Course Description

From the SJSU Catalog: Treatment of essentials of U.S. and California government. Satisfies the American Institutions requirements in U.S. Constitution (US2) and California Government (US3), and the Core GE requirement in Social Sciences: Social Issues (D3). GE Area: D3, and American Institution Requirement: US2 and US3

This course is an introduction to United States national government. The course is designed to introduce students to the constitutional basis, institutions, politics and processes of United States government. Although the primary focus of this course is on modern United States government, in order to understand contemporary events it is essential to examine their historical antecedents and evolution. Thus, this course will begin by exploring the origins and early development of the Constitution and how it influenced the development of American democracy. From there we will see how the Constitution has affected our understanding of rights and liberties over time. After that we will learn about the three branches of our government, and examine how they operate in our current understanding of democracy and rights. Finally, we will explore how the citizenry can exert their influence on the political process.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. GELO 1 (US2) Explain how political decisions are made, their consequences for individuals and society, and how individuals and groups may affect the decision-making process. Analyze the meaning and content of the democratic process as it has evolved in the United States and California, describe the foundations of the political system, the links between the people and government and the operations of California government.
2. GELO 2 (US3) Identify the tools of political action and collective decision-making at the local, state, national, and global level and articulate the values and assumptions that inform their civic engagement.
3. GELO 3 (D3): Place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental, and spatial contexts.
4. GELO 4 (D3): Identify the dynamics of ethnic, cultural, gender/sexual, age-based, class, regional, national, transnational, and global identities and the similarities, differences, linkages, and interactions between them.
5. GELO 5 (D3): Evaluate social science information, draw on different points of view, and formulate applications appropriate to contemporary social issues.
6. GELO 6 (D3): Apply multidisciplinary material to a topic relevant to policy and social action at the local, national, and/or international levels.

Assessment of these outcomes will be measured as follows:

- GELO 1: Outline, Exams, Final Exam

- GELO 3: Exams, Final Exam
- GELO 4: Exams, Final Exam
- GELO 5: Paper 2, Exams, Final Exam

Other Readings

There will be additional handouts provided by the instructor during the course of the semester which will be available on Canvas.

You may also want to subscribe to one of several email newsletters focused on California politics and news. Two of the better ones are the L.A. Times' Newsletter: Essential California at <http://www.latimes.com/newsletters/la-newsletter-essential-california-signup-page-htm1story.html> and the New York Times' California Today at <http://www.nytimes.com/newsletters/california-today> . KQED's The California Report is also worth consulting at <https://ww2.kqed.org/news/programs/the-california-report/> .

Other equipment / material requirements

Please purchase four of the blue T&E 200 answer forms from the SJSU bookstore. They will be needed for the exams.

Wireless laptop/tablet/smart phone is required in class

You will be required to have a wireless-network ready laptop computer, tablet, or smart phone to participate in online class quizzes. If you don't own a laptop or tablet, you can rent one at no cost from Student Computing Services (<https://library.sjsu.edu/scs>).

You will also need to create an iClicker account for use during the class. You may find instructions on how to do this at <http://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/docs/iClicker%20Account%20-%20Setup%20Guide%20-%20Student.pdf> and at <http://www.sjsu.edu/ecampus/docs/iClicker%20-%20Add%20Your%20Course%20-%20Setup%20Guide%20-%20Student.pdf> .

You will also need access to the internet outside classroom to complete readings from Canvas, complete online homework assignments, upload assignments, and access syllabus, announcements, and course updates on Canvas. Computer access is available in the campus library and in Clark Hall 102.

Course Requirements and Assignments

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus. More details can be found from University Syllabus Policy S16-9 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf> and at Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs' Syllabus Information web page at <http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/>

Your grade will be determined by (1) three exams, each worth 50 points, (2) an outline worth 10 points, (3) two papers, each worth 20 points, and a final exam worth 100 points. See the section on 'Grading Information and Policy' below for more details.

The examinations and final are designed to measure your understanding of basic concepts and Course Learning Outcomes related to American government and political science as listed above. As such, the exams will draw on materials from the books as well as class discussions and additional readings available on Canvas. The writing assignments will delve deeper into key concepts that require more thoughtful treatment and reflection on the part of the student to understand some of the core problems the founders faced when the Constitution was written. Taken together they will help you, at the completion of the course, to better understand how political decisions are made and major obstacles to policy development. The deadlines for these assignments are listed in the course schedule below.

Course materials such as assignments and instructions, syllabus, handouts, notes, etc. can be found on the Canvas learning management system course website. You will need to be familiar with a computer, web navigation, e-mail and the Canvas system since your assignments and a number of readings are online. Your assignments will be submitted to me through Canvas. Do not e-mail me your assignments as an attachment. Due to the potential for computer viruses, I will not open nor accept any assignments sent via e-mail. They will be deleted. Please save your files in Word or PDF format and upload it to Canvas. You are responsible for knowing how to submit assignments through Canvas. You are responsible for regularly checking your email and with the messaging system through MySJSU on Spartan App Portal to learn of any updates.

NOTE that University policy F15-12 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F15-12.pdf> states that "Students are expected to attend all meetings for the courses in which they are enrolled as they are responsible for material discussed therein, and active participation is frequently essential to ensure maximum benefit to all class members. In some cases, attendance is fundamental to course objectives; for example, students may be required to interact with others in the class. Attendance is the responsibility of the student."

In a course that examines American politics and government discussions are very important. You will be better able to learn from these discussions by having a command of current events. Please keep up-to-date with national and world events by reading daily newspapers and listening to the news. I anticipate spending time in many classes discussing current political events and linking them to theories and ideas discussed in the course.

