Course Descriptions

URBP 101: History and organization of the city, emphasizing contemporary issues and strategies for influencing urban policy.

GEOG 105: Spatial patterns in the urban environment: City function and morphology; population patterns and functional zonation; analysis of recent changes.

The course examines the city from multi-disciplinary perspectives, including history, sociology, geography, anthropology, economics and political science, as a basis for understanding current urban problems and the role of urban planning in the creation or solutions to these problems.

Learning Objectives

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Critically observe and understand the urban environment in which they live
2. Apply new perspectives on their own communities through comparison with other cities (in the U.S. and around the world).

¹ Special thanks to instructor Rick Kos, who originally developed this syllabus.

3. Describe the interrelationship of individuals and racial, class and cultural groups, to understand and appreciate issues of diversity, equality, and structured inequality in the U.S., its institutions, and its cultures

We will accomplish these objectives through discussion, some guest speakers in a variety of fields, consideration of current events through news articles and by completing the required readings.

Online Teaching Considerations

This class will be taught entirely online. Key considerations arising from the online delivery mode include the following:

- Students are required to have an electronic device (laptop, desktop or tablet) with a camera and built-in microphone. SJSU has a free equipment loan program available for students.
- Students are responsible for ensuring that they have access to reliable Wi-Fi during tests. If students are unable to have reliable Wi-Fi, they must inform the instructor, as soon as possible
- Students are encouraged, but not required, to turn on their cameras in Zoom
- We intend to record some classes and post them on Canvas. University policy (S12-7) requires consent from all individuals who will appear in a class recording. We will poll the class during our first session regarding consent to recording.
- Students are prohibited from recording class activities (including class lectures, office hours, advising sessions, etc.), distributing class recordings, or posting class recordings.

Zoom Classroom Etiquette

- Mute Your Microphone: To help keep background noise to a minimum, make sure you mute your microphone when you are not speaking.
- Be Mindful of Background Noise and Distractions: Find a quiet place to “attend” class, to the greatest extent possible.
 - Avoid video setups where people may be walking behind you, people talking/making noise, etc.

- Avoid activities that could create additional noise, such as shuffling papers, listening to music in the background, etc.
- Position Your Camera Properly: Be sure your webcam is in a stable position and focused at eye level.
- Limit Your Distractions/Avoid Multitasking: You can make it easier to focus on the meeting by turning off notifications, closing or minimizing running apps, and putting your smartphone away (unless you are using it to access Zoom).
- Use Appropriate Virtual Backgrounds: If using a virtual background, it should be appropriate and professional and should NOT suggest or include content that is objectively offensive or demeaning.

Course Assignments and Grading Policy

Your grade for the course will be based on the following assignments and other activities:

Assignments and Graded Activities	Due Date(s)	Percent of Final Grade	Course Learning Objectives
Assignment 1	Sep. 9	15	1d-f

*See Course Schedule on pp. 12-13

Additional details on each assignment will be distributed as class handouts.

Calculation of Final Course Letter Grade

As indicated in the table above, the final course grade incorporates graded activities. The following scheme will be used to translate each student's total numeric score into a final grade for the course:

A+ (98 to 100); A (93 to 98); A- (90 to 93); B+ (87 to 90); B (83 to 87); B- (80 to 83); C+ (77 to 80); C (74 to 77); C- (70 to 74); D+ (68 to 70); D (66 to 68); D- (63 to 66); F (below 63).

Other Grading and Assignment Issues

All classwork received late will be marked down accordingly.

Reading Memos (6): If received within the first 24 hours after the scheduled deadline, they will be marked down 0.2 point (from a total of one point per memo). Thereafter, it will be marked down according to the following schedule:

1-4 days late: 0.4 point

4-7 days late: 0.6 point

Over 7 days: no credit given

Assignments and Final Paper: If received within 24 hours of the scheduled deadline, it will be marked down 1/3 of a grade (e.g., from A- to B+, from B to B-, etc.). Thereafter, it will be marked down according to the following schedule:

1-4 days late: 2/3 of a grade

4-7 days late: 1 full grade

Over 7 days: no credit given

Take-Home Final: If received within 24 hours of the deadline, it will be marked down one full grade. Thereafter, it will be marked down according to the following schedule:

1-2 days late: two full grades

Over 2 days: no credit given

Course Workload

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally, three hours per unit per week) for instruction or preparation/studying or course-related activities. Careful time management will help you keep up with readings and assignments and enable you to be successful in all your courses. Details on how to complete these activities will be provided in handouts distributed later in the semester.

