

ReSPARC

REMOTELY-HELD SPARC
APRIL 20~27, 2021

The Spartan Psychological Association Research Conference (SPARC) has been providing undergraduate and graduate student researchers of psychology the experience of presenting their research since 1957. Through the years, SPARC has grown to become a preeminent regional forum for student presentations in psychology.

Keynote Address:

"The Roles of Close Relationships, Identities, and Coping in First Generation College Students' College Pathways and Wellbeing"

Dr. Margarita Azmitia
UC Santa Cruz

Margarita Azmitia, an immigrant from Guatemala, studies the role of close relationships, mentoring, and school climate in ethnically and socioeconomically diverse adolescents and college students' educational and life pathways. The impact of her scholarship and mentorship is wide reaching. In 2019, Dr. Azmitia received the prestigious Spencer Mentor Award for having "enriched the lives, research, and careers of their students and colleagues and enhanced the field of education research" (Spencer.org, 2019).

Hear from presenters across the Bay Area and beyond:

- College of San Mateo
- CSU East Bay
- Dominican University
- Leland High School
- UC Santa Cruz
- UC Santa Barbara
- San José State University

2021 ReSPARC is an online conference with multiple events and dates:

- On Tuesday, April 20, 4:30-5:45pm (PDT), Professor Azmitia will deliver her keynote address in a Zoom webinar.
- From April 21 through April 27, student presentations can be viewed on demand.

REGISTER FOR 2021 RESPARC TODAY! PLEASE VISIT
HTTP://WWW.SJSU.EDU/PSYCH/EVENTS/SPARC

