Course Description

Comparative analysis of different kinds of political systems; their political institutions, processes and policies; the environments in which they occur and their consequences.

This is an Online Education course. All assignments and exams will be conducted over the Internet. Students are responsible for their own access to the Internet and computer resources.

Political Science Learning Outcomes

The Political Science Department has the following objectives for its students:

- 1) Breadth: Students should possess a broad knowledge of the theory and methods of the various branches of the discipline.
- 2) Application: Students should be able to apply a variety of techniques to identify, understand, and analyze domestic and international political issues and organizations.
- 3) Disciplinary methods: Students should be able to formulate research questions, engage in systematic literature searches using primary and secondary sources, have competence in systematic data gathering using library sources, government documents, and data available through electronic sources, should be able to evaluate research studies, and should be able to critically analyze and interpret influential political texts.
- 4) Communication Skills: Students should master basic competencies in oral and written communication skills and be able to apply these skills in the context of political science. This means communicating effectively about politics and/or public administration, public policy, and law.

- 5) Citizenship: Students should acquire an understanding of the role of the citizen in local, state, national, and global contexts and appreciate the importance of lifelong participation in political processes.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

This class satisfies the D2 general education requirement (Comparative Systems, Cultures and Environments). Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 1) Place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental and spatial contexts;
- 2) Identify the dynamics of ethnic, cultural, gender/sexual, age-based, class, regional, national, transnational, and global identities and the similarities, differences, linkages, and interactions between them;
- 3) Evaluate social science information, draw on different points of view, and formulate applications to appropriate to contemporary social issues;
- 4) Compare and contrast two or more ethnic groups, cultures, regions, nations, or social systems.

Students will satisfy these requirements through a combination of threaded discussions, online quizzes, and exams.

Required Texts

- 1) David Samuels, Comparative Politics, Pearson, 2013

You can purchase the required textbook either at the SJSU bookstore or online.

The rest of the assigned readings will be available on Canvas.

Expectations & Course Activities

Success in this class will depend upon your ability to: (1) think critically; (2) read and write University-level English prose; (3) master important facts about the history and politics of various countries; (4) work both independently and collaboratively in a group setting.

I expect students to:

- read this syllabus carefully,
- check your email each day,
- log on to the class web site a minimum of four times each week,
- read all of the assigned materials; recommended readings are for enrichment learning and are not assigned,
- submit all Threaded Discussion postings on or before deadline,
- submit the online quizzes, and
- complete two midterm exams and one final exam.

If you anticipate an unavoidable absence from class, please email me and request alternative assignments. Otherwise, I will penalize late assignments. In any case, please do not enroll in an online course if you know that you are going to be away from your Internet access for more than 5 or 6 days during the length of the course.

Please note that students are responsible for their own Internet access and computing resources. A loss of connectivity is not an excuse for late assignments. Some Internet service providers (ISPs), such as America Online, are notorious for inferior, unreliable service. In previous semesters, students have lost Internet connectivity in the middle of exams. Students who wait until the last possible moment to submit an assignment also run the risk of an unanticipated service disruption that prevents timely submission.

Course Requirements

Grades in the course will be based on the following items:

1. 2 Midterm exams (20% each)
2. 1 Final exam (30%)
3. Quizzes (15%)
4. Participation in discussion boards (15%)

Two Midterm Exams (20% each)

The date of the exams will be announced ahead of time.

Cumulative Final Exam (30%)

The cumulative final exam will take place during the final exams week.

Quizzes (15%)

Each Saturday you will take one or more "Fifteen-Minute Quizzes," so-called because you have fifteen minutes to answer ten multiple-choice questions from a particular chapter. These are "open book" quizzes. Your quiz scores will be penalized by one point for each minute you take over the fifteen-minute maximum. These are "open book" quizzes. You may only take each quiz one time. Quizzes are available from 6:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Pacific Time Zone.

Threaded Discussion (15%)

Because of the nature of this course, I have found that punctual postings and responses are critical to both the success of the course and the success of individual students. It is impossible for me to read and respond to several hundred messages and assignments in the last week of class. Therefore I have created a grading policy that rewards both the quality and timeliness of your responses and assignments.

Your postings should be well written and clearly address the issues being discussed. I expect each writing assignment to have: (1) A clear introduction that addresses directly the question posed by the instructor; (2) A body of factual examples that support your thesis; these examples may be drawn from either the assigned readings or footnoted sources researched independently by the student; (3) Appropriate source citations; plagiarized threads will be penalized. (4) A succinct concluding paragraph. Your responses must be posted each Thursday by noon PST. Late posts will receive a “0”.

If I have some concerns or comments about your thread, I will post a response. My comments are intended to help you improve your threads. If you respond to my comments, you may earn additional points. In order to earn a perfect score, you generally have to post an excellent thread the first time around and by the assigned deadline. In addition, you must respond to the threads of at least two other students by the following Monday at noon PST.

Grading and Written Work Policies

A+ = 97-100%; A = 93-96.9%; A- = 90-92.9%
B+ = 87-89.9%; B = 83-86.9%; B- = 80-82.9%
C+ = 77-79.9%; C = 73-76.9%; C- = 70-72.9%
D+ = 67-69.9%; D = 63-66.9%; D- = 60-62.9%
F = 59.99% - 0%

Policy on Submitting Written Work in this Course

I expect my students to submit written work that fits the grammatical, stylistic and citation expectations for college-level work in English. All written assignments in this course are therefore graded in two ways: both in terms of content (information in terms of logic, quality of evidence, etc.) and in terms of writing. If you are at all uncomfortable with writing at the college level, you need to take steps to rectify this.

Announcements

Announcements will be posted in CANVAS on a regular basis. They will appear on your CANVAS dashboard when you log in and/or will be sent to you directly through your preferred method of notification from CANVAS. Please make certain to check them regularly, as they will contain any important information about upcoming projects or class concerns.

Email

In this course we will use the CONVERSATIONS feature on the help corner (located in navigation links) to send email for private messages. You can either check your messages in the CANVAS system or set your notifications to your preferred method of contact. Please check your messages regularly.

Discussion Forums

Discussion Forums are a way for you to engage with each other about the course content. Each lesson module will have a question that links to a forum. You can also access each forum by clicking on the DISCUSSIONS button in the course navigation links. In order to get full credit for each discussion, you will need to post a thoughtful, well-written response to the question and respond to two of your classmates' answers.

Netiquette

When posting on the discussion boards and chat rooms it is important to understand how to interact with one another online, netiquette. You can read more about the rules of netiquette at <http://www.albion.com/netiquette/index.html>.

Late Work

Late work will not be accepted. Assignments will not be available after the deadline. If you have an extenuating circumstance, please contact me by private message before the assignment is due to make alternate arrangements.
