

KIN Advising Bulletin: Fall 2019

Greetings KIN student community,

Welcome to Fall semester! Bit of news: I now serve as the Advising Manager for the KIN Department. As usual, please contact your direct KIN advisor with Qs. If you do not have an assigned advisor, email me. Check with the KIN office first and your intake green form where it lists your advisor.

I will be sending you some info via email over the next week; please read it over; it will help you stay on track.

A note on email contact: Please do not contact Dr. Jessica Chin with general advising Qs unless she is your direct advisor. We are very fortunate to have her serve now as the Undergraduate Coordinator for the KIN Department. I will try to continue her excellent work in advising. Please do not contact Dr. Matthew Masucci, former KIN Chair and now CHHS Interim Assoc. Dean, with general KIN Dept. advising Qs.

Advising Qs should be directed to your KIN advisor, the KIN website, the KIN UG handbook, the CHHS SSC, Clark Hall services, and then myself after you have made good faith attempts to contact your direct advisor.

If you email me, please include:

IMPORTANT NOTE: A note on graduation forms: Do not wait until summer or winter to do these forms; complete during Fall or Spring semester when your direct advisor is in office.

KIN Advising 1.0: Course planning and major requirements

(recent transfers, recent lower division matriculated students)

If you are a declared KIN major and have not attended a KIN advising workshop, plan to attend. This is especially geared toward frosh and sophomores as well as juniors who have not yet selected a specialization. We will be going over the current kinesiology curriculum, including the different majors and specializations, as well as steps and requirements to get to graduation. I will also assign kin advisors to declared kin majors who have not yet been assigned.

KIN Advising 2.0: Completing the major form and application to graduate

(for Spring 2020/Fall 2020 grads)

This is for KIN, KIN-Prep for Teaching, and AT majors who are getting ready to submit their major form and application to graduate, which are due to the department one year (2 semesters) in advance of anticipated graduation semester. We will review instructions for completing the forms and next steps.

For Fall 2020 graduates, completed major forms (approved and signed by your advisor) are due and must be submitted to Mr. Murphy's box in SPX 102 by September 9, 2019 COB. [Note: This is earlier than the university deadline! Of Oct 4, 2019). All Fall 2019/Spring 2020 graduation paperwork is due ASAP.
