Course Description

In this class you will practice and improve writing skills appropriate to the broad field of Psychology, including general audience and scholarly communication. The goals of 100W are that students will develop advanced proficiency in college-level writing and appropriate research strategies and methods to communicate effectively to both specialized and general audiences. This class reinforces and advances skills developed in Written Communication IA and IB, then broadens and deepens these to include mastery of the discourse peculiar to Psychology.
Course Format

This is an online course. This means that teaching materials are posted online, and lectures will be provided via Zoom meetings at the regularly scheduled class times/dates. Additional Zoom meetings (group and individual) will be used throughout the semester to support student learning and progress. More information about these activities and materials will be provided via Canvas. You will need regular access to a stable internet connection that can sustain video to be able to access course content.

Learning Outcomes (LOs)

Learning Outcomes (LOs) are specific, measurable goals and objectives that students have demonstrated upon successful completion of the course. 100W is designed to address three levels of Learning Outcomes:

1. GE/SJSU Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs): These are outcomes mandated by General Education.
2. Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs): For Psychology 100W, Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs) are the discipline-specific ways in which the general GE/SJSU learning outcomes (LOs) for 100W (Area Z) will be fulfilled. The specific CLOs for this course contribute to the overall experience, learning opportunities, and Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) students are exposed to when completing the SJSU Psychology Major.
3. Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs): These outcomes refer to the broad goals of the SJSU Psychology Major program. The SJSU Psychology Major is designed to address 5 broad PLOs. These PLOs are outcomes students should be able to demonstrate after having successfully completed the Psychology Major.

GE/SJSU Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate college-level proficiency. Students shall be able to:

- SLO 1. Produce discipline-specific written work that demonstrates upper division proficiency in language use, grammar, and clarity of expression.
- SLO 2. Explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively, including ideas encountered in multiple readings and expressed in different forms of discourse.
- SLO 3. Organize and develop essays and documents for both professional and general audiences.
- SLO 4. Organize and develop essays and documents according to appropriate editorial and citation standards.
- SLO 5. Locate, organize, and synthesize information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose, and to communicate that purpose in writing.
Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

For Psychology 100W, the general GE student learning outcomes (SLOs) for 100W (Area Z) will be fulfilled in the following discipline-specific Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs) [matched SLOs indicated in brackets]. Upon successful completion of this course:

- CLO 1. Students will have developed proficiency at using databases (e.g., PsycINFO and MEDLINE) to locate empirical research and research review articles in an area of psychology [SLO 5].
- CLO 2. Students will have demonstrated competency in American Psychological Association (APA) writing style, including grammar, spelling, and syntax [SLO 1, 4].
- CLO 3. Students will have summarized and evaluated empirical research articles in an area of psychology [SLO 1, 2, 3, 4].
- CLO 4. Students will have written for a general audience [SLO 1, 2, 3].
- CLO 5. Students will have organized and developed a literature review, or other appropriate major paper (e.g., research report) in an area of psychology [SLO 1, 2, 3, 4, 5].
- CLO 6. Students will have begun to develop critical thinking skills in psychology including the abilities to a. synthesize disparate research findings into a coherent framework which addresses a question or topic relevant to the discipline of psychology, and/or b. compare and contrast differing theories and research findings. [SLO 1, 2, 3, 4, 5].

Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs)

Upon successful completion of the Psychology major requirements:

- PLO 1 – Knowledge Base of Psychology – Students will be able to identify, describe, and communicate the major concepts, theoretical perspectives, empirical findings, and historical trends in Psychology.
- PLO 2 – Research Methods in Psychology – Students will be able to design, implement, and communicate basic research methods in Psychology, including research design, data analysis, and interpretations.
- PLO 3 – Critical Thinking Skills in Psychology – Students will be able to use critical and creative thinking, skeptical inquiry, and a scientific approach to address issues related to behavior and mental processes.
- PLO 4 – Application of Psychology – Students will be able to apply psychological principles to individual, interpersonal, group, and societal issues.
- PLO 5 – Values in Psychology – Students will value empirical evidence, tolerate ambiguity, act ethically, and recognize their role and responsibility as members of society.
GE requirements for 100W stipulate that students shall write a minimum of 8,000 words in the course of the semester, and that they shall be provided with frequent practice and feedback for improving their communication skills.

