

Folklor y Cultura

CCS 180 (45883) at SJSU Fall 2020

This Fall semester CCS 180 (hybrid) will offer an exciting opportunity to learn about Dia de Los Muertos cultural traditions.

Activities will include an overview of the construction of an ofrenda, exercises in paper mache and the preparation of "mole" from a paste base. For those in or near San Jose, there will be a hands-on opportunity to create a 'tapete' . . . and eat the mole, of course.

This class is a wonderful resource for teachers who would like to develop Dia de Los Muertos curriculum in K-12 social studies and the arts. The class is open to all registered SJSU students. Non-students may register via Open University.

Interested students, please email the instructor, for the add code: MariaLuisa.Colmenarez@sjsu.edu

Class meets online MW 7-8pm - this is a 1 (one) unit class
