- This position is an excellent opportunity for performers interested in launching a career at a teaching-centered institution that is a national leader in graduating historically underserved students. SJSU has achieved both HSI (Hispanic Serving Institution) and AANAPISI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution) status. Moreover, 40% of our student population are first-generation and 38% are Pell-qualified. As a result, we rank #3 nationally in increasing student upward mobility.

Required Qualifications

- Exceptional performance skills and evidence of successful teaching experience as an artist/teacher of violin and/or viola.
- Demonstrable record of student recruitment.
- Master's or doctorate by time of appointment.
- Applicants should demonstrate an awareness of and sensitivity to the educational goals of a multicultural population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching and other comparable experience.

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience working with Black, Latinx, Indigenous, and other racially minoritized students in the classroom, and an understanding of how historical patterns of exclusion of these groups within higher education and the field of music shape patterns of participation and outcomes.
- Willingness to examine and remediate one's instructional, relational, and classroom practices to more effectively engage and support historically underserved students.

Responsibilities

- Teach applied lessons (violin, viola). Provide leadership in string music education, including leadership of the School's String Project, and outreach to public school orchestra programs and Bay Area string education. Teach in a secondary area of expertise appropriate to the candidate's qualifications and School needs. Secondary areas may include but are not limited to string methods, string pedagogy, chamber music, and music education.

- We welcome applications from those who promote equity practices and culturally responsive pedagogy in their applied and ensemble instruction.
- The candidate will participate in shared governance, usually in School, college, and university committees and other service assignments.
- The candidate must demonstrate awareness and experience understanding the needs of a student population of great diversity – in age, cultural background, ethnicity, primary language and academic preparation – through inclusive course materials, teaching strategies and advisement.

Compensation - Commensurate with qualifications and experience. See Benefits Summary for details.

Starting Date - August 2, 2021

Eligibility - Employment is contingent upon proof of eligibility to work in the United States.