Final Examination

The final exam is scheduled for Monday, December 16 from 12:15pm – 2:30pm in our classroom. Final exams may not be taken early. Please plan your travels accordingly. The final exam in this course will be cumulative and will cover course readings, lectures, activities, and discussions for the entire term. It will consist of short answer, multiple choice and other questions and will comprise one-third of your course grade. You will need to bring a blue T&E answer sheet.

Grading Information and Policy

There is a possible total of 300 points. Your final grade will be determined by your total accumulation of points as follows:

Total Points	Percentage	Grade
291-300	97-100	A plus
279-290	93-96.9	A
270-278	90-92.9	A minus
261-269	87-89.9	B plus
249-260	83-86.9	B
240-248	80-82.9	B minus
231-239	77-79.9	C plus
219-230	73-76.9	C
210-218	70-72.9	C minus
201-209	67-69.9	D plus
189-200	63-66.9	D
180-188	60-62.9	D minus

Below 180 points is a failing grade. There will be no extra credit available. Please note that you must take all exams and turn in all assignments to pass the course. In addition, I will not give make ups for any of the exams except in the most extreme of cases (e.g. verifiable medical emergencies, etc.). If you miss an exam, you must contact me immediately to schedule a make-up. If you know you will be gone in advance (for university related or other excusable reasons) you must consult with me beforehand so that you can make arrangements to take the exam at another time. It is your responsibility to make sure you are available to take the exams. Late papers will be penalized one point per calendar day. Please retain ALL of your exams, papers, and other assessments until after you have completed the course and received your grade.

Note that “All students have the right, within a reasonable time, to know their academic scores, to review their grade-dependent work, and to be provided with explanations for the determination of their course grades.” See University Policy F13-1 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F13-1.pdf> for more details.

Classroom Protocol

E-mail: Each student must have an e-mail address which they check regularly. Please make sure you have updated your records in MySJSU. You must monitor your account on a regular basis. When I send out classwide messages it will be to this account. Failure to monitor this account may result in you missing important messages such as class cancellations, change of exam dates, and requests for timely information.

Attendance: Attendance will not be graded. However, the lectures will address some themes presented in the course readings, as well as additional information that you will not find in the readings but which you will be expected to know for exams. It is your responsibility as a student to be in class on time. Further, it is common sense that by not attending regularly, you will miss important lectures, clarifications, handouts, scintillating discussions and brilliant insights from your instructor and fellow students.

Exams: If you arrive late for an exam, you will have only the remainder of the period to complete the exam. Once the first person has completed the exam and left the classroom, no new exams may be started. You may not have any electronic devices (cell phones, laptops, mp3 players, etc) on your desk or otherwise be using them during the exam. Please have them off and stowed away in your backpack/pocket/purse.

A Note On Scantron Forms: For the multiple choice portion of the exams you will need to record your answers on a blue SJSU T&E 200 answer form. Please ensure that you have one with you for the exam. It is disruptive at the exam to ask other students for a form, or to run out and purchase one and then come back. When filling in your answers you must use a pencil, as the scanner cannot read pen. Further, these forms are fed through a scanner at high speeds which then produces a report. Scantrons that are folded, crinkled, bent, or otherwise deformed can get caught in the scanner, require further attention and unnecessarily delay the grading process. There is no reason for this to happen. These forms are used to assess your performance and are no different than other documents that you submit in class or outside the university. You would not file a pleading with a court that you had folded in your pocket, nor would you submit a business proposal to another company that had water or food damage on it. You are responsible for submitting answer sheets that are clean and ready for processing. ALSO, you must bubble in both your name (last name first) and student number. If you do not know your student number, you have until the first exam to figure it out. Grade reports that show an exam score without identifying information will most likely be ignored. Exams that do not meet the above criteria will not be graded.

Academic Freedom: Each student is strongly encouraged to participate in class discussions. In any classroom situation that includes discussion and critical writing, particularly about political ideas, there are bound to be many differing viewpoints. Students may not only disagree with each other at times, but the students and the professor may also find that they have conflicting views on sensitive and volatile topics. It is my hope that these differences will enhance class discussion and create an atmosphere in which students and professor alike will be encouraged to think and learn. Therefore, be assured that students' grades will not be adversely affected by any beliefs or ideas expressed in class or in assignments. Rather, we will all respect the views of others when expressed in classroom discussions.

Electronics: I allow the use of computers for taking notes, though it is not the best way to take notes <http://www.scientificamerican.com/article/a-learning-secret-don-t-take-notes-with-a-laptop/> . Other electronic devices are not allowed and must be put away. Serious students often complain of the distraction caused by their fellow students' web browsing, IMing (if that is a verb) or who are otherwise preoccupied by electronics in class. We have a limited amount of time together during the semester and we should maximize the utility of that time. Please respect the class and your classmates and do not use these devices during class. Recording of any portion of the class is prohibited unless permission is received from the instructor prior to class.

University Policies

Per University Policy S16-9, (<http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf>), relevant information to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, dropping and adding, consent for recording of class, etc. is available on Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs' Syllabus Information web page at <http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/>"

This syllabus is subject to change at the instructor's discretion. Any changes will be announced in class and on Canvas. It is your responsibility to sign into Canvas regularly and check for any important announcements and updates.

Political Science Scholarships – see <http://www.sjsu.edu/polisci/scholarships/> for info. From the website: “The Political Science Department is fortunate to be able to award more than 10 scholarships to our students each year–this is an extraordinary level of support that surpasses what any other department on campus can offer. The scholarships were created by generous benefactors–often former faculty, students, and friends of the department–who desired to ease the financial burden on our students as they seek to earn their degrees in Political Science. The department encourages all of our students to apply for one or more of these awards.”
