Course Description

This graduate course is designed to explore the important and under-studied intersection between gender and crime. We will explore the nature and extent of women as victims, offenders, and workers in the criminal justice system. We will investigate the relationship between victimization and offending, and study the details of women in the criminal justice system as offenders or workers (professional as law enforcement officers, court personnel, correctional workers, etc.).

A major focus will be to learn about the major debates and topics within criminology relating to gender and crime. This course will allow us to become familiar with criminological theories (which have been traditionally male oriented) but now we investigate a feminist response and engagement in criminological theorizing of women. In addition to the above ideas we will look at women fear of crime, women limited mobility economically, crime policies that impact the lives of women as victims, offenders, and professionals.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Understand theoretical explanations surrounding the relationship between gender, crime and justice
- Identify delinquency and offense patterns by gender, including the gender gap in official crime estimates
- Explain the gendered nature of victimization and its impact on day-to-day practices
- Understand The interaction between gender and the various stages of the criminal justice system (e.g., arrest, the courts, incarceration)
- Understand the experiences of women who work as criminal justice practitioners

Course Requirements and Assignments

4 Critical Response to Readings (Canvas discussion board)

Four critical responses to the readings will be completed during the session (8 points each). Once you have read the assigned reading for the critical response to the reading, think about the information presented and topics that sparked your interest. You must demonstrate a thorough understanding of the material. It is abundantly clear when a student has not adequately read and studied the material. Each critical response has an individual prompt. In addition to the individual prompts, please ensure that your initial post be at least 500 words (not including the citation/ source list). Full APA citation is required for sources within text and in a references section at the end of the assignment. Word count at the end of the response is required (before the citation/ source list).

4 Peer Weekly Responses

Each student must respond to at least two of their classmates' critical responses on the Canvas discussion board. Responses to classmates' critical responses to the readings should be discussion based. Students may respond to aspects of the post that intrigued them, highlight aspects they would like more clarification on, continue the development of a thought/argument, etc. Comments may be based on opinion and do not need to, but may contain, empirical support.

Critical Response assignment posts are due on Sundays at 8pm and the 2 responses to classmate's posts are due on Mondays at noon. After the discussion board closes, no additional posts will be accepted.

Women's Work Interview Assignment

For this assignment, you will conduct an informal interview with a woman who works in the criminal justice system or in a very closely related field (i.e. she works with criminal offenders or victims in some capacity). You should anticipate the interview to last 45 minutes to an hour and it is important to stress to this person that the information gathered will only be used for a class assignment – this is not research. Your goal is to get a sense from this person of (a) what their agency does, (b) what role they serve in that agency, and (c) how gender influences the work. To get at this last point, you could ask questions along the lines of “As a woman, what kind of advice would you give to women who aspire to your career? How about for men?” or “How does gender influence your work?” You can discuss gender as it relates to the gender of the offenders or victims and as it relates to the worker and her colleagues. You will draft your own set of interview questions AND PROVIDE ME WITH A COPY OF THEM with the assignment itself. For verification purposes, submit your notes of the interview along with the assignment. This will allow for the identity of the individual to be withheld if they would prefer to keep it that way.

START THINKING ABOUT WHO YOU WANT TO INTERVIEW ASAP BECAUSE THE YOU WILL HAVE TO SUBMIT THE NAME OF THE PERSON, TITLE AND A LIST OF QUESTIONS BY JULY 22 AND THE INTERVIEW ASSIGNMENT IS DUE SUNDAY AUGUST 5TH IN ADDITION TO YOUR CRITICAL RESPONSE FOR THAT WEEK. I WILL PROVIDE MORE DETAILS ABOUT THE INTERVIEW WRITE UP AND CRITICAL RESPONSE FOR THIS WEEK IN THE CANVAS PROMPT.

Research Abstract & Bibliography

For this assignment, you will submit a one page (single spaced 12pt font) abstract, including a preliminary bibliography by Sunday July 29. The abstract should include your key research questions regarding any topic relating to gender and crime. I will work with you to finalize the topic of the paper.

Research Paper

The final research paper should be a minimum of 2000 words and is due Friday, August 10th. I will post detailed instructions for the paper on the Canvas prompt. This assignment will be due via Canvas Turn It In and in a Google Doc.
