Course Description

Use of scientific principles, scientific investigation, and current technological advances to assess the relationship between diet, physical fitness, and disease. Examine scientific literature to evaluate the effects of nutritional intervention on exercise performance. (3 units)

GE Area R (Earth & Environment) Goal

Students will cultivate knowledge of the scientific study of the physical universe or its life forms. Students will understand and appreciate the interrelationship of science and human beings to each other.

General Education Learning Outcomes (GELOs)

Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

- GELO 1: Demonstrate an understanding of the methods and limits of scientific investigation. The “Analysis of Scientific Literature” assignment is keyed to this Area R GELO. This assignment requires students to comprehend the objectives/purposes of the study as well as the methods used to examine/study the problem. In addition, students will critically evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of the scientific research (including the research design, methods, and discussion), and see how the research fits into the larger scope of literature on a particular topic.
- GELO 2: Distinguish science from pseudo-science. The assignment keyed to this Area R GELO is the nutrition and fitness “Consumer Product” paper. Students will critically evaluate the credibility of nutrition and exercise information presented in an advertisement for a food, food supplement, piece of exercise equipment, or exercise program, differentiating between evidence derived from scientific research (based on the student’s review of literature) and non-scientific evidence.
- GELO 3: Apply a scientific approach to answer questions about the earth and environment. The assignment keyed to this Area R GELO is the “Oral Presentation,” which requires students to use primary research to answer questions related to fitness and nutrition.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CLO 1: Explain how the principles of fitness and nutrition (such as body composition, energy intake and expenditure, acute and chronic physical changes related to exercise and nutrition) complement each other.
- CLO 2: Identify social, cultural, ethnic, and environmental factors that influence food habits and exercise/activity patterns.
- CLO 3: Examine the biochemical and physiological effects of exercise and various nutritional practices.
- CLO 4: Describe the different exercise guidelines and nutritional requirements related to gender and diverse populations.
- CLO 5: Assess the advantages/disadvantages of recent advances in new food formulations, and new exercise and fitness equipment for the general population.
- CLO 6: Identify the scientific principles involved in studying pathophysiology in human populations.

Course Format

This course will include lecture, class discussion, and student presentations. Student participation is both a vital part of the learning process and an important way to enrich the classroom experience. Students are expected to have read the assigned materials before class and to be prepared to actively participate, discussing course content, raising issues, providing information from their own experiences, and asking questions during the class. If students miss class, they are responsible for obtaining lecture notes and viewing material on CANVAS before contacting the instructor about the missed content.

Course Lecture Schedule and Technology

Nutrition portion of the class: There will be a mixture of synchronous and asynchronous Zoom lectures for the Nutrition portion of this class. This means that not all of the live nutrition lectures take place at the scheduled time of your class however a recording of every lecture is posted on Canvas as soon as it's available from Zoom. This allows the greatest flexibility for students who need to miss a lecture, or are unable to join at times inconsistent with their section.

Fitness portion of the class: The lectures for the Fitness portion of the class will be asynchronous and the link to the prerecorded lecture (on YouTube) is provided in the respective Module. Students are required to watch ahead of time and come to class (referred as Q&A Live session in the schedule) already knowing the basics, so they can spend in-class time on higher order activities such as in-depth discussions, practical application, assignments, group projects, or 1:1 time answering questions. There will be five Q&A Live sessions in the semester. Although joining them is not mandatory, participation is highly encouraged for student success in the Fitness portion of this course. Students will earn 10 extra credit points for each by participating. The extra credit points (max 50 points possible) will be reflected on final grades at the end of the semester and will have a 5% effect on the final grade.

- Exam questions will be based on assigned readings, lectures, and class discussions. Exams will be given on CANVAS on the dates and times shown in the Schedule and in the Modules. Make-up /exams will be given only in cases of serious illness or emergencies, and requests for make-up exams will be evaluated on an individual basis. The student is responsible for notifying the instructor and arranging a make-up date prior to the exam. Exam 4 will be administered during the final exam period scheduled by SJSU.
- The due date for assignments is handled differently by the Nutrition and Fitness instructors, however due dates and times are clearly identified on each assignment in Modules. For Nutrition, papers and presentations are to be uploaded to Canvas at the start time of your class (9am, 10:30am, 12noon or 1:30pm). For Fitness, papers and presentations are due at Canvas by 11:59pm on the due date. Assignments turned in after the due date and time, unless otherwise specified, will be considered late. There is a 5-point penalty for each calendar day, or partial calendar day, that assignments are late. Assignments will not be accepted 1 week past the due date.
- All assignments must be typed and double spaced. Unless otherwise noted by the instructor, students should not use direct quotations or copied material from scientific sources. Instead, students should paraphrase source information and use appropriate APA citation format, including the source's author(s) and year of publication. Individual instructors will provide procedures to be used for electronic submission and plagiarism screening via turnitin.com.
- Writing in general education courses is assessed for grammar, content, clarity, conciseness, and coherence. The SJSU Writing Center, located in Clark Hall, Suite 126, offers one-on-one tutoring services and workshops. To make an appointment or refer to the online resources offered through the Writing Center, visit the Writing Center website at <http://www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter>.
- Detailed guidelines for the Analysis of Scientific Literature #1 (Practice) & #2, Consumer Product, and Group Oral Presentation assignments can be found in each assignment within their respective Module. However, all the assignment guidelines can be viewed in one document, called the Assignment Packet, which is linked within each respective Module.
- Consistent with guidelines for SJSU Studies courses, students will write a minimum of 3,000 words:
 - Analysis of Scientific Literature #1 3-4 pages or 750-1,000 words
 - Analysis of Scientific Literature #2 3-4 pages or 750-1,000 words
 - Consumer Product: Fitness 3-4 pages or 750-1,000 words
 - Consumer Product: Nutrition 3-4 pages or 750-1,000 words

- University Policy S16-9, Course Syllabi (<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf>) describes the expected time commitment for SJSU classes: “Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practice. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”
