attitudes, and cultural and family beliefs about abusive relationships. The goal of the on-line discussions is to engage in meaningful dialogue about critical issues and explore practical, creative and effective community and justice system responses for preventing and intervening in violence. It is the premise of this course that, through this critical discourse, we can move toward more effective strategies that are respectful of diverse perspectives and allow us to achieve greater justice and equality.

This course is fully online. As a note of caution: online formats necessarily eliminate all the benefits of face-to-face communication that allow us to gauge the reactions of others to our comments and can give the impression of anonymity. Further, the content of this course can raise sensitive issues. Given this, students should express and conduct themselves with the utmost respect and awareness of the potential impact on others based on statements made or views expressed. Conversely, students who feel disrespected by posts are encouraged to express their experience, for the benefit of all, in a manner consistent with the same standards for awareness and respect. Perceived violations of this expectation will be first viewed as teachable opportunities communicated directly to the student or students concerned.

All things shared in class discussions should be treated as confidential. Information and stories shared should not be shared with others. Comments within the class discussions is perfectly appropriate, but should not be shared outside this forum.

Communication

If you feel confused about course material, please do not hesitate to reach out. Weekly discussions are provided for questions. I am also available to schedule phone or Web-Ex meetings with students to clarify material and to support student success. To schedule a meeting, it is best to send an email.

Support

Warning: The material covered in class is not hypothetical and reflects experiences shared by many individuals including individuals enrolled in this course. It is not unusual for students to have experienced the abuses discussed. These personal associations may bring up strong feelings for students. If you feel the material is bringing up issues for you that are affecting your ability to be successful in the course, please take advantage of the University counseling center and/or talk to the instructor. More information about counseling services can be found at <http://www.sjsu.edu/counseling/>.

CASA Student Success Center

The Student Success Center in the College of Applied Sciences and Arts (CASA) provides advising for undergraduate students majoring or wanting to major in programs offered in CASA Departments and Schools. All CASA students and students who would like to be in CASA are invited to stop by the Center for general education advising, help with changing majors, academic policy related questions, meeting with peer advisors, and/or attending various regularly scheduled presentations and workshops. If you are looking for academic advice or even tips about how to navigate your way around SJSU, check out the CASA Student Success Center. Location: MacQuarrie Hall (MQH) 533 - top floor of MacQuarrie Hall. Contact information: 408.924.2910. Website: <http://www.sjsu.edu/casa/ssc/>. The CASA Student Success Center also provides study space and laptops for checkout.

University Policies

“The Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs hosts university-wide policy information relevant to all courses.” Per University Policy S16-9, university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. will be available on Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs’ Syllabus Information web page at <http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/>” Please be sure to review these university policies and resources. These will be briefly highlighted in the first class.

JS136: Hate & Violence in the Family and Community, Fall 2018

Course Schedule

The following is an agenda for the semester including topics, readings, assignments, activities and the final exam. This course schedule provides a general plan that is subject to change with fair notice. Students will be notified through Canvas announcements and class presentations of any changes.

Due dates for major papers do not change, so that students can plan around other obligations. The final exam is scheduled based on University exam times, and so will also not change. As noted, the final is time-specific. Please plan accordingly.
