

Nikki Zar

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP Director, TPDG

Nikki Zar is a director with PricewaterhouseCoopers' Tax Projects Delivery Group (TPDG) team in San Jose, California. She has spent her entire career in public accounting focused on helping clients identify, support and defend their Section 199 Domestic Production Activities Deductions, Earnings & Profits (E&P) Calculations, Stock Basis Computations, and Section 1031 - Like Kind Exchanges.

Nikki has been a part of the National Section 199 Team since Section 199 was enacted into law. She has significant experience across many industries including computer software and hardware, Software as a Service, information technology, wireless and broadband communications, public utilities, semiconductors, consumer electronics, consumer products and food manufacturing.

Nikki has participated as an instructor/panelist in various L&E programs for groups such as the Tax Executives Institute and American Institute for Certified Public Accountants. Nikki has also instructed numerous courses for PricewaterhouseCoopers, at both the local and national level, related to Section 199 and Domestic E&P and Stock Basis.

Nikki has earned a Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting and a Masters of Business Taxation from the University of Southern California. Nikki is also a licensed CPA and a member of the AICPA.