Course Requirements and Assignments

We will be covering seven chapters (Chapter 1-6 and Chapter 9) in the assigned text, and you will be expected to read and understand the materials. Thus, you will have a writing (short essay) assignment for each chapter and a 15 question quiz (with hints) at the end of each chapter. Please remember that there is a 5% penalty per day for assignments (including quizzes) that are submitted after the deadline. Thus, I would strongly suggest to please work ahead of the due dates to complete the work and allow for any potential issues at the last minute. It is suggested that students have a readily available back-up computer and Internet source such as the library or a friend's computer to use in case theirs is not working. Oh, and please address me as Dr. Richardson.

1. Chapter Essay Assignments: (10 points each – 70 point total). These assignments will cover the main context of each chapter we cover. There will usually be 2 to 4 questions that you will need to answer (in writing, approximately 1-2 pages of text - 12pt font) and submit via canvas every other week during the duration of the class. More details can be found on Canvas.
2. Chapter Quizzes – (15 pts each – 105 points total). At the end of every chapter we cover, you will be responsible for taking an on-line quiz of 15 questions. (There is a very helpful “hint” button for every question, so you will have ample opportunity to do your best with each question.) Once you are done taking each quiz, you will submit it to me via Canvas for grading.
3. Course Reflections Research Paper – (25 points total) The paper of a minimum of 1500 words is required for this course. It is an assignment that I will distribute with instructions in early April, and it is due on MONDAY, May 17 by 11:00 p.m. It will be submitted through Canvas learning management system for a maximum of 25 points. Detailed instructions and guidelines will posted in the Canvas online classroom.

- Extra Credit Assignments: (14 possible points total) Each Chapter that we will cover has at least several BBC documentaries or related material that help provide interesting context to the material covered. Thus, for a maximum of 2 extra credit point possible per chapter, you may watch up to two of these documentaries or related materials, answer a few questions, and submit it to me for one point per documentary/related material.

Please remember that success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.
