Course Description

This course will examine current theory, techniques, and practice of public budgeting for political decision making, planning, and management. This course will also examine the budget process in the executive and legislative branches and reform efforts; public choice analysis; and financial processes and the role of accounting.

Public Budgeting reflects organization's strategy of resource allocation for policy making and implementation. Since government determines how much of the society's resources will be used for the public purpose, budgeting shapes the macro economy. Budgeting is also about assigning responsibility to implement policy. The purpose of this course is to help students understand the budget process; obtain practical knowledge of budget reading; provide the analytic skills used in preparing budget report reflecting policy priorities by identifying and employing alternative sources of funding including grants, taxes and fees; understand the role of the modern budget in determination of policy, administrative integration, control of government operations and intergovernmental relations, and in relation to private economy. Due to the local focus in the mission statement of the SJSU MPA program, this course will focus its examples primarily on local governments, nonprofits, & communities.

Course Goals

To educate public administration and non-profit professionals about current budgeting theory, techniques, and practice of public budgeting for political decision making, planning, and management. Through the material in this course students will build capacity to achieve the National Association of Schools of Public Administration and Affairs Core Competencies.

University Learning Goals (ULGs), Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) & Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

The overall course goal is to educate public administration and non-profit professionals in public budgeting, theory, processes, and procedures so they achieve the SJSU University Learning Goals (ULGs) and demonstrate mastery of the NASPAA/SJSU MPA program learning outcomes. ## Course Requirements and Assignments

Contribution to Learning:

Students learn at least as much from one another as from their instructors in a collaborative learning community. I will probably learn as much, if not more from you. I consider each student's contribution to be a critical component of every course, so it also is a critical component of your grade. Students will contribute to learning via discussion and other in-class activities over the course of the semester. Attendance is not the primary method of measuring participation. But if students are not in class, they are not participating. Student participation in online discussion boards will count.

There is no "recipe" for conducting or evaluating class contribution, but we can isolate some of the characteristics of successful or unsuccessful performances in this category. There will be a rubric attached to this assignment in Canvas. It provides a profile, or composite of characteristics within graded performances in class contribution. Not all must be uniformly present in a given class member or across every class session and conduct of individual participants over the weeks of a term frequently will combine attributes from multiple performance profiles. Therefore, while these profiles begin to speak to criteria at work in evaluating class contribution, they are not offered here as definitive benchmarks (hence not made to coincide exactly with numerical scales or grade equivalents) and are furnished only to dramatize some nuances in-class contribution behaviors, as well as distinctions made in assessing performances.

In the end, I score contribution using a combination of three modes of assessment: individual assessments (a student's development and progress during the term), comparative assessments (what members of the same section, or class, demonstrate is possible), and contextual assessments (what students whose work I have evaluated over the years suggests about the full spectrum of class contribution performances). You may not agree utterly with my scoring of your performance (and I do not ask you to agree), but I want you to have clarity about how I understand the process of assessing class contribution. See the Course Canvas Assignment page for a rubric on this assignment.

Technical Exercises

Organizational Profile Essay. This assignment asks you to prepare an academic essay that integrates several subject strands. Reflecting your program of study, select for examination a local government, a medium to large nonprofit, or a medium to large health care organization. For local government, consider a city, a town, or a county outside the San Jose metro area, or a special district. Nonprofit practitioners select a medium to large service delivery nonprofit or foundation. If you are in a health program, select a medium-sized community hospital, clinic organization, or county.

Use all online and available resources to analyze and describe your organization(s) relative to their budgeting process and procedures. Identify and summarize the governance structure, the official(s) responsible for budget preparation and procedural compliance, and the other key actors in the budget process. Describe the budget process/ calendar and decision-making for your organization(s). Also, summarize the organizations' major revenue sources, financial systems, and community/ network context. What major budgeting or financial issue does each organization face? For what purposes and in what perspective does each organization prepare its budget?

Access and carefully read the Key and Lewis e-Journal readings, and chapter 2 in the Morgan et al text. Apply any two of these readings to your organization(s)' practices. How well do the questions and issues raised in each reading apply to the field practices in your organization? Compare and contrast the two readings against each other.

Out of your descriptions, analysis and comparisons identify a theme or primary argument for your essay. Write to this theme throughout the essay. Include an introduction and conclusion in your essay.<sup>1</sup> The introduction should include a clear issue or thesis sentence, and some form of an organization/ structure sentence.

Maximum length for your essay is about four (4) pages. Please use APA style (no cover sheet needed), double-space your work, and include citations for all sources. Upload this assignment to the Canvas Assignments upload We will share your learning in a small group exchange during the week 2 class. Bring either a paper copy of your essay, an electronic version on your device, or talking notes to support your discussion.