Course Requirements and Assignments

The assignments in Psychology 100W are designed to gradually build the research and writing skills necessary to write for general audience and scholarly papers appropriate for the discipline of Psychology. The major assignments include (but are not limited to): On-line Tutorials, Research Assignments, and Writing Assignments. Throughout the semester, you will be asked to respond to additional assignments and prompts related to our course content using Canvas.

General Audience Paper

One major paper you will be writing for this course is a description (final version approximately 1,000 words (4 pages) long) of the research problem that you have chosen and researched, written for a general audience – not for researchers in Psychology. The goal of the general audience paper is to describe a research problem by describing and synthesizing theory and research findings relevant to the problem in language that is accessible to the non-specialist.

Literature Review Paper

The final major paper you will be writing for this course is an APA style literature review (final version approximately 2,500 words (10 pages)) which includes more than 10 scholarly references in APA format), written for an audience of researchers in Psychology. The goal of a literature review is to describe a research problem by describing and synthesizing theory and research findings relevant to the problem. You will develop your final literature review piece by piece over several assignments, including (but not limited to):

- Research Problem Assignments in which you develop, with help from the instructor, a research problem appropriate to the discipline of Psychology and to the requirements of the course.

- Targeted Sources Assignments in which you identify at least 20 sources relevant to different sections of your literature review topic using databases and other resources appropriate to psychological research.

- Outlining Assignments in which you organize the main points of your literature review and indicate which sources will be used to support each section.

- Literature Review Conferences and Peer Review Sessions in which you receive feedback and revise your paper as needed.

Time Commitment

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Final Examination

The culminating activity for this course is a Final Exam that will cover all of the material discussed over the course of the semester.

Grading Information

Your grade for this course will be calculated based on credit/no credit assignments, graded assignments, and on participation, as follows.

Credit/No Credit Assignments

You need to complete all of these credit/no credit assignments to pass the course:

- Research Skills Pre-test; Research Skills Post-test; Plagiarism Tutorial; Final Exam

Extensions, Make-Up Assignments, and Exams

No extensions or make-ups will be given except in cases of reasonable and documented academic reasons, emergencies, serious illness, or similar disruptive events. If such a circumstance should arise, please contact me as early as possible and be ready to provide documentation.

Late Submissions

Assignments are due (uploaded to Canvas) by the day/time specified on Canvas and in the course schedule. If due dates are changed, the new due date will be announced in a timely fashion via Canvas.

An assignment is considered “late” if it is not submitted by the time and date specified on Canvas.

- Assignments may be submitted up to three days late without documentation (weekend days are included in this 3-day period). The assignment grade will be reduced by 10% for each late day.
  - Example: If you score all 10 points on a 10-point assignment, but you submit it later than the time it is due or one day late, you'll be deducted 1 point for a maximum final score of 9.
- Assignments over three days late will not be accepted.

Classroom Protocol

Zoom Classroom Etiquette

- Turn on your camera: No one likes to talk to a blank screen.
  - Position Your Camera Properly: Be sure your webcam is in a stable position and focused at eye level.
  - Mute Your Microphone: To help keep background noise and movement to a minimum, make sure you mute your microphone when you are not speaking and find a quiet place to “attend” class, to the greatest extent possible.
  - Limit Your Distractions/Avoid Multitasking: You can make it easier to focus on the meeting by turning off notifications, closing or minimizing running apps, and putting your smartphone away (unless you are using it to access Zoom).
Use Appropriate Virtual Backgrounds: You can use a blurred background. If using a virtual background, it should be appropriate and professional and should NOT suggest or include content that is objectively offensive or demeaning.

To create and maintain an environment conducive to learning, we require the following rules when engaging in online discussions and all course-related communication:

- Be professional – in other words, be polite and respectful to the other people in the class.
- Do not use biased language or profanity in posts.

Respect for the rights and opinions of others is required. The free and open exchange of ideas is the cornerstone of higher education, but we must always remain respectful of others, even if we disagree strongly with them. Disagreement is acceptable, but discourteousness is not. Behavior that creates a threatening or harassing environment will not be tolerated. Severe and pervasive disruptions of course activities are a violation of the Student Code of Conduct and will be reported to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development:

http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/docs/Student%20Conduct%20Code%202013.pdf

Thank you in advance for maintaining a positive and professional classroom climate.
