- Quizzes: 3 short true/false quizzes in initial weeks: one on rights theory, one on utilitarianism, and one on interpreting case links.
- Exams: Midterm & Final Exams will be 1/4 multiple choice, 1/4 true or false, and half essay; and will be based on the notes, reading assignments, and analysis of case studies.
- Understanding Links Discussion: teams will be given practice in critical reading of case links. Students will practice distinguishing links from cases and resources by learning to distinguish probability from possibility; and by learning to distinguish facts from assumptions, speculation and misinformation.
- Case Study Discussions: Students will discuss 3 ethical cases with assigned team classmates. Each discussion will be an ethical analysis of some very recent case posted under Case Links. Students will be assigned to a team by the end of the 2nd week of class. Discussions will follow the format for case analyses, and will be graded according to questioning insights, application of ethical theories to cases, and quality (depth) and quantity of posts.
- Individual Case Study: Students will provide an ethical analysis of some very recent case posted under Case Links. This individual assignment will follow the outline format for theory argumentation, and will be graded according to adherence and understanding of the outline, and depth of application to the case.
- Reading Discussions: Students will discuss one of the assigned readings with assigned team classmates. Reading Discussions will be graded according to questioning insights, understanding of readings, and quality (depth) of posts.
- Rough Draft of Term Paper: The Rough Draft of the Term Paper will be a typed, double-spaced, 12 point font, 6 to 7 page ethical analysis of a recent (last 2 months) case you choose, and follow the format for communication of ethical analyses [format will be given early in the semester]. The paper will be graded on content and logic (70% of the grade) and style, format, and grammar (30%of the grade).
- Edited Term Paper: The term paper should be typed, double-spaced, 8 to 10 pages in length, and will be a revision of the rough draft, according to comments for revision provided by me on your graded rough draft. The final version of the term paper will be graded on content and logic (50% of the grade); style, format, and grammar (10%of the grade); and quality of revision (40%of the grade).

Level of Work Needed

If you logon and work 4 days a week, with a weekly total of 7 hours, you should do okay. Early in the week you should read materials and prepare to approach the discussions, etc. Most of your team discussion points are divided across different topics for each case analysis: Choosing a case & Dividing roles, Choosing Theories, Contributing your part of the case analysis outline, and editing the assignment Result. These different topics have specific due dates, (usually Wednesday or Thursday, and Sunday) after which that discussion part will not be available and you lose those specific points for that specific topic. To reasonably pass you will need to do a minimum of 3 hours of discussion posts/reading posts per week. In addition, you should spend time reading Instructions, Notes, and Readings.
