

Philosophy 111: Medical Ethics

Janet Giddings

Spring 2018

Tuesdays & Thursdays 9-10:15 a.m.

This course will address selective moral issues in medicine from philosophical, cultural, and religious contexts. We begin with explicating the Hippocratic Oath and proceed considering various moral issues through cases from the U.S., Canada, East Asia, Japan, Nigeria, Egypt and more.

Texts:

Vincent Barry: Bioethics in a Cultural Context

Steven Miles: The Hippocratic Oath and the Ethics of Medicine