Budget Funds Revenue Source. Local governments and nonprofit organizations must often clearly segregate revenues from different sources. Cities, counties, and special districts may need to separate the revenue from a specific property tax levy, fee, or charge from general fund revenues. Grantors, including the federal government, may require governments and nonprofit organizations to establish separate accounting funds for grant or contract funded programs. Budget funds provide the analytic structures to make the necessary segregation. Isolating the revenues, expenditures and transactions for program to a single budget fund enhances transparency and public confidence. This exercise demonstrates how budget funds combine revenues from several different sources to fund a county department. Exercise Goal: The goal of this technical exercise is to:

- Demonstrate the variety and relative importance of the different revenue sources found in public budgeting.
- Demonstrate how budget funds organize and structure the linkage between revenues and expenditures.
- Demonstrate how the beginning fund balance contributes to fund resources.
- Demonstrate the importance of the general fund to department resources.

See <https://sites.google.com/a/pdx.edu/psu-budgeting-exercises/> for more instructions.

Technical Budget Projects:

You will have four budget assignments. The projects are designed to help students to understand the nuts and bolts of budgeting (CLO1); to identify and employ alternative sources of funding, including grants, taxes, and fees (CLO3). While this is an individual assignment, I encourage students to form study groups (maximum member of four) and work together on their assignments.

Take Home Exam (Budget Development Project):

Students will be required to develop a budget based on the daycare budget case. By preparing the budget, students will be able to understand how to prepare a budget reflecting policy priorities (CLO2). You should submit it individually.

Staff Budget Evaluation and Review Project (Final paper project & Presentation):

This is a group project. I expect students to allocate themselves into evenly divided groups. This final project is designed for students to understand the budgetary process of government/ nonprofit organization (CLO1). Students are also expected to learn how to work productively in teams (CLO4). In the final group presentation, students should present oral information accurately, clearly, concisely (CLO5). You will present a 10-minute power point presentation and submit the project. This assignment must include budget process, review of budget formats including revenue side of budget and expenditure side of budget, capital budget and debt and budget audit. (See Assignment Workbook for details).

Final Examination or Evaluation

This course uses the Budget Staff Report as the final Culminating evaluation. Students are expected to apply all learning objectives into the completion of this assignment. The assignment is due by the end of the period as designated for the courses final exam scheduled period, found on the Registrar's website:

<https://www.sjsu.edu/classes/final-exam-schedule/fall-2020.php>. (Tuesday, December 15, 1715-1930)

Make-up Policy & COVID-19 Clause

Serious personal or dependent family illness that can be documented is the only acceptable excuse for not turning in work on time. If you are ill, you will be given a reasonable extension for submission of missing work. There are no make-ups for missed presentations or in-class case work where you have not informed the instructor prior to or immediately after. Incompletes are discouraged. If you know you will be absent during a presentation or when an assignment is due, coordinate with your workgroup to make your contribution complete, make a video recording of your individual presentation, or complete the assignment in advance and submit prior to the absence. As with all policies, extreme circumstances may beg for exceptions. Please see me in advance before you miss an assignment. Requests afterward, serious exigent personal or dependent family emergency where prior communication was not feasible notwithstanding, will not be approved.

That being said, there is a Global Pandemic going on that has upturned all of our lives. If you have a problem stemming from COVID 19 that will prevent you from attending class, or turning in an assignment on time, let me and your staff group know immediately so we can develop a work-around solution. Documentation is not required...just do the professional thing and talk to me and your peers. My goal, as is your goal, is to get you to graduation, by training you and educating you to be the best public administrator possible.

Participation

Students may be called upon by name to address concepts from the readings. Students should take the time and effort to read the materials when they are assigned and be prepared to actively participate in discussion of the topics, using both citations of the readings and their own defended views. Small group discussions during class will only enhance learning if each participant is prepared to contribute to the group's learning. Regular attendance is expected and will enhance your grade simply because you will have knowledge necessary to complete assignments that might not otherwise be available except from class discussion.

Use of Cameras in Class

- I expect students to turn on their cameras in Zoom when attending class. Classroom engagement, peer-to-peer network development is critical to your success in the program. Further, seeing facial expressions and reaction is important feedback for both the instructor and students during lectures and discussion. If you have special needs or requests for any individual accommodations, please let me know.
- Also, if you are concerned about appearing on camera, for disability-related or religious reasons, or concern for other family members, including children, who live with you in close quarters, let me know. The privacy of a student’s home life and access to a room for privacy should not be a barrier to a student’s success in a particular course.

Recording of Zoom Classes

- Since the pandemic may cause students to miss class, I intend to record the course and post the recordings on Canvas.
- University policy (S12-7) requires consent from all individuals who will appear in a class recording. You will be asked to confirm consent at the beginning of each class meeting. If a student does not wish to be identified in a class recording, I will allow an “anonymous” option (e.g., student temporarily turning off identifying information from the Zoom session, including name and picture, prior to recording). You must get permission from me in advance.

Classroom Protocol

It is expected that when you log into to class you will give the material your undivided attention. Please ensure that communication devices are on vibrate, and quietly leave the learning space if you need to take a call during class. Do not engage in any behavior that will detract from a positive learning environment for other students. To develop a collegial working environment, students may address me by my go-by name, Len.

Required Policy Statements

The University Policy S16-9, Course Syllabi (<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf>) requires the following language to be included in the syllabus:

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practice. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”