The course workload (totaling 100 points) will be based on the following activities:

- Reading Memos will reflect an understanding of course readings and critical thinking. During specific weeks, students will be required to submit a 1 to 2-page summary/reaction memo on one of the assigned readings by 1:00 on the day of class. A maximum of 12 points will be awarded: two points for each memo.
- Class Participation will be based on active contributions to class discussions throughout the semester. A maximum of 8 points will be awarded
- Assignment 1 will provide students with an opportunity to reflect on the origin and characteristics of the world's earliest cities. A maximum of 15 points will be awarded
- Assignment 2 asks students to prepare a "city profile" paper that describes the historic, cultural, and demographic qualities of a city outside of the U.S. A maximum of 15 points will be awarded
- Term Paper Project requires that each student research a related topic and write an 8-page, double-spaced paper, due on Canvas and via e-mail on December 2 at 7:00 p.m. Topics must be approved by the instructor. A one-page outline of the term paper is due October 14.

Here are some possible subject areas for term paper projects:

1. Sustainability and Planning
2. Land Use and Climate Change at the Local Level
3. Land Use and Transport Planning

4. Land Use and Urban Form
5. The Role of Economic Development in Planning
6. Open Space Planning
7. Planning and the Local Environment
8. International Planning Topics – housing, urbanization
9. Other Subject Areas by Mutual Agreement with the Instructor

Ideally, your paper will feature a brief introduction (your purpose/objectives and the focus of your paper); a brief (half-page) literature search on the topic; description of the issues; your findings; and a conclusion/recommendation. A maximum of 25 points will be awarded

- Final Exam (Take-Home) will cover the class readings and topics discussed in class. It will be e-mailed on Friday, December 11 at 4:00 p.m. and will be due back to the instructor on Saturday, December 12 at 10:00 a.m. A maximum of 25 points will be awarded.

For other specific deadlines, see the Course Schedule at the end of this syllabus (pp. 11-12).

Classroom Protocol

Students are expected to arrive on time to class, be courteous to other students and the instructors and refrain from using a cell phone, texting and the internet in class, except as permitted by the instructors. If you need to be absent, please notify both instructors at your earliest convenience. I recognize that illness, personal emergencies and other legitimate conflicts may occur, however please remember that each class meeting represents a substantial fraction of the total course. Be sure to check with the instructors regarding any materials or information given out at the session you were absent from, and if possible, obtain class notes from a classmate.

University Policies

Per University Policy S16-9, university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. will be available on Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs' Syllabus Information web page at <http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/>.

Academic Integrity Statement, Plagiarism, and Citing Sources Properly

SJSU's Policy on Academic Integrity states: "Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University." The University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S07-2.pdf> requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at <http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/>.

Plagiarism is the use of someone else's language, images, data, or ideas without providing proper attribution. It is a very serious offense both in the university and in your professional work. Plagiarism is both theft and lying--you have stolen someone else's ideas, and then have lied by implying that they are your own.

Plagiarism will lead to grade penalties and a record filed with the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. In severe cases, students may also fail the course or even be expelled from the university.

If you are unsure what constitutes plagiarism, it is your responsibility to make sure you clarify the issues before you hand in draft or final work.

Learning when to cite a source (and when not to) is an art, not a science. However, here are some common examples of plagiarism that you should be careful to avoid:

- Using a sentence (or even a part of a sentence) that someone else wrote without identifying the language as a quote by putting the text in quote marks and referencing the source.
- Paraphrasing somebody else's theory or idea without referencing the source.
- Using a picture or table from a webpage or book without reference the source.
- Using data some other person or organization has collected without referencing the source.

The University of Indiana has developed a very helpful website with concrete examples about proper paraphrasing and quotation. See the following pages:

- Overview of plagiarism at www.indiana.edu/~istd/overview.html
- Examples of plagiarism at www.indiana.edu/~istd/examples.html
- Plagiarism quiz at www.indiana.edu/~istd/test.html

If you still have questions, feel free to talk to the instructors personally. There is nothing wrong with asking for help, whereas even unintentional plagiarism is a serious offense.

Citation style

It is important to properly cite any references you use in your assignments. The Department of Urban and Regional Planning uses Kate Turabian's A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, Eighth Edition (University of Chicago Press, 2013, ISBN: 978-0226816388). Copies are available in the SJSU King Library. Additionally, the book is relatively inexpensive, and you may wish to purchase a copy. Please note that Turabian's book describes two systems for referencing materials: (1) "notes" (footnotes or endnotes), plus a corresponding bibliography, and (2) in-text parenthetical references, plus a corresponding reference list. In this class, students should use the second system, i.e., in-text parenthetical references.

Accommodation for Disabilities

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building is evacuated, please make an appointment with the instructors as soon as possible, or see us during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations register with the Accessible Education Center or AEC (formerly known as the Disability Resource Center or DRC) to establish a record of their disability.

You can find information about the services SJSU offers to accommodate students with disabilities at the AEC website at www.aec.sjsu.edu.

Accommodation to Students' Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S14-7.pdf>.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor's permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.
